TRIBUNAL, INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES.

In the matter of a dispute between the National Nutriments, Ltd., of 12, Chowringhee Square, Calcutta and its employees as represented by the National Nutriments Employees' Union of 1, Bhabanath Sen Street, Calcutta.

By order No. 584Lab., dated the 30th September 1947, the Government of West Bengal in the Commerce, Labour and Industries Department appointed me under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, to be the Tribunal for adjudication of the above-mentioned dispute and referred the dispute to me.

After the parties had filed written statements issues were settled on 10th November 1947 and thereafter the parties took some adjournments for settling their dispute amicably. The main point in controversy involved the question of reinstatement of several employees who were discharged by the Company. Happily the matter has ended in compromise and the terms of settlement arrived at have been jointly filed by the parties. One of the terms is that 17 employees and workers as per list attached herewith are to be reinstated. This and other terms appear to be fair and bespeak the balanced and reasonable way in which both the contending parties to the dispute approached a difficult question like the present. It is a happy augury for the industry and I should like to place on record my appreciation of the example, the parties to this dispute have set.

I accordingly record the terms of settlement and hereby give my award in terms thereof. The terms of settlement are incorporated herewith as Annexure "A" and will form a part of this award.

The award should come into force from this day.

ANNEXURE "A".

Of course, they will be taken back to National Nutriments, Ltd., when salesmen will be required in future in National Nutriments, Ltd.

3. The persons other than the said seventeen persons who were given discharge notices, dated 30th August 1947, shall be given the same and similar employment as they had with the Company on and prior to 30th August 1947 if and when the Company would require to take hands in future in preference to any person, other than those in the employment of the Company.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of industrial disputes between the Bengal Textile Association of 22, Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta, and their employees represented by the Bengal Textile Association Employees' Union of 22, Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta.

Award.

By Government order No. 644Lab., dated the 10th October 1947, a dispute coming under the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947 between the Bengal Textile Association of 22, Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta, and their employees represented by the Bengal Textile Association Employees' Union of 22, Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta, was referred to a Tribunal under sections 7 and 10 of the said Act, and I was appointed Tribunal for adjudication.

Dr. S. K. Gupta, Counsel, instructed by Mr. Charu Chandra Bose, Solicitor, appeared for the employers, while the Union was represented by their President, Mr. J. K. Mitter.

In September 1945, the Governor-General of India promulgated Ordinance No. XXXII of 1945 for better procurement and distribution of cotton textiles. The Bengal Textile Association, formed under that authority, has not, however, a long life to live. It is likely to be dissolved in near future. Even if the dissolution of this Association is not imminent, there is definitely an apprehension of abridgement of the work of the Association as a result of partition of Bengal.

The Association has been paying to its employees at the following rates:—

Sweepers- Rs. 40 per month.
Bearers on engagement—Rs. 45 per month and on confirmation after six months Rs. 52 per month.
Durwans on engagement—Rs. 50 per month and on confirmation after six months Rs. 56 per month.
Coolies on engagement—Rs. 60 per month.
Head coolies—Rs 70 per month.
Cooli sardars—Rs. 86 per month.
Clerks—Rs. 90 per month on engagement and Rs 100 per month after six months on confirmation.
Clerks with experience and graduates -Rs. 100 to Rs. 125 per month with 25 per cent. increment after six months on confirmation.
Typists—Rs. 150 per month and 25 per cent. increment after six months on confirmation.
Other officers between Rs. 200 to Rs. 500 according to qualification.

Besides the above salary employees engaged in outdoor works are generally paid travelling and conveyance allowances.

The Association did not pay to its employees anything as house rent or dearness allowance but in lieu thereof it paid to its employees (except coolies) bonus at the rate of four months' salary in course of the year 1947, to those who had served for a year and to others pro-rata according to the length of service The coolies were paid at the rate of two months' pay as bonus.

The Union demanded higher rates of pay for all employees and concrete demands were put forward on the 24th June 1947. This was, however, modified on the 30th July, 1947. The modified demands are:—

(1) Recognition of the Union.
(2) A Common Room.
(3) Increment to be paid from 1st July 1947, for all staff as follows: -
For all lower grade staff (i e., peons, bearers, durwans, etc.)—Rs. 25 flat rate with the maximum of Rs. 100.
All clerical staff drawing up to Rs 90 - Rs. 35 flat rate, i.e., minimum for junior grade clerks Rs. 125 per month.
All staff drawing between Rs. 90 to Rs. 200—At 33⅓ per cent.
All staff drawing between Rs. 201 to Rs. 300 —At 25 per cent.

Exception.

Persons drawing Rs. 212-8 and Rs. 218-2—Rs. 275 per month.
All staff drawing above Rs. 301—Rs. 75 at flat rate.
(4) Interim Bonus—3 months' salary as bonus on the closing of 1947 accounts; pro-rata on earlier termination.
(5) Persons not being allowed to avail of earned leave should be compensated with pay.
(6) Three months' pay on termination of services for persons in continuous service for 6 months or more. One month's pay for others.
(7) There must be justice, equity and fair play with regard to every promotion, increment and distribution of privileges.

The Association considered the demands and passed the following resolution:—

"The Board agreed to the proposal that a general increment as below should be paid as from the 1st August 1947, to all members of the staff who had completed one year's confirmed service in the Association since the date of the last general increment granted to them:—

All clerks earning up to Rs. 350 per mensem Rs. 15 per mensem.
Durwans, bearers, coolies, sirdars, motor drivers and sweepers—Rs. 3 per mensem.

With regard to the employees retrenched before the end of 1947, it was decided that in the case of all employees except coolies, a gratuity of 3 months' pay should be given to those with one year's service and of 1½ months' pay to those with service between 6 months and one year and that compensation should be given to them also for earned leave and for pro-rata casual leave for the current year not availed of."

This offer was not acceptable to the Union. The employers in return applied to the Government for referring the dispute to a Tribunal.

The following issues were framed:—

(1) Should the Union be recognised by the employers?
(2) Should the employees be provided with a Common Room?

(3) What, if any, should be the increase of pay of the different kinds of clerks, peons and durwans of the Bengal Textile Association?

(4) What bonus, if any, should be paid to the employees, and for which period?

(5) Are the employees entitled to any compensation for not availing themselves of the earned leave?

(6) What modification, if any, should be made in the gratuity sanctioned by the Board?

(7) What amount, if any, should be paid as dearness allowance to the different classes of employees?

(8) Should any grade of pay for employees be fixed?

Issues Nos. 3, 4, 7 and 8.

Fixation of wages must be made on some principle. It will not be the duty of the Tribunal to give an increase simply because there is a demand for increase at 33 per cent. The first and the primary thing which the Tribunal should consider is whether the labour has been exploited. It is no doubt true that the unit holders, i.e., the share holders are getting very large returns for their investments. This is considerably due to the good officers of the Imperial Bank of India which is advancing money as loan. This led the share holders to earn very huge sums for this job. I may take into consideration the income of the share holders or unit holders in giving some relief to the workers But it is wrong to think that all profits, reserving certain returns for the unit holders, should be distributed to the workers. After the workers are paid fair salary and the employers are given fair return the only person who can lay claim on the surplus is the State.

Let me examine what, under the Pay Commission Report, the State proposes to spend for the lowest grade of the clerical staff. It is, salary Rs. 55 plus 25 per cent. of it, i.e., Rs. 13-12 to the Pension Fund. Add to it Rs. 35 as dearness allowance. This makes Rs. 103-12. In this Association the lowest grade clerk is taken in at Rs. 90 on probation. After the period of probation of 6 months he is confirmed on Rs. 100. This amount is less than Rs. 103-12. To this amount 3 months' salary as bonus should be added. The Association has been paying this in lieu of dearness allowance and others. For the lowest grade clerk the Association thus spends Rs. 125, i.e., Rs. 21-4 more than the scheme of the Central Pay Commission Report. After this it is very difficult to say that the clerks are being exploited. The Association agreed to grant an increase over this amount, but this has not been found acceptable by the Union.

Thus, though the clerks are not being unfairly treated, I consider that some more benefits should be given to them because the Pay Commission Report contemplates security of service which is not only wanting but the Association is in danger of being dissolved in very near future.

I therefore decide in the following way:—The period of probation be reduced to three months. All clerks on probation who have completed 3 months' probation and have been found fit should immediately be confirmed, and those who have proved themselves failures after 3 months' probation may be discharged at the discretion of the Association. The lowest pay of a clerk on confirmation shall be Rs. 115. All clerks drawing up to Rs. 150 shall get an increment of Rs. 15. No increment of Rs. 15 is allowed to those who get increment on account of confirmation on the basis of the reduced period of probation. So far as the clerks drawing pay between Rs. 151 and Rs. 350 are concerned, on completion of one year's confirmed service they shall get an increment of Rs. 15 per month.

The Association had lately to take in some new men on purely temporary basis, and I have been told by the General Manager that they will be soon reduced. Their number is not, however, very large. They have been taken at Rs. 90 a month. Though in case of probationers I am not going to raise their allowance, the pay of all the temporary clerks is raised to Rs. 100 a month. The temporary clerks, after 3 months' service, will get at the rate of Rs. 115, though their character as temporary clerks shall remain. Under this scheme the probationers are getting Rs. 10 less for 3 months but they have got the prospect of longer service. The peons and the durwans are given an increment of Rs. 5 per month.

In the year 1946, the Association gave three ordinary bonuses out of the profits for 1946. There was another extra bonus granted in 1947 on the Independence Day. This being something extraordinary must be altogether left out of the consideration. The Association gave bonus to the employees for consideration, i.e., in lieu of house allowance and dearness allowance. I, therefore, decide that the employess of all grades permanent, temporary or probationer including durwans, peons, etc., shall get three months' wages as bonus out of the profits for 1947. If the profit for the year 1947 be less than that for the year 1946, there will be pro-rata reduction of bonus. The bonus shall be calculated for each employee on the same principle as has been done this year for the bonus for the year 1946.

The wage structure has been fixed including within it the dearness allowance and therefore separate dearness allowance need not be paid. This is advantageous to the employees because they will get bonus of the whole of the amount they get from the employer. No further grade of pay for the employees need be fixed than what they have got. I have allowed general increment for all.

Issue No. 6.

This Association is of a very temporary nature. I have already shown that the employer's contribution for pension or gratuity fund is included within the pay scale. I therefore do not consider it necessary that any alteration should be made in the Gratuity Rules sanctioned by the Board.

Issue No. 1.

The Association agrees to recognise the Union. The matter ends there.

Issue No. 2.

The Association agrees that it will try to find accommodation for a Common Room in the same building or in an adjoining building. This has been accepted by the Union.

The Union, as the President states, represents the peons and durwans and the clerical staff in Calcutta but not persons working under the Association at Ahmedabad. The Union will represent them only.

Issue No. 5.

The Association agrees that if any person applies to avail of earned leave and is refused that leave, then he would be given that amount which he would have got if he had availed of the leave. The Association and the Union accept this.

I have already mentioned the persons who are affected by this award. In this connection another question arose as to who are clerks. On behalf of the Association it was contended that the General Manager, Departmental Managers, Assistant Managers, Sectional Officers, Law Officer, Chief Accountant and the Officer-in-charge of Procurement are not clerks. The Union agreed to this but contended that Sectional Officers were also clerks. On the assurance of the Association that the Sectional Officers would be entitled to the benefits of the bonus, the Union waived objection to treat them as clerks.

(b) every part of transmission machinery;

(c) every dangerous part of any other machinery, shall be securely fenced by safeguards of substantial construction and kept in position while the parts of machinery they are fencing are in motion or in use:

Provided that for the purpose of determining whether any part of machinery is in such position or is of such construction as to be safe as aforesaid, account shall not be taken of any occasion when, it being necessary to make an examination of the machinery while it is in motion or, as a result of such examination, to carry out any mounting or shipping of belts, lubrication or other adjusting operation while the machinery is in motion, such examination or operation is made or carried out in accordance with the provisions of section 23.

(2) The Provincial Government may by rules prescribe such further precautions as it may consider necessary in respect of any particular machinery, or part thereof, or exempt, subject to such conditions, if any, as may be prescribed, for securing the safety of the workers, any particular machinery or part thereof from the provisions of this section.

23. Work on or near machinery in motion.—(1) Where in any factory it becomes necessary to examine any part of machinery referred to in section 22 while the machinery is in motion, or as a result of such examination, to carry out any mounting or shipping of belts, lubrication or other adjusting operation while the machinery is in motion such examination or operation shall be made or carried out only by a specially trained adult male worker wearing tight fitting clothing whose name has been recorded in the register prescribed in this behalf and while he is so engaged,—

(a) such worker shall not handle a belt at a moving pulley unless the belt is less than six inches in width and unless the belt-joint is either laced or flush with the belt;

(3) Where, in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1), any worker works on a Sunday and has had a holiday on one of the three days immediately before it, that Sunday shall, for the purpose of calculating his weekly hours of work, be included in the preceding week.

53. Compensatory holidays.—(1) Where, as a result of the passing of an order or the making of a rule under the provisions of this Act exempting a factory or the workers therein from the provisions of section 52, a worker is deprived of any of the weekly holidays for which provision is made in sub-section (1) of that section, he shall be allowed, within the month in which the holidays were due to him or within the two months immediately following that month, compensatory holidays of equal number to the holidays so lost.

(2) The Provincial Government may make rules prescribing the manner in which the holidays for which provision is made in sub-section (1) shall be allowed.

54. Daily hours.—No adult worker shall be employed in a factory for more than nine hours in any day.

55. Intervals for rest.—The periods of work of adult workers in a factory during each day shall be so fixed that no period shall exceed five hours and so that no worker shall work—

(a) for more than five hours before he has had an interval for rest of at least half an hour or such longer duration, not exceeding one hour, as may, in respect of any particular factory or class or description of factories or in respect of any particular manufacturing process, be prescribed, or

(b) for more than eight hours before he has had at least two such intervals.

56. Spreadover.—Save with the permission of the Provincial Government and subject to such conditions as it may impose, either generally or in the case of any particular factory, the periods of work of an adult worker in a factory shall be so arranged that along with his intervals for rest under section 55, they shall not spread over more than ten and a half hours in any day.

57. Night shifts.—Where a worker in a factory works on a shift which extends beyond midnight,—

(a) for the purposes of sections 52 and 53 a holiday for a whole day shall mean in his case a period of twenty-four consecutive hours beginning when his shifts ends;

(b) the following day for him shall be deemed to be the period of twenty-four hours beginning when such shift ends, and the hours he has worked after midnight shall be counted in the previous day:

Provided that the Provincial Government may, by order in writing, direct that in the case of any specified factory or of any specified class of workers in a factory the following day shall be deemed to be the period of twenty-four hours beginning when such shift begins and that the hours worked before midnight shall be counted in the following day.

58. Prohibition of overlapping shifts.—(1) Work shall not be carried on in any factory by means of a system of shifts so arranged that more than one relay of workers is engaged in work of the same kind at the same time.

(2) The Provincial Government may make rules exempting, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed, any factory or class or description of factories from the provisions of sub-section (1).

59. Extra pay for overtime.—(1) Where a worker works in a factory for more than nine hours in any day or for more than forty-eight hours in any week, he shall be entitled in respect of the overtime worked to pay at the rate of twice his ordinary rate of pay.

(2) Where any workers in a factory are paid on a piece rate basis, the Provincial Government, in consultation with the industry concerned, may, for the purposes of this section, fix time rates as nearly as possible equivalent to the average rate of earnings of those workers, and the rates so fixed shall be deemed to be the ordinary rates of pay of those workers for the purposes of this section.

(3) For the purposes of this section, ordinary rate of pay includes basic pay and such allowances as the worker is for the time being entitled to, but does not include a bonus.

(4) The Provincial Government may prescribe the registers that shall be maintained in a factory for the purpose of securing compliance with the provisions of this section.

60. Restriction on double employment.—No adult worker shall be employed in any factory on any day on which he has already been working in any other factory, save in such circumstances as may be prescribed.

61. Notice of periods for work for adults.—(1) There shall be displayed and correctly maintained in every factory in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 109 a Notice of Periods for Work for Adults, showing clearly the periods within which adult workers may be required to work.

(2) The periods shown in the notice required by sub-section (1) shall be fixed beforehand in accordance with the following provisions of this section, and shall be such that workers working for those periods would not be working in contravention of any of the provisions of sections 51, 52, 54, 55 and 56.

(3) Where all the adult workers in a factory are required to work within the same periods, the manager of the factory shall fix those periods for such workers generally.

(4) Where all the adult workers in a factory are not required to work within the same periods, the manager of the factory shall classify them into groups according to the nature of their work.

(5) For each group which is not required to work on a system of shifts, the manager of the factory shall fix the periods within which the group may be required to work.

(6) Where any group is required to work on a system of shifts and the relays are not to be subject to predetermined periodical changes of shifts, the manager of the factory shall fix the periods within which each relay of the group may be required to work.

(7) Where any group is to work on a system of shifts and the relays are to be subject to predetermined periodical changes of shifts, the manager of the factory shall draw up a scheme of shifts whereunder the periods within which any relay of the group may be required to work and the relay which will be working at any time of the day shall be known for any day.

(8) The Provincial Government may prescribe forms for the notice required by sub-section (1) and the manner in which it shall be maintained.

(9) In the case of a factory beginning work after the commencement of this Act, a copy of the notice referred to in sub-section (1) shall be sent in duplicate to the Inspector before the day on which work is begun in the factory.

(10) Any proposed change in the system of work in any factory which will necessitate a change in the notice referred to in sub-section (1) or in sub-section (1) of section 39 of the Factories Act, 1934 (XXV of 1934), shall be notified to the Inspector in duplicate before the change is made, and except with the previous sanction of the Inspector, no such change shall be made until one week has elapsed since the last change.

62. Register of Adult Workers.—(1) The manager of every factory shall maintain a Register of Adult Workers, to be available to the Inspector at all times during working hours, showing—

(a) the name of each adult worker in the factory;

(b) the nature of his work;

(c) the group, if any, in which he is included;

(d) where his group works on shifts, the relay to which he is allotted;

(e) such other particulars as may be prescribed:

Provided that, if the Inspector is of opinion that any muster roll or register maintained as part of the routine of a factory gives in respect of any or all the workers in the factory the particulars required under this section, he may, by order in writing, direct that such muster roll or register shall to the corresponding extent be maintained in place of, and be treated as, the Register of Adult Workers in that factory:

Provided further that where the Provincial Government is satisfied that the conditions of work in any factory or class or description of factories are such that there is no appreciable risk of contravention of the provisions of this Chapter in the case of that factory or factories of that class or description, the Provincial Government may, by written order, exempt, on such conditions as it may impose, that factory or all factories of that class or description, as the case may be, from the provisions of this section.

(2) The Provincial Government may prescribe the form of the Register of Adult Workers, the manner in which it shall be maintained and the period for which it shall be preserved.

63. Hours of work to correspond with Notice under section 61 and Register under section 62.—No adult worker shall be employed in any factory otherwise than in accordance with the Notice of Periods for Work for Adults displayed in the factory and the entries made beforehand against his name in the Register of Adult Workers of the factory.

64. Power to make exempting rules.—(1) The Provincial Government may make rules defining the persons who hold positions of supervision or management or are employed in a confidential position in a factory, and the provisions of this Chapter, other than the provisions of clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 66 and of the proviso to that sub-section, shall not apply to any person so defined.

(2) The Provincial Government may make rules in respect of adult workers in factories providing for the exemption, to such extent and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed:—

(a) of workers engaged on urgent repairs, from the provisions of sections 51, 52, 54, 55 and 56;

(b) of workers engaged in work in the nature of preparatory or complementary work which must necessarily be carried on outside the limits laid down for the general working of the factory, from the provisions of sections 54, 55 and 56;

(c) of workers engaged in work which is necessarily so intermittent that the intervals during which they do not work while on duty ordinarily amount to more than the intervals for rest required by or under section 55, from the provisions of sections 54, 55 and 56;

(d) of workers engaged in any work which for technical reasons must be carried on continuously throughout the day, from the provisions of sections 51, 52, 54, 55 and 56;

(e) of workers engaged in making or supplying articles of prime necessity which must be made or supplied every day, from the provisions of section 52;

(f) of workers engaged in a manufacturing process which cannot be carried on except during fixed seasons, from the provisions of section 52;

(g) of workers engaged in a manufacturing process which cannot be carried on except at times dependent on the irregular action of natural forces, from the provisions of sections 52 and 55;

(h) of workers engaged in engine-rooms or boiler-houses or in attending to power-plant or transmission machinery, from the provisions of section 52.

(3) Rules made under sub-section (2) providing for any exemption may also provide for any consequential exemption from the provisions of section 61 which the Provincial Government may deem to be expedient, subject to such conditions as it may prescribe.

(4) In making rules under this section the Provincial Government shall prescribe the maximum limits for the weekly hours of work for all classes of workers, and any exemption given, other than an exemption under clause (a) of sub-section (2), shall be subject to such limits.

(5) Rules made under this section shall remain in force for not more than three years.

65. Power to make exempting orders.—(1) Where the Provincial Government is satisfied that, owing to the nature of the work carried on or to other circumstances, it is unreasonable to require that the periods of work of any adult workers in any factory or class or description of factories should be fixed beforehand, it may, by written order, relax or modify the provisions of section 61 in respect of such workers therein, to such extent and in such manner as it may think fit, and subject to such conditions as it may deem expedient to ensure control over periods of work.

(2) The Provincial Government or, subject to the control of the Provincial Government, the Chief Inspector, may by written order exempt, on such conditions as it or he may deem expedient, any or all of the adult workers in any factory or group or class or description of factories from any or all of the provisions of sections 51, 52, 54, 55, 56 and 61, on the ground that the exemption is required to enable the factory or factories to deal with an exceptional press of work.

(3) Any exemption given under sub-section (2) in respect of weekly hours of work shall be subject to the maximum limits prescribed under sub-section (4) of section 64.

(4) An order under sub-section (2) shall remain in force for such period, not exceeding two months from the date on which notice thereof is given to the manager of the factory, as may be specified in the order:

Provided that, if in the opinion of the Provincial Government the Public interest so requires, the Provincial Government may from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, extend the operation of any such order for such period, not exceeding six months at any one time, as may be specified in the notification.

66. Further restrictions on employment of women.—(1) The provisions of this Chapter shall, in their application to women workers in factories, be supplemented by the following further restrictions, namely:—

(a) no exemption from the provisions of section 54 may be granted in respect of any woman;

(b) no woman shall be employed in any factory except between the hours of 6 a.m. and 7 p.m.:

Provided that the Provincial Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, in respect of any class or description of factories, vary the limits laid down in clause (b), so however that no such variation shall authorise the employment of any woman between the hours of 10 p.m. and 5 a.m.

(2) The Provincial Government may make rules providing for the exemption from the restrictions set out in sub-section (1), to such extent and subject to such conditions as it may prescribe, of women working in fish-curing or fish-canning factories, where the employment of women beyond the hours specified in the said restrictions is necessary to prevent damage to, or deterioration in, any raw material.

(3) Rules made under sub-section (2) shall remain in force for not more than three years.

67. Power to make rules to supplement this Chapter.—The Provincial Government may make rules providing for any other matter which may be expedient in order to give effect to the provisions of this Chapter.

CHAPTER VII

EMPLOYMENT OF YOUNG PERSONS

68. Prohibition of employment of young children.—No child who has not completed his thirteenth year shall be employed, or permitted to work, in any factory.

69. Non-adult workers to carry tokens.—A child who has completed his thirteenth year or an adolescent shall not be employed or permitted to work in any factory unless—

(a) a certificate of fitness granted with reference to him under section 70 is in the custody of the manager of the factory, and

(b) such child or adolescent carries while he is at work a token giving a reference to such certificate.

70. Certificates of fitness.—(1) A certifying surgeon shall, on the application of any young person or his parent or guardian accompanied by a document signed by the manager of a factory that such person will be employed therein if certified to be fit for work in a factory, or on the application of the manager of the factory in which any young person wishes to work, examine such person and ascertain his fitness for work in a factory.

(2) The certifying surgeon, after examination, may grant to such young person, in the prescribed form, or may renew—

(a) a certificate of fitness to work in a factory as a child, if he is satisfied that the young person has completed his thirteenth year, that he has attained the prescribed physical standards (if any) and that he is fit for such work:

(b) a certificate of fitness to work in a factory as an adult, if he is satisfied that the young person has completed his fifteenth year and is fit for a full day's work in a factory:

Provided that unless the certifying surgeon has personal knowledge of the place where the young person proposes to work and of the manufacturing process in which he will be employed, he shall not grant or renew a certificate under this sub-section until he has examined such place.

(3) A certificate of fitness granted or renewed under sub-section (2)—

(a) shall be valid only for a period of twelve months from the date thereof;

(b) may be made subject to conditions in regard to the nature of the work in which the young person may be employed, or requiring re-examination of the young person before the expiry of the period of twelve months.

(4) A certifying surgeon may revoke any certificate granted or renewed under sub-section (2) if in his opinion the holder of it is no longer fit to work in the capacity stated therein in a factory.

(5) Where a certifying surgeon refuses to grant or renew a certificate or a certificate of the kind requested or revokes a certificate, he shall, if so requested by any person who could have applied for the certificate or the renewal thereof, state his reasons in writing for so doing.

(6) Where a certificate under this section with reference to any young person is granted or renewed subject to such conditions as are referred to in clause (b) of sub-section (3), the young person shall not be employed, or permitted to work, in any factory except in accordance with those conditions.

71. Effect of certificate of fitness granted to adolescent.—(1) An adolescent who has been granted a certificate of fitness to work in a factory as an adult under clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 70, and who while at work in a factory carries a token giving reference to the certificate shall be deemed to be an adult for all the purposes of Chapter VI.

(2) An adolescent who has not been granted a certificate of fitness to work in a factory as an adult under the aforesaid clause (b) shall, notwithstanding his age, be deemed to be a child for all the purposes of this Act.

72. Working hours for children.—(1) No child shall be employed, or permitted to work, in any factory—

(a) for more than four and a half hours in any day;

(b) between the hours of 7 p.m. and 6 a.m.

(2) The period of work of all children employed in a factory shall be limited to two shifts which shall not overlap or exceed five hours each; and each child shall be employed in only one of the relays which shall not, except with the previous permission in writing of the Chief Inspector, be changed more frequently than once in a period of thirty days.

(3) The provisions of section 52 shall apply also to child workers, and no exemption from the provisions of that section may be granted in respect of any child.

73. Notice of periods for work for children.—(1) There shall be displayed and correctly maintained in every factory in which children are employed, in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 109 a Notice of Periods for Work for Children, showing clearly the periods within which children may be required to work.

(2) The periods shown in the notice required by sub-section (1) shall be fixed beforehand in accordance with the method laid down for adult workers in section 61, and shall be such that children working for those periods would not be working in contravention of any of the provisions of section 72.

(3) The provisions of sub-sections (8), (9) and (10) of section 61 shall apply also to the notice required by sub-section (1) of this section.

74. Register of Child Workers.—(1) The manager of every factory in which children are employed shall maintain a Register of Child Workers, to be available to the Inspector at all times during working hours, showing—

(a) the name of each child worker in the factory;

(b) the nature of his work;

(c) the group, if any, in which he is included;

(d) where his group works on shifts, the relay to which he is allotted;

(e) the number of his certificate of fitness granted under section 70;

(f) such other particulars as may be prescribed.

(2) The Provincial Government may prescribe the form of the Register of Child Workers, the manner in which it shall be maintained and the period for which it shall be preserved.

75. Hours of work to correspond with Notice under section 73 and Register under section 74.—No child shall be employed in any factory otherwise than in accordance with the Notice of Periods for Work for Children displayed in the factory and the entries made beforehand against his name in the Register of Child Workers of the factory.

76. Power to require medical examination.—Where an Inspector is of opinion—

(a) that any person working in a factory without a certificate of fitness is a young person, or he may serve on the manager of the factory a notice requiring that such person or young person, as the case may be, shall be examined by a certifying surgeon, and such person or young person shall not, if the Inspector so directs, be employed, or permitted to work, in any factory until he has been so examined and has been granted a certificate of fitness or a fresh certificate of fitness, as the case may be, under section 70, or has been certified by the certifying surgeon examining him not to be a young person.

77. Power to make rules.—The Provincial Government may make rules—

(a) prescribing the forms of certificates of fitness to be granted under section 70, providing for the grant of duplicates in the event of loss of the original certificates, and fixing the fees which may be charged for such certificates and renewals thereof and such duplicates;

(b) prescribing the physical standards to be attained by children and adolescents working in factories;

(c) regulating the procedure of certifying surgeons under this Chapter;

(d) specifying other duties which certifying surgeons may be required to perform in connection with the employment of young persons in factories, and fixing the fees which may be charged for such duties and the persons by whom they shall be payable;

(e) providing for any other matter which may be expedient in order to give effect to the provisions of this Chapter.

78. Certain other provisions of law not barred.—The provisions of this Chapter shall be in addition to, and not in derogation of, the provisions of the Employment of Children Act, 1938 (XXVI of 1938).

CHAPTER VIII

HOLIDAYS WITH PAY

79. Application of Chapter.—The provisions of this Chapter—

(a) shall not apply to a worker in a factory employed in a manufacturing process which is ordinarily carried on for less than one hundred and eighty working days in the year;

(b) shall not operate to the prejudice of any rights to which a worker may be entitled under any other law or under the terms of any award, agreement or contract of service.

80. Annual holidays.—(1) Every worker who has completed a period of twelve months' continuous service in a factory shall be allowed during the subsequent period of twelve months, holidays for ten days in the case of an adult or fourteen days in the case of a child, inclusive of the day or days, if any, on which he is entitled to a holiday under sub-section (1) of section 52:

Provided that where the employment of a worker who has completed a period of six months' continuous service in a factory is terminated before he has completed a period of twelve months' continuous service, he shall be deemed to have become entitled to holidays for the number of days which bears to the number of days specified in his case in this sub-section the same proportion as the period of his continuous service bears to one year, and the occupier of the factory shall pay to him the amount payable under section 81 in respect of the number of holidays to which he is so deemed to have become entitled.

(2) If a worker does not in any one such period of twelve months take the whole of the holidays allowed to him under sub-section (1), any holidays not taken by him shall be added to the holidays to be allowed to him under that sub-section in the succeeding period of twelve months, so however that the total number of day's holidays which may be carried forward to a succeeding period shall not exceed ten in the case of an adult or fourteen in the case of a child.

(3) A worker may in any such period of twelve months apply in writing to the manager of the factory, not less than three full working days before the date on which he wishes his holidays to begin, to take all or any number of the holidays allowable to him during that period under sub-sections (1) and (2), either on one occasion or on two occasions, at his option:

Provided that his first application during the period shall be,—

(a) if he is an adult, for not less than six days or one-half of the total number of holidays so allowable to him during the period, whichever is greater;

(b) if he is a child, for not less than nine days or one-half of the total number of holidays so allowable to him during the period, whichever is greater.

(4) If, for the purpose of ensuring the continuity of work in a factory, the Works Committee of the factory, if any, constituted under section 3 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), or if there is no such Works Committee in the factory, the manager of the factory in agreement with representatives of the workers therein chosen in the prescribed manner, may lodge with the Chief Inspector a scheme in writing whereby the holidays allowable under this section may be regulated for the above purpose.

(5) A scheme lodged under sub-section (4) shall be posted in convenient places in the factory and shall be in force for a period of twelve months from the date on which it is lodged with the Chief Inspector, and may thereafter be renewed, with or without modification, for further periods of twelve months at any one time, by the said Works Committee or, as the case may be, by the manager of the factory in agreement with representatives of the workers as aforesaid.

(6) An application for holidays which does not contravene the provisions of sub-section (3) shall not be refused unless the refusal is in accordance with a scheme for the time being in operation lodged under sub-section (4).

(7) If a worker entitled to holidays under sub-sections (1) and (2) is discharged from the factory before he has taken all the holidays to which he is so entitled, or if, having applied for and having been refused such holidays, he quits his employment before he has taken the holidays, the occupier of the factory shall pay him the amount payable under section 81 in respect of the holidays not taken.

Explanation 1.—For the purposes of this section, a worker shall be deemed to have completed a period of continuous service in a factory notwithstanding any interruption in service during that period brought about by sickness, accident or authorised leave not exceeding one-quarter of the period in the aggregate for all three, or by a lock-out, or by a strike which is not an illegal strike, or one or more periods of involuntary unemployment not exceeding one-twelfth of the period in the aggregate.

Explanation 2.—For the purposes of Explanation 1—

(a) authorised leave shall include any casual absence due to illness or other reasonable cause provided that the worker within three days from the commencement of the absence gives the reasons for the absence in writing to the manager of the factory, and may include periods of unauthorised leave, not exceeding in the aggregate one-eighteenth of the period, but shall not include any weekly holiday allowed under section 52 which occurs at the beginning or end of an interruption brought about by the leave;

(b) in calculating the period of authorised leave or period of involuntary unemployment no account shall be taken of leave admissible and granted under any other law;

(c) "illegal strike" means a strike which is illegal within the meaning of section 24 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947).

81. Pay during annual holidays.—Without prejudice to the conditions governing the day or days, if any, on which the worker is entitled to a holiday under sub-section (1) of section 52, a worker shall, for the remaining days of the holidays allowed to him under section 80, be paid at a rate equivalent to the daily average of his wages, as defined in the Payment of Wages Act, 1936 (IV of 1936), for the days on which he actually worked during the preceding three months, exclusive of any earnings in respect of overtime.

82. Half payment in advance in certain cases.—A worker who has been allowed holidays for not less than six days under section 80 shall, before his holidays begin, be paid half the total pay due for the period of the holidays.

83. Power of Inspector to act for worker.—Any Inspector may institute proceedings on behalf of any worker to recover any sum required to be paid by an employer under this Chapter which the employer has not paid.

84. Power to make rules.—(1) The Provincial Government may make rules to carry into effect the provisions of this Chapter.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power rules may be made under this section prescribing the keeping by managers of factories of registers showing such particulars as may be prescribed and requiring such registers to be made available for examination by Inspectors.

(3) The Central Government may give directions to a Province as to the carrying into execution of the provisions of this section.

85. Power to exempt factories.—Where the Provincial Government is satisfied that the leave rules applicable to workers in a factory provide benefits in its opinion substantially similar to those for which this Chapter makes provision, it may, by written order, exempt the factory from the provisions of this Chapter, subject to such conditions, if any, as may be specified in the order.

CHAPTER IX

SPECIAL PROVISIONS

86. Certain provisions of Act to apply to other premises.—(1) The provisions of—

(i) clauses (a) and (b) of sub-section (1) of section 12, clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 14, and sub-section (1) of section 18;

(vi) sections 68, 72 and 77;

(vii) sections 88, 89, 90, 91, 110 and 111.

and such other provisions of this Act as the Provincial Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, specify in this behalf shall, so far as may be, apply to any premises, not being a factory or a mine subject to the operation of the Indian Mines Act, 1923 (IV of 1923), including the precincts thereof, in any part of which a manufacturing process is being carried on with or without the aid of power and otherwise than by the occupier thereof with the aid of his family only, or is ordinarily so carried on, as they apply to factories and all the references in this Act to a factory shall be construed accordingly.

(2) If in the opinion of the Inspector the facilities required to be provided under the provisions mentioned in clause (ii) of sub-section (1) are readily available to the workers in such premises as aforesaid in the immediate vicinity thereof, he may, by order in writing, direct that it shall not be necessary to provide the said facilities on the actual premises.

87. Dangerous operations.—Where the Provincial Government is of opinion that any operation carried on in a factory exposes any persons employed upon it to a serious risk of bodily injury, poisoning or disease, it may make rules applicable to any factory or class or description of factories in which the operation is carried on—

(a) specifying the operation and declaring it to be dangerous;

(b) prohibiting or restricting the employment of women, adolescents or children upon the operation;

(c) providing for the medical examination of persons employed, or seeking to be employed, upon the operation, and prohibiting the employment of persons not certified as fit for such employment;

(d) providing for the protection of all persons employed upon the operation or in the vicinity of the places where it is carried on;

(e) prohibiting, restricting or controlling the use of any specified materials or processes in connection with the operation.

88. Notice of certain accidents.—Where in any factory an accident occurs which causes death, or which causes any bodily injury by reason of which the person injured is prevented from working at any time during the period of seventy-two hours immediately following the accident, or which is of any such nature as may be prescribed in this behalf, the manager of the factory shall send notice thereof to such authorities, and in such form and within such time, as may be prescribed.

89. Notice of certain diseases.—(1) Where any worker in a factory contracts any disease specified in the Schedule, the manager of the factory shall send notice thereof to such authorities, and in such form and within such time, as may be prescribed.

(2) If any medical practitioner attends a person who is or has been employed in a factory, and who is, or is believed by the medical practitioner to be, suffering from any disease specified in the Schedule, the medical practitioner shall without delay send a report in writing to the office of the Chief Inspector stating—

(a) the name and full postal address of the patient;

(b) the disease from which he believes the patient to be suffering;

(c) the name and address of the factory in which the patient is, or was last, employed.

(3) Where it is confirmed to the satisfaction of the Chief Inspector, by a report of a certifying surgeon or otherwise, that a person who is the subject of a report under sub-sertion (2) is suffering from a disease specified in the Schedule, he shall pay to the medical practitioner in consideration for his report such fee as may be prescribed, and the fee so paid shall be recoverable (if necessary, as an arrear of land-revenue) from the occupier of the factory in which the person suffering from the disease was last employed.

(4) If any medical practitioner fails to comply with the provisions of sub-section (2), he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty rupees.

90. Power to direct investigation of cases of accident or disease.—(1) The Provincial Government may, if it considers it expedient so to do, appoint a competent person to inquire into the causes of any accident occurring in a factory or into any case where a disease specified in the Schedule has been, or is suspected to have been, contracted in a factory, and may also appoint one or more persons possessing legal or special knowledge to act as assessors in such inquiry.

(2) The person appointed to hold an inquiry under this section shall have all the powers of a Civil Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (V of 1908), for the purposes of enforcing the attendance of witnesses and compelling the production of documents and material objects, and may also, so far as may be necessary for the purposes of the inquiry, exercise any of the powers of an Inspector under this Act; and every person required by the person making the inquiry to furnish any information shall be deemed to be legally bound so to do within the meaning of section 176 of the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860).

(3) The person holding an inquiry under this section shall make a report to the Provincial Government stating the causes of the accident, or as the case may be, disease, and any attending circumstances, and adding any observations which he or any of the assessors may think fit to make.

(4) The Provincial Government may, if it thinks fit, cause to be published any report made under this section or any extracts therefrom.

(a) in the belief of the Inspector in contravention of any of the provisions of this Act or the rules made thereunder, or

(b) in the opinion of the Inspector likely to cause bodily injury to, or injury to the health of, workers in the factory.

(2) Where the Inspector takes a sample under sub-section (1), he shall, in the presence of the person informed under that sub-section unless such person wilfully absents himself, divide the sample into three portions and effectively seal and suitably mark them, and shall permit such person to add his own seal and mark thereto.

(3) The person informed as aforesaid shall, if the Inspector so requires, provided the appliances for dividing, sealing and marking the sample taken under this section.

(4) The Inspector shall—

(c) retain the third portion for production to the Court before which proceedings, if any, are instituted in respect of the substance.

(5) any document purporting to be a report under the hand of any Government Analyst upon any substance submitted to him for analysis and report under this section, may be used as evidence in any proceedings instituted in respect of the substance.

CHAPTER X.

PENALTIES AND PROCEDURE.

92. General penalty for offences.—Save as is otherwise expressly provided in this Act and subject to the provisions of section 93, if in, or in respect of, any factory there is any contravention of any of the provisions of this Act or of any rule made thereunder or of any order in writing given thereunder, the occupier and manager of the factory shall each be guilty of an offence and punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees or with both, and if the contravention is continued after conviction, with a further fine which may extend to seventy-five rupees for each day on which the contravention is so continued:

Provided that if both the occupier and manager are convicted, the aggregate of the fines inflicted on them in respect of the same contravention shall not exceed the amounts specified in this section.

93. Liability of owner of premises in certain circumstances.—Where in any premises separate buildings, or in any building separate parts of the building or separate parts of any room therein are leased or occupied by different persons in such a manner as to constitute separate factories, the owner of the premises or building, as the case may be, shall be liable, in the stead of the occupier of the factory for any contravention in, or in respect of, any part of the premises or building which is used as a factory, of—

(a) the provisions of Chapter III or of any rules made thereunder;

(b) the provisions of Chapter IV or of any rules made thereunder, except in so far as they relate to plant or machinery belonging to or supplied by the occupier of the factory;

(c) the provisions of Chapter V or of any rules made thereunder, and in computing for the purposes of any of the provisions mentioned in this clause the number of workers employed, the whole of the premises or building, as the case may be, shall be deemed to be a single factory;

Provided that—

(i) the provisions of this section shall not apply to, or in respect of, any building or room in the sole occupation of the occupier of a factory;

(ii) the aforesaid owner shall be liable for any contravention of any of the provisions of this Act or of the rules made thereunder relating to the cleanliness of sanitary conveniences only when those conveniences are used by workers of more than one occupier;

(iii) the aforesaid owner shall be liable for any contravention of any of the provisions of this Act or of the rules made thereunder relating to hoists and lifts, and means of escape and safety precautions in case of fire, only in so far as the said provisions relate to things under his control.

94. Enhanced penalty after previous conviction.—If any person who has been convicted of any offence punishable under section 92 is again guilty of an offence involving a contravention of the same provision, he shall be punishable on the second conviction with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees and shall not be less than two hundred rupees or with both, and if he is again so guilty, shall be punishable on the third or any subsequent conviction with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year or with fine which may extend to two thousand rupees and shall not be less than five hundred rupees or with both:

Provided that for the purposes of this section no cognizance shall be taken of any conviction made more than two years before the commission of the offence which is being punished:

Provided further that the Court, if it is satisfied that there are exceptional circumstances warranting such a course, may, after recording its reasons in writing, impose a smaller fine than is required by this section.

95. Offences involving several persons.—If any persons are employed in a factory otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this Act and of the rules and orders made thereunder, there shall be deemed to have been committed a separate offence in respect of each person so employed.

96. Penalty for obstructing Inspector.—Whoever wilfully obstructs an Inspector in the exercise of any power conferred on him by or under this Act, or fails to produce on demand by an Inspector any registers or other documents in his custody kept in pursuance of this Act or of any rules made thereunder, or conceals or prevents any worker in a factory from appearing before, or being examined by, an Inspector, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees or with both.

97. Penalty for wrongfully disclosing results of analysis under section 91.—Whoever, except in so far as it may be necessary for the purposes of a prosecution for any offence punishable under this Act, publishes or discloses to any person the results of an analysis made under section 91, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees or with both.

98. Offences by workers.—(1) If any worker employed in a factory contravenes any provision of this Act or any rules or orders made thereunder, imposing any duty or liability on workers, he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to twenty rupees.

(2) Where a worker is convicted of an offence punishable under subsection (1), the occupier or manager of the factory shall not be deemed to be guilty of an offence in respect of that contravention, unless it is proved that he failed to take all reasonable measures for its prevention.

99. Penalty for using false certificate of fitness.—Whoever knowingly uses or attempts to use, as a certificate of fitness granted to himself under section 70, a certificate granted to another person under that section, or who, having procured such a certificate, knowingly allows it to be used, or an attempt to use it to be made, by another person, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month or with fine which may extend to fifty rupees or with both.

100. Penalty for permitting double employment of child.—If a child works in a factory on any day on which he has already been working in another factory, the parent or guardian of the child or the person having custody of or control over him or obtaining any direct benefit from his wages, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty rupees, unless it appears to the Court that the child so worked without the consent, connivance or wilful default of such parent, guardian or person.

101. Determination of occupier in certain cases.—(1) Where the occupier of a factory is a firm or other association of individuals, any one of the individual partners or members thereof may be prosecuted and punished under this Chapter for any offence for which the occupier of the factory is punishable:

Provided that the firm or association may give notice to the Inspector that it has nominated one of its members who is resident within the Provinces of India to be the occupier of the factory for the purposes of this Chapter, and such individual shall, so long as he is so resident, be deemed to be the occupier of the factory for the purposes of this Chapter, until further notice cancelling his nomination is received by the Inspector or until he ceases to be a partner or member of the firm or association.

(2) Where the occupier of a factory is a company, any one of the directors thereof, or in the case of a private company, any one of the shareholders thereof, may be prosecuted and punished under this Chapter for any offence for which the occupier of the factory is punishable:

Provided that the company may give notice to the Inspector that it has nominated a director, or in the case of a private company, a shareholder, who is resident in either case within the Provinces of India, to be the occupier of the factory for the purposes of this Chapter, and such director or shareholder, as the case may be, shall, so long as he is so resident, be deemed to be the occupier of the factory for the purposes of this Chapter, until further notice cancelling his nomination is received by the Inspector or until he ceases to be a director or shareholder.

(3) Where the owner of any premises or building referred to in section 93 is not an individual, the provisions of this section shall apply to such owner as they apply to occupiers of factories who are not individuals.

102. Exemption of occupier or manager from liability in certain cases.—(1) Where the occupier or manager of a factory is charged with an offence punishable under this Act, he shall be entitled, upon complaint duly made by him and on giving to the prosecutor not less than three clear days' notice in writing of his intention so to do, to have any other person whom he charges as the actual offender brought before the Court at the time appointed for hearing the charge; and if, after the commission of the offence has been proved, the occupier or manager of the factory, as the case may be, proves to the satisfaction of the Court—

(a) that he has used due diligence to enforce the execution of this Act, and

(b) that the said other person committed the offence in question without his knowledge, consent or connivance,— that other person shall be convicted of the offence and shall be liable to the like punishment as if he were the occupier or manager of the factory, and the occupier or manager, as the case may be, shall be discharged from any liability under this Act in respect of such offence:

Provided that in seeking to prove as aforesaid, the occupier or manager of the factory, as the case may be, may be examined on oath, and his evidence and that of any witness whom he calls in his support shall be subject to cross-examination on behalf of the person he charges as the actual offender and by the prosecutor.

(2) Where it is made to appear to the satisfaction of the Inspector at any time prior to the institution of proceedings in respect of an offence punishable under this Act—

(a) that the occupier or manager of the factory has used all due diligence to enforce the execution of this Act, and

(b) by what person the offence has been committed, and

(c) that it has been committed without the knowledge, consent or connivance of the occupier or manager, or in contravention of his orders—

the Inspector shall proceed against the person whom he believes to be the actual offender without first proceeding against the occupier or manager of the factory, and such person shall be liable to the like punishment as if he were the occupier or manager.

103. Power of Court to make orders.—(1) Where the occupier or manager of a factory is convicted of an offence punishable under this Act otherwise than under section 94, the Court may, in addition to or instead of imposing any punishment, by order in writing require him, within a period specified in the order (which the Court may, if it thinks fit and on application in such behalf, from time to time extend) to take such measures as may be so specified for remedying the matters in respect of which the offence was committed.

(2) Where an order is made under sub-section (1), the occupier or manager of the factory, as the case may be, shall not be liable under this Act in respect of the continuation of the offence during the period or extended period, if any, allowed by the Court, but if, on the expiry of such period or extended period, as the case may be, the order of the Court has not been fully complied with, the occupier or manager, as the case may be, shall be deemed to have committed a further offence, and may be sentenced therefor by the Court to undergo imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or to pay a fine which may extend to one hundred rupees for every day after such expiry on which the order has not been complied with, or both to undergo such imprisonment and to pay such fine, as aforesaid.

104. Presumption as to employment.—If a person is found in a factory at any time, except during intervals for meals or rest, when work is going on or the machinery is in motion, he shall until the contrary is proved, be deemed for the purposes of this Act and the rules made thereunder to have been at that time employed in the factory.

105. Evidence as to age.—(1) When any act or omission would, if a person were under or over a certain age, be an offence punishable under this Act, and such person is in the opinion of the Court apparently under or over such age, the burden shall be on the accused to prove that such person is not under or over such age.

(2) A declaration in writing by a certifying surgeon relating to a worker that he has personally examined him and believes him to be under or over the age stated in such declaration shall, for the purposes of this Act and the rules made thereunder, be admissible as evidence of the age of that worker.

106. Cognizance of offences.—(1) No prosecution under this Act shall be instituted except by, or with the previous sanction in writing of, an Inspector.

(2) No Court inferior to that of a Presidency Magistrate or of a Magistrate of the first class shall try any offence punishable under this Act.

107. Limitation of prosecutions.—No Court shall take cognizance of any offence punishable under this Act unless complaint thereof is made within six months of the date on which the alleged commission of the offence came to the knowledge of an Inspector:

Provided that where the offence consists of disobeying a written order made by an Inspector, complaint thereof may be made within twelve months of the date on which the offence is alleged to have been committed.

CHAPTER XI

SUPPLEMENTAL.

108. Appeals.—(1) The manager of a factory on whom an order in writing by an Inspector has been served under the provisions of this Act or the occupier of the factory may, within thirty days of the service of the order, appeal against it to the prescribed authority, and such authority may, subject to rules made in this behalf by the Provincial Government, confirm, modify or reverse the order.

(2) Subject to rules made in this behalf by the Provincial Government (which may prescribe classes of appeals which shall not be heard with the aid of assessors), the appellate authority may, or if so required in the petition of appeal shall, hear the appeal with the aid of assessors, one of whom shall be appointed by the appellate authority and the other by such body representing the industry concerned as may be prescribed:

Provided that if no assessor is appointed by such body before the time fixed for hearing the appeal, or if the assessor so appointed fails to attend the hearing at such time, the appellate authority may, unless satisfied that the failure to attend is due to sufficient cause, proceed to hear the appeal without the aid of such assessor or, if it thinks fit, without the aid of any assessor.

(3) Subject to such rules as the Provincial Government may make in this behalf and subject to such conditions as to partial compliance or the adoption of temporary measures as the appellate authority may in any case think fit to impose, the appellate authority may, if it thinks fit, suspend the order appealed against pending the decision of the appeal.

109. Display of notices.—(1) In addition to the notices required to be displayed in any factory by or under this Act, there shall be displayed in every factory a notice containing such abstracts of this Act and of the rules made thereunder as may be prescribed, in English and in a language understood by the majority of the workers in the factory.

(2) All notices required by or under this Act to be displayed in a factory shall be displayed at some conspicuous and convenient place at or near the main entrance to the factory, and shall be maintained in a clean and legible condition.

(3) The Chief Inspector may, by order in writing served on the manager of any factory, require that there shall be displayed in the factory any other notice or poster relating to the health, safety or welfare of the workers in the factory.

110. Service of notices.—The Provincial Government may make rules prescribing the manner of the service of orders under this Act on occupiers or managers of factories.

111. Returns.—The Provincial Government may make rules requiring occupiers or managers of factories to submit such returns, occasional or periodical, as may in its opinion be required for the purposes of this Act.

112. Obligations of workers.—No worker in a factory—

(a) shall wilfully interfere with or misuse any appliance, convenience or other thing provided in a factory for the purposes of securing the health, safety or welfare of the workers therein;

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The existing law relating to the regulation of labour employed in factories in India is embodied in the Factories Act, 1934. Experience of the working of the Act has revealed a number of defects and weaknesses which hamper effective administration. Although the Act has been amended in certain respects in a piece-meal fashion whenever some particular aspect of labour safety or welfare assumed urgent importance, the general framework has remained unchanged. The provisions for the safety, health and welfare of workers are generally found to be inadequate and unsatisfactory, and even such protection as is provided does not extend to the large mass of workers employed in work-places not covered by the Act. In view of the large and growing industrial activities in the country, a radical overhauling of the Factories law is essentially called for and cannot be delayed.

The proposed legislation differs materially from the existing law in several respects. Some of the important features are herein mentioned. Under the definition of "Factory" in the Act of 1934, several undertakings are excluded from its scope but it is essential that important basic provisions relating to health, working hours, holidays, lighting and ventilation, should be extended to all work-places in view of the unsatisfactory state of affairs now prevailing in unregulated factories. Further the present distinction between seasonal and perennial factories which has little justification has been done away with. The minimum age of employment for children has been raised from 12 to 13 and their working hours reduced from 5 to 4½, with powers to Provincial Governments to prescribe even a higher minimum age for employment in hazardous undertakings.

The present Act is very general in character and leaves too much to the rule-making powers of the Provincial Governments. While some of them do have rules of varying stringency, the position on the whole is not quite satisfactory. This defect is sought to be remedied by laying down clearly in the Bill itself the minimum requirements regarding health (cleanliness, ventilation and temperature, dangerous dusts and fumes, lighting and control of glare, etc.), safety (eye-protection, control of explosive and inflammable dusts, etc.), and general welfare of workers (washing facilities, first aid, canteens, shelter rooms, creches, etc.) amplified, where necessary, by rules and regulations to be prescribed by Provincial Governments.

Further the present Act leaves important and complex points to the discretion of Inspectors placing heavy responsibility on them. In view of the specialised and hazardous nature of the processes employed in the factories, it is too much to expect Inspectors to possess an expert knowledge of all these matters. The detailed provisions contained in the Bill will go a long way in lightening their burden.

Some difficulties experienced in the administration of the Act, especially relating to hours of employment, holidays with pay, etc., have been met by making the provisions more definite and clearer. The penalty clauses have also been simplified. An important provision has also been made in the Bill empowering Provincial Governments to require that every factory should be registered and should take a license for working to be renewed at periodical intervals. Provincial Governments are further being empowered to require that before a new factory is constructed or any extensions are made to an existing one, the plans, designs and specifications of the proposed construction should receive their prior approval.

It is expected that the Bill when enacted into law will considerably advance the condition of workers in factories.

The substantial changes made in the existing law are also indicated in the Notes on Clauses. Opportunity has also been taken to rearrange the existing law and to revise expressions where necessary.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

CHAPTER I.—PRELIMINARY.

Clause 2.—Cf. section 2. The age limit in the case of adults and "adolescents" has been raised from 17 to 18 years. The interpretation of the item "machinery" has been widened by bringing in "prime movers" and "transmission machinery" and the interpretation of the term "factory" has been modified so as to cover those establishments which employ ten or more persons every day.

Clause 3.—Cf. section 3.

Clause 4.—Cf. section 7. The only change is in respect of reference to the number of persons employed.

Clause 5.—Cf. section 6.

Clause 6.—Cf. section 8.

Clause 7.—This is a new clause. As designs of most of the factory buildings and layout of machinery have been found unsatisfactory and the building materials used not suited to climatic conditions of the place which made working conditions unusually trying, this clause regarding approval, licensing and registration of factories is considered very necessary.

Clause 8.—Cf. section 9.

CHAPTER II.—THE INSPECTING STAFF.

Clause 9.—Cf. section 10.

Clause 10.—Cf. section 11.

Clause 11.—The existing section 12 has been amplified by laying down the duties of the certifying Surgeons more clearly.

CHAPTER III.—HEALTH.—CHAPTER IV.—SAFETY AND CHAPTER V.—WELFARE

The existing Chapter III relating to "Health and Safety" has been split up into three separate chapters each dealing with Health, Safety and Welfare of Workers. The clauses in these chapters have been redrafted and amplified prescribing minimum standards required.

CHAPTER VI.—WORKING OF ADULTS.

Clause 51.—Cf. section 34. The noticeable change is that the distinction between "seasonal" and "non-seasonal" factories has been removed. Also the words "allowed to work" wherever they occur in the existing Act have been substituted by the word "employed" so as to obviate the plea that when the occupier was absent at the time, he could not have "allowed the worker to work."

Clause 52.—Cf. section 35.

Clause 53.—Cf. section 35A. A time limit has been fixed within which a compensatory holiday must be given.

Clause 54.—Cf. section 36. The proviso has been omitted as it is proposed to do away with the distinction between "seasonal" and "non-seasonal" factories.

Clause 55.—Cf. section 37. As hours of daily work have been reduced to nine, the period of work before rests has been reduced to five and the Provincial Governments have been empowered to prescribe higher limit of rest up to one hour in cases where they consider a longer rest interval necessary. The existing section 37 has been redrafted to provide for this.

Clause 56.—Cf. section 38.

Clause 57.—Cf. section 46. This has been redrafted in order to make it clear that a continuous rest period of twenty-four hours will be counted as a day's holiday.

Clause 58.—Cf. section 49.

Clause 59.—Cf. section 47. In this clause also the distinction between "seasonal" and "non-seasonal" factories has been removed.

Clause 60.—Cf. section [redacted].

Clause 61.—Existing sections 39 and 40 have been combined and redrafted with verbal changes.

Clause 62.—Existing section 41 has been redrafted with verbal changes. It has been made obligatory on the part of the Managers to show the registers to the Inspector at all times during working hours.

Clause 63.—Cf. section 42.

Clause 64.—Cf. section 43. In para. (h) of sub-clause (2) the workers attending to power-plant or transmission machinery have also been included for purposes of exemption.

Clause 65.—Cf. section 44.

Clause 66.—Cf. section 45. The second proviso in sub-section (1) of existing section 45 has been omitted to conform to the deletion of the distinction between "seasonal" and "non-seasonal" factories.

Clause 67.—This is a new clause enabling the Provincial Governments to make rules to supplement Chapter VI.

CHAPTER VII.—EMPLOYMENT OF YOUNG PERSONS.

Clause 68.—Cf. section 50. The minimum age has been raised to thirteen.

Clause 69.—Cf. section 51.

Clause 70.—The existing section 52 has been redrafted and the provisions regarding the examination and re-examination of young persons and grant of certificates of fitness to them tightened. To avoid unnecessary work on the certifying surgeon it has also been provided that he will examine only those young persons who produce a certificate from the Manager that he will be employed in his factory if found fit.

Clause 71.—Cf. section 53.

Clause 72.—As the hours of work of adults have been reduced to nine, the half-time period of a child has also been reduced to 4½ hours. The existing section 54 has been redrafted to provide for this change. A new sub-clause has also been added to prevent overlapping shifts in the case of children.

Clause 73.—Cf. section 55. Sub-section (4) of the existing section has been omitted as it is covered by sub-clause (8) of clause 61.

Clause 74.—Cf. section 56. As in the case of clause 62, it has been made obligatory on the part of the Managers to make available the registers to the Inspector at all times during working hours.

Clause 75.—Cf. section 57.

Clause 76.—Cf. section 58.

Clause 77.—Cf. section 59.

Clause 78.—Cf. section 59C.

CHAPTER VIII.—HOLIDAYS WITH PAY.

Clause 79.—The reference to "Seasonal factory" in the existing section 49A has been omitted and that section has been redrafted to exclude persons working in a manufacturing process which is ordinarily carried on for less than 180 days in a year.

Clause 80.—The existing section 49B has been completely recast and expanded to remove the practical difficulties which were experienced in its working. It provides for the grant of holidays in two spells to cover the needs of workers. It also provides for the grant of proportionate holidays to workers whose services have been terminated but who have completed six months' continuous service. Provision has also been made for condoning unauthorised absence up to 20 days.

Clause 81.—Cf. section 49C.

Clause 82.—Cf. section 49D. Advance payment of half the pay has been limited to holidays for not less than six days.

Clause 83.—Cf. section 49E.

Clause 84.—Cf. section 49F.

Clause 85.—Cf. section 49G. The question whether the factory leave rules are substantially similar to those provided for in the Bill is left to be decided by the Provincial Governments in future.

CHAPTER IX—SPECIAL PROVISIONS.

Clause 86.—This is partly a replacement of the existing sections 59A and 59B. The basic provisions regarding health, safety and welfare have been made applicable to all work places irrespective of the number of workers employed and excludes premises where processes are carried on by the occupier with the aid of his family only.

Clause 87.—The heading of the existing section 33(4) has been changed from "Hazardous operations" to "Dangerous operations" and a new subclause enabling the Provincial Governments to make rules prohibiting, restricting or controlling the use of any specified materials or processes in connection with the dangerous operations has been added.

Clause 88.—Cf. section 30. For the words "forty-eight hours" in the existing section the words "seventy-two hours" have been substituted.

Clause 89.—This is a new clause which has been inserted with a view to control industrial diseases.

Clause 90.—This is a new clause. It empowers the Provincial Governments to require a formal investigation in the case of serious accidents.

Clause 91.—This is a new clause intended to facilitate investigation of cases involving contravention of the safety provisions.

CHAPTER X.—PENALTIES AND PROCEDURE.

Clause 92.—The existing section 60 has been redrafted with a view to make the breach of any section or of any rule or order made under the Act an offence which can be punished with imprisonment or fine or with both.

Clause 93.—This is a new clause defining the liability of the owner of premises in certain circumstances.

Clause 94.—Cf. section 61. The limit of fine has been raised and provision has been made for awarding imprisonment for a period of one year.

Clause 95.—This is a new clause intended to cover offences involving several persons.

Clause 96.—Cf. section 63.

Clause 97.—This is a new clause prescribing penalty for disclosing the results of analysis made under clause 91.

Clause 98. This is a new clause prescribing penalty for offences committed by workers.

Clause 99.—Cf. section 67. Punishment includes imprisonment also.

Clause 100.—Cf. section 68. The words "on guardian" have been omitted from the heading.

Clause 101.—Cf. section 70. The heading has been slightly changed and a new sub-clause (3) added to cover the case of buildings owned by companies, etc.

Clause 102.—The existing section 71 has been recast and the provisions made more definite.

Clause 103.—This is a new clause which empowers the Courts to pass orders on the occupiers or managers of factories to take such measures for remedying the matters in respect of which offence was committed.

Clause 104.—Cf. section 72.

Clause 105.—Cf. section 73.

Clause 106.—Cf. section 74.

Clause 107.—Cf. section 75. In view of the great distances in India and the possible infrequency in the visits of Inspectors, the six months period has been made to date from the time the offence came to the knowledge of the Inspector instead of the date of offence.

CHAPTER XI.—SUPPLEMENTAL.

Clause 108.—Cf. section 31.

Clause 109.—The existing section 76 has been recast and a new sub-clause (3) added which would enable the display of any notice or poster relating to health, safety and welfare of workers in a factory.

For the Bank.—Mr. S. M. Bose, Solicitor.

For the Association.—Mr. J. B. Pal Chaudhury.

Award.

By Government of West Bengal order No. 748-Lab., dated 4th November 1947, the industrial dispute between the Central Bank of India, Ltd., and its employees represented by the Central Bank of India Employees' Association was referred to me for adjudication under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The genesis of the dispute is briefly as follows:—

On 14th August 1946 the Employees' Association at its general meeting passed a resolution that unless the Company conceded the demands of the Association as to improvement of pay and service conditions, the employees would go on strike on the expiry of 14 days from the date of submission of the notice to the Company. The notice was, however, held in abeyance owing to the outbreak of communal riot in Calcutta on 16th August 1946. Thereafter the Employees' Association at a general meeting held on 25th November 1946 gave renewed notice to the Company that unless the demands of the Association were met, the employees would go on strike from 10th December 1946. In the meantime the dispute between the Central Bank of India, Ltd., and its employees of the branches situated in greater Bombay had been referred to a tribunal under the Bombay Industrial Disputes Act, 1938. On receipt of the notice of the strike, dated 25th November 1946, Mr. H. C. Captain, the Managing Director of the Central Bank of India, Ltd., opened negotiations with the Calcutta branches and an agreement was arrived at between the parties on 7th December 1946 by which the management recognised the Central Bank of India Employees' Association of Calcutta and agreed to extend the benefits of the award given by the Bombay Tribunal to the employees of the Calcutta branches of the Bank and the employees, in their turn, agreed to the suspension of the notice of strike until such time as the award of the Bombay Industrial Court was given effect to and agreed also to withdraw the strike notice finally thereafter. The Bombay Tribunal made its award on 8th April 1947 giving certain benefits to the employees. The Managing Director by a circular, dated 1st May 1947, gave effect to the award to the employees of the Calcutta branches also. The employees of the Calcutta branches were not, however, quite satisfied with the benefits obtained and by a resolution passed at a general meeting held on 17th May 1947 the Employees' Association, Calcutta, while accepting the Bombay Industrial Tribunal Award as implemented by the Managing Director by the circular, dated 1st May 1947, directed the executive committee of the association to take further action to realise the demands of the association in full. On 27th September 1947 the employees of the Calcutta branches at a general meeting of the association passed a resolution demanding certain allowances beyond that provided by the award of the Bombay Tribunal. This resolution was placed before the Managing Director, Mr. H. C. Captain, who desired the association to place all its demands before him and refused to consider the demands piecemeal. Thereupon the association framed its charter of demands containing 16 items. This charter was adopted at a meeting of the association held on 28th October 1947. This charter was placed before the Managing Director and as the Managing Director did not accept the demands contained in the charter, the dispute was referred to this tribunal at the intervention of the Hon'ble Labour Minister of the Government of West Bengal. The Employees' Association in its written statement has given the history of the dispute and has annexed the charter of demands at Annexure "C" of the written statement. The association wants that these demands should be given effect to.

The bank in its written statement has relied chiefly on the agreement between the parties, dated 7th December 1946, and has contended that this agreement makes it compulsory for the employees to be satisfied with the award of the Bombay Tribunal so long as that award remains in force and that it debars the Employees' Association from pressing any further demands during that time. The bank has also denied the allegation made by the Employees' Association that the award of the Bombay Tribunal has not been fully and fairly implemented. Regarding the individual demands contained in the charter of demands, the Bank generally has criticised them as unreasonable and against the interests of the employers and employees taken as a whole.

The following issues have accordingly been framed in this case:—

(1) Is this adjudication limited to the dispute between the Central Bank of India, Ltd., and its employees of the branch at 100, Netaji Subhas Road, or does it extend to dispute between the bank and the employees of all its branches in Calcutta or in West Bengal?

(2) In view of the agreement on 7th December 1946 between the Bank and the Central Bank of India Employees' Association, Calcutta, are the employees entitled to make further demands on the points covered by the award of the Bombay Industrial Court, dated 8th April 1947, so long as the award remains in force?

(3) Has the agreement of 7th December 1946 been fully and fairly implemented by the Central Bank of India, Ltd.? If not, to what reliefs are the bank employees entitled?

(4) If the agreement of 7th December 1946 does not bar the present demands, how far are the 16 demands contained in the charter of demands forming part of the written statement of the employees fair and reasonable, and what should be the relief granted in respect of each of the demands; and in particular—

(a) does the case of supervisors or employees doing supervising work come within the scope of this adjudication; and

(b) is the Provident Fund a common fund for employees of the bank all over India and Burma and is it vested in certain trustees under a trust, which is not revocable save with the consent of all the beneficiaries? And, if so, can the employees of a Calcutta branch or all Calcutta branches or all West Bengal branches claim a modification of these rules governing the Provident Fund?

(5) Is the Employees' Association entitled to question transfer of the employees from one branch to another, or the terms of such transfer?

DECISION.

Issue No. 1.

This issue was framed because there was a dispute originally between the parties as to the scope of the adjudication. The Employees' Association contended that the adjudication must cover the dispute as between the Central Bank of India and the employees of all its branches in Calcutta and West Bengal whereas the bank contended that the adjudication was limited to the dispute between the Central Bank of India and its employees of the branch at 100, Netaji Subhas Road. Before the hearing of the case, however, the confusion was cleared up by an amending order of the West Bengal Government No. 920Lab., dated 3rd December 1947. The amendment made it clear that the adjudication was concerned with the dispute between the Central Bank of India, Ltd., and the employees of all the branches of the bank within Calcutta area. There are six branches within Calcutta area, viz., Netaji Subhas Road, Burrabazar, New Market, Shambazar, Bhowanipur and Hatkhola. Accordingly the adjudication is concerned with the dispute between the Central Bank of India and the employees of these six branches of the bank situated within Calcutta area.

Issue No. 2.

The contention of the bank is that in view of the agreement, dated 7th December 1946, between the bank and the Central Bank of India Employees' Association, Calcutta, the employees are not entitled to make further demands on the points covered by the awards of the Bombay Industrial Court so long as that award remains in force. The contention of the Employees' Association, on the other hand, is that for the time being, the Employees' Association agreed to accept the award of the Bombay Industrial Court and that this agreement could not bind the association for all time or debar the association from making further demands. The text of the agreement, dated 7th December 1946, which is admitted is given as Annexure No. 1 of the written statement of the bank. The agreement does not indicate for how long the agreement was to remain in force. The relevant terms of the agreement are that the management would grant to the clerical and subordinate employees of the bank's branches in Calcutta proper the same basic pay grades, dearness allowance and other benefits as was granted to the employees of the Bank in greater Bombay by the Industrial Court at Bombay, and that benefit of the award would be given with retrospective effect from 1st July 1946 and the Employees' Association, on the other hand, agreed to keep the strike notice suspended until such time as the award of the Industrial Court was given effect to and then to withdraw the strike notice. There is nothing to indicate how long the Employees' Association would consider itself bound by that award of the Bombay Industrial Court. The award of the Bombay Industrial Court is Annexure No. 2 of the written statement of the bank. This award does not provide how long the award is to remain in force. Under section 116 of the Bombay Industrial Relations Act, 1947, which has replaced the Bombay Industrial Disputes Act, 1938, "a registered agreement, or a settlement or award shall cease to have effect on the date specified therein, or if no such date is specified therein, on the expiry of the period of two months from the date on which notice in writing to terminate such agreement, settlement or award, as the case may be, is given in the prescribed manner by any of the parties thereto to the other party:

Provided that no such notice shall be given till the expiry of three months after the agreement, settlement or award comes into operation."

In the present case, the award came into force on 8th April 1947, the date on which the award was made and was published by the Registrar of Bombay Industrial Court. Accordingly after 8th July 1947, the employees at Bombay could have given notice to the bank that they would no longer be bound by the award and thereafter from 8th September 1947 the employees at Bombay would have been entitled to make fresh demands. There is no reason, therefore, why the employees in Calcutta should not be entitled to make fresh demands going beyond the award, when more than five months have expired after the date on which the award came into operation. It is true that section 116 of the Bombay Industrial Disputes Act provides for giving notice in a prescribed manner, but the form in which notice has to be given under the Bombay Act, cannot apply to Bengal and it would be sufficient if the employees of Calcutta gave notice of their intention to go beyond the award. This was clearly done by the resolution at the general meeting of the association at Calcutta held on 27th September 1947 which was duly communicated to the Managing Director. That resolution may be held to amount to the notice to the other party that the employees desired to go beyond the award and did not consider themselves bound by the award. Accordingly I must hold that in spite of the agreement between the parties on 7th December 1946, the employees are entitled to make further demands even on the points covered by the award of the Bombay Industrial Court, dated 8th April 1947, even though in Bombay the award may still remain in force and the employees at Bombay may not have given notice that they would no longer be bound by the award.

It is to be observed that the award of the Bombay Industrial Court cannot directly bind the employees at Calcutta. It became applicable to them only in so far as it was given effect to by the Managing Director in pursuance of the agreement between the parties. Accordingly the agreement contained in Annexure 1 is the primary factor to be considered in this respect. Section 19(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act provides that an agreement arrived at in the course of a conciliation proceeding shall be binding for a period of 6 months and thereafter until the expiry of two months from the date on which a notice in writting of an intention to terminate the settlement is given by one of the parties to the other party. In this case no form is prescribed. The resolution of 27th September 1947 which was communicated to the Managing Director, can therefore be considered to be the required notice on the other party terminating the agreement of 7th December 1946. Thus I hold that the employees are entitled to make further demands.

Issue No. 3.

Next there is the point whether the agreement of 7th December 1946 has been fully and fairly implemented by the Central Bank of India, Ltd., and, if not, to what reliefs are the employees entitled? Since I have held that the Employees' Association is not debarred from making further demands, the 16 demands contained in the charter of demands will have to be individually considered and the question of implementation of the agreement of 7th December 1946, is, therefore, only relevant for the period intervening before the new award which may be made by this tribunal is brought into force by the Government, under section 19(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. In paragraph 14 of its written statement the Employees' Association has specified 5 instances to show that the bank has not fully and fairly implemented the award of the Bombay Industrial Court. Clause (a) relates to the question of fitting the existing staff into the new scales introduced by the award. The award prescribed the new cadre for the clerical staff as well as for the subordinate staff, but left the question of adjustment of the existing salaries with the new grades to the bank authorities, observing that the adjustment should be made in a manner which may give a fair rise to as many employees as possible, particularly old ones, consistent with their standing and efficiency. The Industrial Court further observed that if the adjustment made by the bank is not generally acceptable to the employees, the aggrieved parties may apply to the Court for its modification. The adjustment effected by the Central Bank of India is described in its Circular of 1st May 1947 which has been produced before this tribunal by the Managing Director. The then existing scales for the clerical grade were as follows:—

Grade C—Rs. 35—5—65.
Grade B—Rs. 65—7—100.
Grade A—Rs. 100—10—150.

Grade D—Rs. 65—5—85—7½—130.
Grade C—Rs. 137-8 as.—7½—160—10—190.
Grade B—Rs. 200—10—230.
Grade A—Rs. 245—15—275.

The Central Bank of India made a scheme of adjustment by adding a certain sum to the existing pay according to the date of joining, the scheme of adjustment being as follows:—

Date of joining.	Amount to be added to salary.
	Rs.
(1) 1st July 1943 to 30th June 1945 ...	15
(2) 1st July 1940 to 30th June 1943 ...	16

At the lower scale a higher amount was to be added in order to bring the salary to the minimum of Rs. 65 in the case of non-graduates and Rs. 75 in the case of graduates as provided by the award. The Employees' Association has made the criticism that by this scheme of adjustment employees with different lengths of service have been lumped together. The new scale has been given effect to from 1st July 1946. Thus an employee who joined even on 30th June 1946 would be getting Rs. 65, while an employee who joined on 1st July 1943, i.e., about 3 years previously would be drawing Rs. 50 on 1st July 1946 and if given an increment of Rs. 15 only, it would amount to Rs. 65 only. Thus he would not get any recognition for the three years put in up to 1st July 1946. It cannot be denied that there is some force in this contention. The Employees' Association wants what is called a point-to-point adjustment, i.e., it wants that the pay of every employee should be calculated as if the new scale of pay introduced by the Bombay award was in force from the very beginning, but the Bombay Industrial Court rejected that contention and the report of the Central Pay

Commission says in clear terms that the claim for point-to-point adjustment cannot be countenanced. In revising the pay of the employees, revision is more needed at the lower end than at the upper end in order to provide a living wage to the employees. It is also necessary, in my opinion, that an employee should have the benefit of his number of years' service, particularly at the lower end. For the recent entrant to the service the bank had to grant an increment of Rs. 30 to bring it to the minimum fixed by the tribunal. I would therefore hold it equitable that no increment should be less than Rs. 30. At the upper end, say for people who have put in more than 25 years of service, the benefit of an additional increment or two might be granted to provide for the fact that the older employees would not continue in service long enough to get the full benefit of the new liberal scale of pay introduced. I am informed, however, by the Managing Director that the question of adjustment of pay has already been referred to the Bombay Industrial Court by the employees at Bombay and the Managing Director has undertaken to give the benefit of the award which the Bombay Industrial Court may make in this connection to the employees in Calcutta. For the period intervening between 1st July 1946 and the date on which the award of this tribunal shall be brought into force, I consider it equitable that the employees of the Calcutta branches in view of their agreement should obtain the same benefits as the employees of the Bombay branches and therefore while I agree with the Employees' Association that the scheme of adjustment made by the Central Bank of India to fit in the employees in the new scales of pay, is not an equitable scheme, I accept the undertaking given by the Managing Director that he will give the Calcutta employees the same benefit as the Bombay employees will get by their reference of the question of adjustment of pay to the Bombay Industrial Court. I must repeat, however, that this adjustment which may be made by the Bombay Industrial Court will have effect for the period between 1st July 1946 and the date on which the award of this tribunal may be brought into force.

(b) The Employees' Association contends that though the award of the Bombay Industrial Court provided that all existing rights, privileges, advantages, amenities and/or such other conditions of service that are already being enjoyed by employees or group of employees as are not covered or varied by this award shall remain unaffected by this award, the Managing Director in giving effect to the award of the Industrial Court relating to dearness allowance withdrew the scarcity allowance which was being previously enjoyed by the employees in Calcutta. It appears, however, that before the award of the Bombay Industrial Tribunal, the employees at Calcutta were getting a dearness allowance of Rs. 20 and a scarcity allowance of Rs. 8 per month for employees drawing Rs. 100 and under, whereas at that time the dearness allowance of the employees of the same grade in other provinces was Rs. 30 per month. The Industrial Court by its award fixed the dearness allowance at 25 per cent. of the salary subject to a minimum of Rs. 30 and a maximum of Rs. 50, with retrospective effect from 1st July 1946. The award of the Industrial Tribunal does not refer to scarcity allowance at all and on this basis the employees of the Calcutta branches contend that they are entitled to the scarcity allowance of Rs. 8 in addition to dearness allowance introduced by the award. But I must regard the scarcity allowance as part of the dearness allowance. The Managing Director has explained that at one stage dearness allowance for the particular grade of employees was Rs. 20 per month all over India, but an additional allowance of Rs. 8 per month was given to the employees in Bengal in the shape of scarcity allowance on account of the famine conditions in 1943; the distinction was made instead of adding to the dearness allowance so that the employees outside Bengal might not claim the additional dearness allowance. Subsequently, however, dearness allowance at every station outside Bengal was increased to Rs. 30. In the circumstances there is no doubt that the scarcity allowance, which was enjoyed by the employees of the Calcutta branches, was a part of the dearness allowance. So the employees of Calcutta cannot claim scarcity allowance in addition to Rs. 30 as dearness allowance.

(c) The next point raised by the employees is that the Bank authorities failed to give the employees emergency allowance on the basis of 10 per cent. of the increased pay for the 10 months between July 1946 and April 1947. The management has explained that an emergency allowance of 10 per cent. of the pay was allowed to the employees of the Calcutta branches at the time of the threatened invasion by the Japanese in 1942. This emergency allowance was not a subject-matter of the case before the Industrial Court at Bombay. The management agreed to give 10 per cent. of the existing salary as emergency allowance and therefore there is no obligation on the management at all to give the emergency allowance on the basis of 10 per cent. of the increased salary with retrospective effect. I therefore hold that there is no substance in the contention of the Employees' Association.

(d) The next point urged that under the award the scale for jamadars and havildars was fixed at Rs. 65—3—80, but the bank authorities have not given effect to this portion of the award at the Calcutta branches other than Netaji Subhas Road and Burrabazar branches. The explanation given by the management is that though there are employees called jamadars and havildars at the New Market, Shambazar, Bhowanipur and Hatkhola branches, they are under the jamadars at 100, Netaji Subhas Road branch and that accordingly the bank was right in regarding these employees as not belonging to the rank of jamadars and havildars for whom the scale of Rs. 65—3—80 was fixed by the Industrial Court. The Management has regarded these jamadars and havildars as belonging to the cadre of peons for whom the scale provided is Rs. 30—2—50—1—65. At the hearing, however, the management has agreed that the employees named as jamadars and havildars in the other four Calcutta branches also will be given the benefit of pay of the jamadars' scale as fixed by the award of the Industrial Court. Accordingly on this point I hold that the management, as undertaken by it, should pay the jamadars and havildars at New Market, Shambazar, Bhowanipur and Hatkhola branches at the rate prescribed by the award of the Industrial Court.

(e) It is lastly urged that the authorities ignore the provision of the award by which the salary of a graduate employee was to be Rs. 10 higher than the salary of the non-graduate employee. The award shows that while the scale for the clerical posts was fixed from Rs. 65, the graduates would start from Rs. 75, i.e., they would be given Rs. 10 more at the beginning but not at the end. In making the adjustment by the circular of 1st May 1947, the Managing Director provided that the minimum salary of a graduate clerk would be Rs. 75. But the employees contend that as in the case of a non-graduate employee a graduate employee who had put in three years' service on 1st July 1946 would also get Rs. 75, the amount to be drawn by a graduate employee just taken into service. But this question also is a question of adjustment which was examined under clause (a). As in clause (a) I direct that for the period between 1st July 1946 and the date on which the award of this tribunal is brought into force the adjustment that may be effected by the Bombay Industrial Court should be given effect to the Calcutta employees.

Issue No. 4.

'Next I come to the charter of demands which is the basis of the present industrial dispute. The question is whether each of these demands is fair and reasonable and what should be the relief granted in respect to each of the demands.

(1) and (2) Scales of pay and dearness allowance.—The demand of the Employees' Association is as follows:—

Clerks—Rs. 75—7—110—10—160—13—225—15—300.

Stenographers—As above plus Rs. 30 at the starting.

Typists—As above plus Rs. 10 at the starting.

Graduates—To start with Rs. 10 more.

Supervisors—Rs. 145—20—225—25—300—30—450.

Drivers and branch jamadars—Rs. 75—3—90—4—110—5—125.

Liftmen, sepoys and night guards—Rs. 45—3—75—4—115.

Bearers, durwans and duftries—Rs. 40—3—100.

Sweepers—Rs. 35—3—80.

The employees demand that there should be no efficiency bar at any stage and point-to-point adjustment should be made.

They want dearness allowance at the following scale:—

60 per cent. on the 1st Rs. 100 of salary,
30 per cent. on the 2nd Rs. 100 of salary,
15 per cent. on the 3rd Rs. 100 of salary, subject to a minimum of Rs. 50 for clerks and Rs. 37 for subordinate staff.

These demands were also pressed before the Bombay Industrial Court and the Industrial Court after a very careful consideration and after ascertaining the views of a number of big banks fixed the scale at Rs. 65 to Rs. 275 with efficiency bars at three stages. The scales fixed by the Bombay Industrial Court is substantially fair, particularly as to basic pay. The scale of dearness allowance allowed by the Bombay Industrial Court is somewhat lower than that prescribed in the report of the Central Pay Commission and the Bombay Industrial Court negatived the claim for house rent in addition to pay, though such claim is admitted in the report of the Central Pay Commission. As to basic pay the recommendation of the Central Pay Commission is that the minimum for the clerical grade should be Rs. 55 and in paragraph 84 of the Central Pay Commission's report provision was made for extra allowance for costly cities like Bombay and Calcutta. This local allowance for costly cities is Rs. 10 for pay exceeding Rs. 60 but not exceeding Rs. 80. Justice Divatia who adjudicated the dispute between the banks and their employees at Bombay was dealing with the case in greater Bombay. Thus he fixed the minimum basic pay by adding this Bombay or Calcutta allowance of Rs. 10 to the minimum basic pay of Rs. 55 and thus arrived at the minimum of Rs. 65. In fixing the upper limit of the clerical grade, he, however, went much further than many of the grades recommended by the Pay Commission for the employees of Class III. The Pay Commission recommended the scale from Rs. 55 to Rs. 130 for lower grade clerks and from Rs. 80 to Rs. 220 for upper division clerks and increased scales for certain special clerical cadres. Justice Divatia fixed the maximum of the clerical grade at Rs. 275, thus going beyond the recommendation of the Central Pay Commission. This was done with the consent of the several of the representatives of big Banks appearing before Bombay Industrial Court. I consider this scale sufficiently liberal and I see no reason to go beyond it.

As to dearness allowance, however, Justice Divatia's recommendation falls below the recommendation of the Central Pay Commission and this is likely to cause hardship particularly at the lower end of the cadre. Justice Divatia's recommendation for the clerical grade is 25 per cent. of the pay subject to a minimum of Rs. 30 and a maximum of Rs. 50 and for the subordinate cadres a uniform dearness allowance of Rs. 25 with the exception of office boys and sweepers. For the inferior grade, i.e., employees of Class IV, the Pay Commission also recommended uniform dearness allowance of Rs. 25 per month assuming that the cost of living index was 260 but for employees of other grades drawing above Rs. 50, the Pay Commission recommended a minimum of—

Rs. 35 for the scale from Rs. 51 to 100,
Rs. 40 for the scale from Rs. 101 to 150,
Rs. 45 for the scale from Rs. 151 to 200,
Rs. 50 for the scale from Rs. 201 to 250,
Rs. 60 for the scale from Rs. 251 to 300.

Accordingly I am of opinion that the minimum dearness allowance should be increased to Rs. 35 for the clerical grade. Subject to this modification, the dearness allowance prescribed by Justice Divatia as Presiding Officer of the Bombay Industrial Court is adopted, i.e., dearness allowance for the clerical grade will be 25 per cent. of the pay with a minimum of Rs. 35 and maximum of Rs. 50.

As to stenographers Justice Divatia provided that they would also come within the category of clerks, but he observed that according to qualifications a stenographer might be employed on any of the intermediate pay scales, i.e., he might be given the benefit of several increments at the start. I do not consider this system as satisfactory. It is better to prescribe what extra pay they should have at the start. Mr. R. Gupta in his award in the dispute between the Imperial Bank of India and its employees provided that stenographers would have an allowance of Rs. 20. The demand of the Employees' Association is that the stenographers should have an extra pay of Rs. 30 at the start. I would consider an extra pay of Rs. 20 as sufficient for the stenographers. As regards typists, I do not consider it necessary to provide for any extra pay at the start. As regards graduates I would accept the award of the Bombay Industrial Court that they would start with Rs. 10 extra at the beginning. This does not mean that they would have also Rs. 10 more at the end. Regarding jamadars I adopt the award of the Bombay Industrial Court, viz., Rs. 65—3—80 as fair and reasonable. Drivers will have the same pay as the jamadars. Liftmen, sepoys and night-guards come within the category of peons. These employees as well as bearers, durwans, dufteries and sweepers will have the same pay as given by the Bombay Industrial Tribunal and accepted by the bank. As to supervisors there is a contention raised by the Managing Director that they do not come within the scope of an industrial dispute under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, for they are in the category of officers and do not belong to the category of manual or clerical workers. Mr. Justice Divatia in his award, dated 8th April 1947, observed also that he could not deal with the supervisors as their case does not fall within the scope of Bombay Industrial Disputes Act. In this case we are concerned with the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, which is an Indian Act. The term "workman" means any person employed in any industry to do any skilled or unskilled manual or clerical work for hire or reward, etc. Accordingly any one doing more than merely clerical work does not come within the definition of workman as defined in section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act. It has, therefore, been contended that the case of a supervisor, who is not a mere clerk but who has authority to pass cheques and who is classed as an officer by the bank, cannot be considered by this tribunal. On behalf of the Association it has been urged that an industrial dispute as defined in section 2(k) includes any dispute or difference between the employers and workmen concerning the terms of employment of "any person" and that it is not necessary that the dispute should be concerned with the terms of employment of a "workman" only. It has, therefore, been urged that the terms of employment of officers employed by the Bank can also form the subject-matter of an industrial dispute within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The Bombay Act does not include a dispute concerning the terms of employment of "any person" within the definition of Industrial Dispute. Accordingly it may rightly be held that a case governed by the Bombay Industrial Disputes Act or Bombay Industrial Relations Act is different from a case under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. It would appear, therefore, that there may be a legitimate industrial dispute under the Industrial Dispute Act concerning the terms of employment of an officer and a decision on such a point can also be given. Normally of course the workmen are not concerned with the terms of employment of the officers. The case of supervisors is however different. Supervisors are comparatively low paid officers and they have become members of the Employees' Association which is registered under the Trade Union Act. Mr. Justice Divatia, though he held that he could not deal with the case of supervisors, observed that the bank should not fix the minimum pay of any officer lower than that minimum pay for the clerks. The present scale of supervisors' pay in the Central Bank of India is Rs. 70—10—100 (E.B.)—15—145 (E.B.)—20—225. Beyond that there are other grades of officers with pay rising up to Rs. 1,000 and over. It may be observed, however, that the minimum pay of Rs. 70 is actually lower than the minimum pay recommended for a graduate clerk which is Rs. 75. Accordingly this minimum pay must be considered inequitable. It should be raised to at least Rs. 85 which is the minimum pay prescribed by this tribunal for a stenographer. I would, therefore, consider it proper that the supervisors' grade should be fixed at Rs. 85—15—145 (E.B.)—20—225 (E.B.)—25—300. Beyond that the existing grades of officers' pay will remain and we are not concerned with them. A supervisor who proves efficient may obtain promotion beyond the scale of Rs. 300.

As to the demand of the Employees' Association that there should be no efficiency bar, the Central Pay Commission turned down that demand as unreasonable. It is necessary that the employers should have some means short of dismissal to check inefficient employees from rising to the maximum of the scales recommended for the clerical grade or the supervisors' grade or of other grades. For keeping up efficiency of the staff it has always been considered necessary to keep some efficiency bars at some stages and the demand for withdrawal of efficiency bars all through cannot be accepted.

Next there is the question of adjustment of the new scales. This concerns the question of implementation of the award of the Bombay Industrial Court for the basic scale of pay fixed by the award of the Bombay Industrial Court which is being accepted by this tribunal except for minor modifications. I have already indicated that I do not consider the adjustment made by the bank authorities as a fair adjustment. The following method of adjustment would, in my opinion, be a fair method and should be adopted from the 1st January 1948 or any other date on which this award should be made effective by the Government of West Bengal:—

(i) For employees who had not put in 25 years' service on 1st July 1946, the uniform increment of Rs. 30 per month over the pay drawn before the Bombay award came into force and where the resultant pay is not identical with a stage of the new scale, the next stage in the new scale.

(ii) For employees who had completed 25 years' service on 1st July 1946, but had not completed 30 years' service, an increment of Rs. 30 over the pay drawn before the Bombay Tribunal award was implemented and where the resultant figure is not equal to a stage in the new scale, the next stage in the new scale plus one increment.

(iii) For employees who had put in 30 years' service on 1st July 1946, an increment of Rs. 30 and where the resultant figure does not equal a stage in the new scale, the next stage in the new scale plus two increments. The further increment as between 1st July 1946 and 1st January 1948 on the resultant pay must be added in all cases. This readjustment will be made for the clerical cadre, for the inferior cadre no such readjustment is considered necessary.

(3) House rent allowance.—The Employees' Association has claimed that all members should get 10 per cent. of the salary as house rent allowance with a minimum of Rs. 20 and that free accommodation should be given to the subordinate staff. Under this head the Employees' Association has also claimed a children allowance at the rate of Rs. 10 per child subject to a maximum of Rs. 30, and free tiffin. As to house rent, the Bombay Industrial Court has held that the increase in pay and dearness allowance are sufficient and no further allowance in the way of house rent is necessary, but the Central Pay Commission has recommended that for cities an additional allowance ought to be paid for house rent. In paragraph 78 of the report, it has recommended that in Bombay and Calcutta an employee drawing below Rs. 55 should be given Rs. 10 per month; an employee drawing Rs. 55 to 100, Rs. 15; an employee drawing Rs. 101 to Rs. 150, Rs. 20 and over Rs. 250, 10 per cent. of the pay as house rent per month. In view of the cost of living and the high house rent prevailing in the cities, particularly in Calcutta, I consider it necessary to allow this house rent allowance as recommended by the Central Pay Commission to the employees of the clerical grade. As regards employees of the inferior or subordinate grade, I agree with the observation of the Bombay Industrial Court that the increase of pay and dearness allowance allowed to them is sufficient to cover house rent. Further in many cases the subordinate employees do not have separate houses of their own. On behalf of the bank it is urged that in Calcutta an emergency allowance of 10 per cent. of the pay is still being given and that this is sufficient to cover the house rent. But the emergency allowance may be withdrawn at the discretion of the management; moreover at the lower end of the cadre 10 per cent. is not sufficient to cover house rent. Accordingly I hold that in place of emergency allowance of 10 per cent. a house rent allowance should be given in the scale mentioned below; a slight variation is made from the recommendation of the Central Pay Commission to provide against the house rent allowance being less than the emergency allowance now received:—

Where pay does not exceed Rs. 100—Rs. 15.

Where pay exceeds Rs. 100 but not Rs. 200—Rs. 20.

Where pay exceeds Rs. 200—10 per cent. of the pay.

This applies to clerical cadre only.

As to children allowance, although the Central Pay Commission raised the question, the Commission did not come to any final decision on the point. At a stage when an employee is expected to have three children, he will have drawn more than three increments and the increased pay will be sufficient to cover the additional expenses for the three children. I therefore do not consider it necessary that a separate children allowance should be given. Similarly I consider the demand for free tiffin as unreasonable. The bank employees in addition to the fairly liberal scale of pay and dearness allowance prescribed, get a regular bonus every year. The Managing Director says that in recent years the bonus has not been less than three months' basic pay. The Managing Director was seeking to maintain that it is for this reason that the bank would like to pay less dearness allowance than that prescribed by the Central Pay Commission. I do not think that the fact that a bonus is regularly paid should be taken into consideration for reducing the dearness allowance when the case of living index has not gone down since the publication of the report of the Central Pay Commission, but the regular payment of the bonus can be taken into consideration when demand is made for additional allowances like children allowance and free tiffin which I reject.

(4) Gratuity.—The Employees' Association claim that the employees should get one month's pay as gratuity for every year of service after a period of ten years, whether the employee resigns or is discharged. The Bombay Industrial Court after a careful consideration of the question framed certain rules as to gratuity. Under these rules, (i) on death of an employee while in the service of the bank, one month's salary for each year of service subject to a maximum of 15 months' salary is to paid to his heirs or executors or nominees; (ii) on voluntary retirement or resignation of an employee after 15 years' continuous service in the bank, the employee would get gratuity equal to 15 months' salary; and (iii) on his termination of the service by the bank: after 10 years' continuous service but less than 15 years' service, the employee would be entitled to get ½ths of one month's salary for each year of service, and after 15 years' continuous service, 15 months' salary. The rules provided also that a gratuity will not be paid for being dismissed for dishonesty or misconduct. These rules have been accepted by the bank and I must consider the rules fair and I see no reason for interfering with them.

(5) Provident Fund.—Under this head the Employees' Association claims that 50 per cent. of the bank's contribution with interest thereon shall be payable to an employee on completion of two years' service and that the whole of the bank's contribution should be payable to an employee on completion of 5 years' service. The existing rules of the Provident Fund of the Central Bank of India provide that if an employee ceases of his own accord to serve the bank before the completion of 15 years' service with the bank, he shall not be entitled to any portion of the bank's contribution to the Provident Fund, but if any employee is compelled to retire from service before completion of 15 years' service owing to causes beyond his control or if any member should resign with the permission of the Board of Directors before completing 15 years' service, the Board of Directors may authorise payment to such member of the bank's contribution. The Employees' Association seeks modification of these rules. But the Employees' Provident Fund is a trust fund created to comply with the provisions of sections 58A to 58M of the Income Tax Act. Section 58C (1) (e) provides that the fund shall be vested on two or more trustees under a trust which shall not be revocable save with the consent of all the beneficiaries. The Board of Directors of the Central Bank of India has created a body of trustees consisting of three Directors and two employees and the Provident Fund is vested in this body of trustees by a deed executed on behalf of the Board of Trustees and filed with the Commissioner of Income Tax, Bombay. The contention of the management is that the rules of the Provident Fund cannot be altered by the Tribunal and that the tribunal can only recommend to the Trustees that there should be certain alterations in the rules. This contention was accepted by Mr. Justice Divatia and I must also agree that the Tribunal is not legally empowered to give a binding award in respect of the Provident Fund Rules. Accordingly the demand of the Employees' Association as to Provident Fund cannot be accepted.

(6) Free medical aid including cost of medicine.—Justice Divatia directed that all the big banks should have medical officers who can be consulted without fees and it will not be binding on the banks to supply medicine free of charge. On the basis of this recommendation, the Central Bank of India has appointed a medical officer in Calcutta and he is available for consultation. The Bombay Industrial Court did not consider it expedient for the big banks to supply medicine free of cost and I think that the demand is unreasonable. As to free medical aid the Employees' Association contends that for a big place like Calcutta with 6 branches, situated at 6 different places, the services of one medical officer are not enough and there should be more medical officers maintained by the bank. I do not however consider it reasonable to ask the bank to maintain more than one medical officer in Calcutta. Accordingly the demand under this head in so far as it goes beyond the award of the Bombay Industrial Court, is rejected. When the medical officer of the bank visits a sick employee of his house however, no conveyance allowance should also be charged. The bank should pay consolidated conveyance allowance to its medical officer for this purpose.

(7) Bonus.—The association demands that 25 per cent. of the net profit should be given as bonus proportionate to the salary of each employee. There is however a legal difficulty in the way of making a direction that a definite percentage should be given as bonus. This matter was referred to the Bombay Tribunal also which refers to section 277HH of the Indian Companies Act. The Central Bank of India has been making handsome profit, but the bank has been giving sufficient bonus to the employees. I am informed by the Managing Director that in 1946, 4½ months' basic pay has been given as bonus and in 1947, 3½ months' pay has been given as bonus. I consider the policy of the bank as to distribution of the bonus sufficiently liberal and I do not therefore consider it necessary to give any additional relief to the Employees' Association under this head.

(8) Before the bank's work begins every morning, the ledgers have to be checked and for such checking one man calls out entries and another employee checks the register. This entails some work outside the regular office hours and for this the employees want some additional remuneration. In the charter of demands claim is made for an allowance of Rs. 15 for the checker and Rs. 10 for the caller per month. The Managing Director agrees to the principle that some additional allowance should be granted to the employees to do the extra work, but he says that he will enquire into the amount of work involved and fix the remuneration. The Employees' Association urges that the allowance should be fixed by this Tribunal. In the letter addressed to the Agent of the Central Bank at 100, Clive Street (Netaji Subhas Road), dated 19th June 1947, the Secretary of the Association demanded Rs. 10 and Rs. 5, respectively, for the morning checkers and callers. In the charter of demands these amounts have been increased to Rs. 15 and Rs. 10, respectively. I consider it fair that the allowance originally demanded, viz., Rs. 10 and Rs. 5 per month for the morning callers and checkers should be paid.

(9) It is next demanded that Pass Book Writers should be given an allowance of Rs. 15 per month. In the letter, dated 19th June 1947, to the Agent of the Central Bank of India at 100, Clive Street, there is no such demand for Pass Book writing. The Managing Director informs the Tribunal that an allowance of Rs. 5 per month has already been sanctioned for Pass Book Writers. The writing of Pass Books is part of the normal routine work of the bank employees and does not generally involve overtime work. Accordingly an allowance of Rs. 5 per month is considered sufficient for the purpose.

(10) Working hours.—The Employees' Association demands that working hours should be fixed at 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. with one hour's recess for rest and lunch on week days and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. with ½ hour's recess for rest on Saturdays. The question of working hours was raised before the Bombay Industrial Court, but the question was not decided by the Industrial Court which referred to the Bombay Shops and Establishments Act. The provisions of that Act do not of course apply to Calcutta and in the corresponding Calcutta Act there is no provision as to banks. Accordingly the question of working hours has to be decided from general considerations. The Central Pay Commission considered the question of working hours. In paragraph 96 the Central Pay Commission recommends that the total working hours in office should be fixed at 38½ hours a week so as to provide for 6½ hours of actual work on each week day after allowing half-an-hour for lunch and 3½ hours of work on Saturdays. The Pay Commission also observed that if it is desired that the lunch interval should be increased to three quarters of an hour, the total number of hours of attendance at office will have to be correspondingly increased. Thus if on week days the office hours are fixed from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. the lunch period should be fixed at ½ hour. The Central Bank Employees' Association demands that they should get recess for one hour. This would provide for only 6 hours of actual work on week days which would be less than that recommended by the Central Pay Commission. The Unions of employees and workmen while rightly pressing for better wages cannot reasonably press for less work. On the other hand, with the increase in remuneration it is expected that the employee must be prepared to put in a better quota of work. The Employees' Association has urged that working conditions cannot be made worse than they are at present, and that at present working hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. with one hour's break for lunch and rest. In this connection the Employees' Association has referred to a letter addressed by the Managing Director to the Agents of the Central Bank of India branches. This letter is Circular No. 45 of 1942. The relevant portion of the letter runs as follows:—"It has been brought to our notice that members of the staff, specially officers at certain branches, remain absent from office for nearly 2 hours for their lunch out of 7 or 8 hours of their expected attendance. The Agents are therefore instructed to see that the time taken by their staff, both clerks and officers, does not exceed an hour in any case." In my opinion the Employees' Association cannot rely on this letter for saying that the working hours should be from 10 to 5 and that out of this period of 7 hours there will be one hour as lunch interval. The circular in question was issued primarily to check irregularities of certain officers. Therein the hours of attendance were vaguely given as 7 or 8 hours. The hours of attendance were not precisely fixed by that circular. Moreover the circular does not say that an hour's recess should be granted in all cases. The circular may be interpreted to mean that in special cases the recess interval may be extended to one hour. The Managing Director and the Agent at 100, Netaji Road, say that normally the recess period for the employees is ½ hour and they are expected to put in 6½ hours' work, which is in accordance with the recommendation of the Central Pay Commission, and I must accept it as fair and reasonable. The employees usually take their rice meal before attending office at 10 a.m. and do not take a substantial lunch during the recess hour. For light retreshment and relaxation, ½ hour's break is sufficient and the employees cannot reasonably demand as much as one hour as lunch interval. I agree with the recommendation of the Central Pay Commission that if more than half-an-hour's lunch interval is desired, the total hours of attending office will have to be correspondingly increased. In the British Isles where the lunch hour is one hour, viz., from 1 to 2 p.m., the office sits at 9 o'clock and the actual office hours are from 9 to 1 and 2 to 4-30, i.e., 6½ hours as recommended by the Central Pay Commission. These hours will not suit the conditions in India where the employees take their rice meal before attending office and not during recess period. Accordingly I hold that the office hours should be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. with ½ hour's recess for rest and refreshment on week days and from 10 to 2 on Saturdays.

(11) Overtime.—The Employees' Association has claimed that for overtime work double the basic salary must be given. The bank's contention in this connection is that work in the bank is so apportioned that if the employees work diligently, the work will be finished within the regular office hours and that the grant of overtime allowance might encourage the employees to be slack during the regular office hours. This risk was also pointed out by the Central Pay Commission in paragraph 98 of its report. The Central Pay Commission did not, therefore, recommend regular payment for overtime work to the clerical staff but instructed the head of the office to see that not more work was to be given to the clerical staff than could reasonably be finished within the working hours. Mr. Gupta in his award on the Imperial Bank of India has taken the same view. He also prescribed that the working hours should be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. with ½ hour's recess and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturdays and he has not recommended any extra wages for overtime work, but requested that the bank should where necessary increase the staff to cope with the work. He has however directed that for working on public holidays other than the two days which are declared as holidays on account of half-yearly and yearly closing of bank's accounts, every employee should be paid double wages. I adopt the same principle in respect of the demand for overtime payment. I hold that normally there should be no payment for overtime work, but the bank authorities should so apportion work that no employee should be given more than a fair day's work but on holidays other than the two holidays for closing of bank's accounts, the employees should receive overtime wages at the rate of double the basic wage.

(12) Service Rules.—The Employees' Association has demanded certain changes in the Service Rules:—

(a) It is claimed that no amendment in the service rules should be made adversely affecting the interest, rights and privileges of the employees. I do not think that the employees can ask for such a guarantee, but if such a rule is actually made, the association can bring up the matter.

(b) It is urged that before taking any disciplinary action a charge sheet should be framed and furnished to the employee and that an enquiry should be made by a committee consisting of equal number of representatives from the sides of the employers and the Employees' Association. It is no doubt desirable that before taking any disciplinary action an employee should be given a chance to answer the charge. But the claim that the enquiry should be made by a committee consisting of both employers and employees is unreasonable and if given effect to it will tend to undermine discipline in the office. The Central Pay Commission considered this demand and turned it down.

Accordingly I reject this demand, but only recommend that the authorities before taking any disciplinary action should give a reasonable chance to the employee to explain the charge.

(c) The next demand is that godown clerks and durwans should be made permanent after completion of 24 months' service. The management accepts this demand and it should therefore be given effect to.

(d) The association claims that the probationary period for an employee should not exceed three months and there should be no unpaid apprentices. The bank's reply is that it is agreeable to fix probationary period at 6 months but it cannot accept the demand for not taking in unpaid apprentices. It is submitted by the Managing Director that people frequently seek the privilege of working as apprentices in the bank for acquiring experience in the running of a bank and for certain examinations a certificate that candidate has worked for a prescribed period in a bank is necessary. There is no reason, therefore, to interfere with the system of having unpaid apprentices from time to time. As to probationary period for an employee, I hold that it should be fixed at 6 months.

(e) The next demand is that retrenchment of godown-keepers when necessary should be of the juniormost man. In this connection the bank's reply is that the interest of the bank must receive first consideration and the bank must reserve the right to discharge an inefficient godown-keeper even if he is senior. I do not find any reason to interfere with the discretion of the bank in this respect.

(13) The association demands that promotions and special increments should be effected in consultation with the Employees' Association. This demand cannot be accepted for the management must have full discretion in the matter to encourage merit and to maintain order and discipline in the office.

(14) The association demands equal pay for equal work. The association contends that people who have been imported to Calcutta from Bombay and other upcountry branches are given preferential terms as to pay and allowance. I shall deal with this question when dealing with the next issue relating to transfer and terms of transfer. Apart from the question of the terms of transfer, this demand has no meaning.

(15) In the matter of sick leave, the association demands that there should be one month's sick leave for one year's service with full pay and a further period of 6 months on half pay should be granted. The Bombay Industrial Court fixed earned leave or privilege leave for one month in a year with full pay and provided that such leave can be accumulated up to a total of three months. The Industrial Court also provided for sick leave at one month for each year's service subject to a maximum of 12 months during the whole service and provided that the sick leave would be on half pay. Mr. Gupta in his award relating to the Imperial Bank, while accepting the other leave conditions of the Bombay Industrial Court provided that sick leave should be on full pay. The association wants that sick leave should be on full pay and there should be no restriction of a maximum of 12 months during the whole period of service, though the award in respect of the Imperial Bank of India also imposes that limitation to a maximum of 12 months during the whole period of service. The Central Pay Commission provides for earned half-pay leave which may be commuted into full pay leave on medical certificate and I think that it would be better to adopt the half-pay leave rules as recommended by the Central Pay Commission, in place of the sick leave rules as prescribed by the Bombay Industrial Court or by Mr. Gupta in connection with the Imperial Bank. Accordingly instead of the present sick leave rules the following leave rules should be substituted:—

An employee other than one of Class IV or the interior cadre will be entitled to half pay leave at 1/16th of duty throughout his service and an employee of Class IV to half pay leave at 1/22nd of duty for the first 20 years of service and at 1/16th thereafter, and when leave is granted on a medical certificate an employee shall be entitled to commute the half pay leave into full pay leave for one half of that period subject to this limit, viz., that for the whole period of a man's service the full pay leave on medical certificate shall not exceed six months and on production of medical certificate he may be granted leave not due, but this shall be only on half pay and subject to a limit of three months at a time and six months in all, such leave being debited to leave subsequently earned.

(16) The last demand is that existing rights and privileges should not be curtailed. The existing rights and privileges in so far as they are not covered by the award will not be affected by the award.

Issue No. 5.

Lastly, there is a question whether the Employees' Association is entitled to question transfer of the employees from one branch to another or the terms of transfer. As the bank has branches all over India, it is an implied condition of service under the bank that an employee is liable to transfer from one branch to another. I hold that the Employees' Association is not entitled to question transfer from one branch to another. As to terms of transfer, however, some discontent is arising. The contention of the Employees' Association is that preferential amenities have been given to certain employees imported from Bombay and other up-country branches to the detriment of the local employees. The reply of the management is that for efficiency and smooth running of the bank, the bank is entitled to give any terms of transfer to any employee. It is no doubt true that the management has the right to give any terms to any employee as a condition of transfer, but unless terms of transfer are governed by definite rules, the grant of concessions on transfer is liable to give rise to discontent. It is, therefore, recommended that the bank should frame a set of rules to govern transfer and the terms of transfer should uniformly be applied in transferring employees from one province to another.

Accordingly the following award is made:—

This Award will come into force from the 1st January 1948 unless the Government of West Bengal should order otherwise. The award concerns the six branches of the Central Bank of India, Ltd., in the Calcutta area. The scale of basic pay for the clerical and the subordinate staff as adopted by the bank on the basis of award of Bombay Industrial Court is accepted as fair and will continue to remain in force, but there will be fresh adjustment of the pay of the employees with the new scales according to the method described before with effect from the 1st January or the date on which the award is made effective. From the period from 1st July 1946 to the date on which the award becomes effective, the employees will receive the benefit of any order as to adjustment which may be made by the Bombay Industrial Court. Stenographers will get Rs. 20 extra at the start and graduate clerks will get

Rs. 10 at the start, and in adjusting the pay of stenographers and graduate clerks the benefit of this additional payment should be given so long as the pay does not exceed the maximum of Rs. 275 per month. The scale for the supervisors is fixed at Rs. 85—15—145 (E.B.)—20—225 (E.B.)—25—300, and the pay of the supervisors should be adjusted on the same principle as prescribed for the clerical cadre.

For the inferior or subordinate grades, the scale of dearness allowance adopted by the bank on the basis of the Bombay Industrial Court's award is accepted as fair. For the clerical cadre and the supervisor's cadre the dearness allowance will be 25 per cent. of the pay subject to a minimum of Rs. 35 and a maximum of Rs. 50.

In lieu of emergency allowance, employees of the clerical grade and the supervisors' grade will receive a house rent allowance of Rs. 15 when the pay does not exceed Rs. 100, Rs. 20 when the pay exceeds Rs. 100 but does not exceed Rs. 200 and 10 per cent. of the pay when the pay exceeds Rs. 200.

The claim for children allowance and free tiffin is rejected. The rules adopted by the bank as to gratuity and Provident Fund will remain in force. The claim for free medicine is rejected, but the bank's medical officer should be granted a consolidated conveyance allowance and should not charge anything when visiting a sick employee at his residence. The demand for earmarking a proportion of the net profits for distribution as bonus is also rejected.

Morning checking and calling allowance should be paid at the rate of Rs. 10 and Rs. 5 per month, respectively. An allowance of Rs. 5 should be given to all Pass Book Writers. The working hours should be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on week days with half hour's recess for rest and refreshment and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturdays. There should be no extra payment for overtime on working days but the management should so adjust work that not more than a fair day's work is given to each employee. For working on holidays other than the two bank's closing days for half-yearly and yearly accounts, the employees will get double wages, i.e., they will receive an additional day's basic pay and dearness allowance for each day's work on holidays. Godown clerks and godown durwans will be made permanent on completion of 24 months' total service. The probationary period for other employees will be six months.

The other demands of the association for change of service rules is rejected. The rule as to sick leave is replaced by the rule recommended by the Central Pay Commission as to half pay leave in paragraph 146 of its report, Part II.

The bank has the right to transfer an employee from one branch to another within the Indian Dominion, but regarding the terms of transfer definite rules should be framed and adhered to.

The jamadars or havildars of four of the Calcutta branches, viz., Shambazar, New Market, Hatkhola and Bhowanipur, will be given the benefit of the pay awarded by the Bombay Industrial Court.

By order of the Governor,
S. K. CHATTERJEE, Secy.

6. Evidence as to existence or extent of jurisdiction.—(1) If in any proceeding, civil or criminal, in a Court established in the Provinces or by the authority of the Central Government outside the Provinces, any question arises as to the existence or extent of any extra-provincial jurisdiction of the Central Government, the Secretary to the Government of India in the appropriate department shall, on the application of the Court, send to the Court the decision of the Central Government on the question, and that decision shall for the purposes of the proceeding be final.

Notices.

3. If in any case the District Health Officer considers that the issue of a notice under these regulations is likely to lead to such an amount of delay as might facilitate the spread of cholera he may forthwith take such step as he may think fit for carrying out the work, and shall thereafter, as soon as possible, issue a notice on the person concerned stating the reason why such work has been carried out.

4. If any measure which the District Health Officer has, by a notice issued under these regulations, required to be carried out, be not carried out to his satisfaction within the time stated in the notice, the District Health Officer shall be entitled to carry out the measure.

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE K. C. CHUNDER, ESQ., I.C.S., TRIBUNAL, INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES.

Award.

An industrial dispute having arisen between the National Carbon Company (India), Ltd., and its employees as represented by the National Carbon Company's Workers' Union, it was referred to me by the Government under section 8(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (Act XIV of 1947), on 1st December 1947. Before this reference to me a major tribunal had been formed to decide questions in dispute between the workers and the different engineering companies. The National Carbon Company and its workers are also parties to that reference. It was, therefore, agreed by both the parties that another Court having taken seisio of such dispute as affect the engineering trade as a whole, questions relating to matters sub judice before the major tribunal will not be decided by me but will be left for decision by that tribunal. The decision I now give will, therefore, be subject to further decision by that major tribunal.

Leaving aside such questions as have been referred to in the previous paragraph, I shall state briefly my decision with short reasons on the points now at issue before me.

I. Recognition of the Union.

The Union was registered in June 1947. The Company objected to recognise the Union on the ground that it has "objection to recognise any Union which is managed and guided by political parties". I cannot see any force in this objection as it is not for the employer to guide and control the political opinion or activities of its employees. After discussion, the Company agreed to recognise the Union. I, therefore, decide that the National Carbon Company's Workers' Union will, in future, be recognised by the Company.

II. Consultation with the Union prior to employment or dismissal of employees.

After discussion, it was admitted by the Union that the Company cannot be asked to consult the Union prior to the employment or dismissal of the employees. The real grievance of the Union is that Rule 17 of the Standing Orders framed by the Company is not properly followed. Under that rule before an employee is dismissed or punished an explanation is to be taken from him and an enquiry held. It was pointed out by the Union that very often notices asking for such explanation are either not issued or, if issued, they are not understood by the workers. After discussion, it was settled between the Company and the Union that whenever action is taken under Rule 17 against any worker, a copy of the notice be also sent by the Company to the Union so that the Union may take steps to protect the interest of the worker, if the worker is a member of the Union. I, therefore, decide that in future the Company before taking any action under Rule 17 against a worker will not only send a notice to the worker concerned but also a copy to the Union to enable the Union to take such steps as it may consider necessary in the matter.

III. Fixing the probationary period of the worker.

This issue was raised under a mistake. The case of the Union was that a probationer, if he renders satisfactory service for 3 months, should be made permanent. When this issue was raised the Union did not possess any copy of the standing orders framed in accordance with the provisions of section 7 of the Industrial Employment Standing Orders Act, 1946. As the Company had not recognised the Union it had not sent any copy of the standing orders to the Union. In the standing orders it is clearly laid down that a probationer, after rendering satisfactory service for 3 months, will be made permanent. Therefore, there is really no dispute on the point between the employer and the Union. I, therefore, decide that the provisions in the standing orders should be followed.

IV. Provision of canteen for midday meals for all employees.

The Company, after discussion, expressed its willingness to provide such a canteen but its difficulty lies in the procurement of building materials for extension of building accommodation. It was agreed to by both parties that the Labour Commissioner will help the Company in obtaining materials and as soon as materials are obtained a date will be fixed by the Labour Commissioner within which the work must be completed by the Company and the canteen opened. I also decide accordingly.

V. Provision for sitting accommodation for workers.

The Union recognised that all workers in the different departments cannot do their work seated. It was agreed that some of the workers in the Finishing, the T.R., the T.Z., the T.B. Departments and the machine shops and the T.T. Department can, without loss of efficiency, do their work seated. The Company agreed that where such a worker can work seated it merely causes unnecessary hardship to make him do the work standing. It was, therefore, agreed on both sides that the Labour Commissioner, after a thorough inspection of the work of each worker in the departments abovementioned, will recommend which of the particular workers can do the work seated and the Company will make provision for them to carry on their duties seated. I, therefore, decide accordingly.

VI. Compensation for involuntary unemployment.

The Company pointed out that it does grant such compensation to its employees, and according to the Company the terms are more generous than those fixed by the Government at the tripartite conference between employers, employees and the Government, a copy of which was made over to the Union by Mr. Sen on behalf of the Company. The Union was not in a position, without a thorough examination of the present terms of the Company and the terms as laid down by the tripartite conference, to decide which should be accepted on behalf of the workers. The Company has no objection to giving effect to either of these terms, i.e., in continuing its present terms or in giving effect to the terms of the tripartite conference. I, therefore, decide that the terms at present in force in the Company will continue so long as the Union does not give a written notice to the Company that it wants the terms as laid down by the tripartite conference to be given effect to. Should the Union give such a notice the Company will, in future, follow the terms as laid down by the tripartite conference.

VII. Revision of holidays.

The Company at present gives six holidays for religious and other festivities with pay and six holidays without pay. After discussion, it was settled that the Company will give twelve holidays in a year for religious and other festivities with pay and the holidays as at present settled between the Company and the Union will be Durga Puja holidays—3 days, Kali Puja—1, Doljatra—2, Biswakarma Puja—1, Saraswati Puja—1, Muharram—1, Id-uz-Zuha—1, Id-ul-Fitr—1, Christmas—1. The Company and the Union, if they agree, may change the list of holidays but so as not to make them less than twelve. I decide accordingly. It is to be made clear that these holidays will be in addition to any privilege leave, sick leave or casual leave that may be fixed for the workers by the major tribunal.

VIII. Dismissal of some of the workers.

According to the Union he was dismissed because of his Union activities. According to the Company he was discharged on the complaint of the Supervisor that he allowed unauthorised use of an electric meter by another worker. It appears that under Rule 17 his explanation is to be taken and there should be a proper enquiry. The Company failed to show that Rule 17 was properly followed. He should, therefore, I decide, be reinstated.

Before proceeding to the next case I may briefly mention the contention of Mr. Sen that reinstatement should not be ordered and if the person had been wrongfully dismissed, he should be left to his remedy in the Civil Court for wrongful dismissal. Mr. Sen's argument was—and it appears that this was accepted by one tribunal in another case—that as the Civil Court does not decree specific performance of contract for service and gives damages for wrongful dismissal or for breach of contract, the Industrial Court should follow the same procedure. The Civil Court and the Industrial Court proceed upon entirely different principles. The Civil Court does not grant a specific performance or order reinstatement because it has not the machinery to compel compliance with its order. It, therefore, decrees money damages. The Civil Court has to deal with the specific question of infringement of civil rights between particular persons, while the Industrial Court is concerned with the question of bringing about industrial peace in the interest not only of the particular persons involved in the dispute but the general interest of the community itself, and if industrial peace is disturbed and is likely to continue to be disturbed by either victimisation or arbitrary dealings with employees by flagrant violation of rules, it should be the duty of the Industrial Court to secure industrial peace by undoing the evil effect of either such victimisation or arbitrary action. Compensation in such a case is not the proper method of securing industrial peace. Mr. Sen wanted me to restrict the use of the power of the Industrial Court to order reinstatement of discharged employees only in case of victimisation. I see no good reason why the powers of the Court should be restricted when there is no such restriction on the powers of the Court in the Act itself. In my opinion it will not also be proper to impose any such restriction for the simple reason that there may be many cases apart from victimisation which may bring about genuine industrial dispute between the employer and the worker. Under the circumstances I am not able to accept Mr. Sen's contention. I may point out that punishment for disobedience of an order passed in an industrial dispute approved by the Government has been provided in the Act itself by penalisation of the party guilty of such disobedience. The Act itself has made provision for the carrying out of such orders.

According to the Union he was the Vice-President of the Union and was discharged by the Company on 8th July 1947 for his Union activities. According to the Company he was granted a leave and he overstayed his leave and therefore under Rule 13 of the Standing Orders he was discharged. It appears that after he went on leave he submitted an application in proper time for extension of his leave. Rule 13 clearly lays down that if extension of leave is refused, the Company will intimate the fact of such refusal to the applicant at his last known address. In the present case nothing was done to intimate to him the fact of refusal. The Company clearly disobeyed the rules. The rule was made in compliance with a Statute and therefore the dismissal was not justified and, I decide, the Company should reinstate him.

(c) Sreenath Roy.

In his case also the Company's contention is that he was absent without leave, while the Union points out that he made an application and the fact of the refusal of the application for leave was not communicated to him. I decide that he is also to be reinstated.

He went on leave and he is said to have been dismissed for overstaying his leave. It appears that he sent an application to the Company intimating the news of the death of his brother and asking on that ground for an extension of leave. No communication was made to him of any order refusing extension. It appears that on return he went to the Company, which asked him to produce a medical certificate showing that his brother actually died, and he did so. It appears that the Company was willing to take him back but as an industrial dispute had broken out and the matter of dispute was under adjudication the Company took no further action. I decide that he is to be reinstated.

It appears that he was reinstated by the Company itself. So no further action is necessary in this case.

(f) Dhirendra Nath De.

The Company now tries to make out that his dismissal was due to wilful disobedience of the order of the Company's medical officer. His service sheet shows a note that he was discharged as his "service is not required". Even if there was wilful disobedience of order, the Company has not followed the provisions of Rule 17 of the Standing Orders. I, therefore, decide that he is to be reinstated.

(g) Basirulla Mia.

He was absent without leave. The Company is willing to overlook his fault and to re-employ him if he is still found medically fit and work is available. I decide accordingly.

(h) Joy Sankar Dubey.

He also overstayed his leave and made no application for extension. His case is clearly covered by Rule 13, but the Company is willing to reappoint him if he is still medically fit and work is available. I decide accordingly.

(i) Sk. Pairu.

This is a bad case. His service record seems to be very unsatisfactory and he was discharged for being absent without notice or leave. In his case I am not prepared to order reappointment.

(j) Sailendra Nath Mullik.

He was dismissed for absence on leave without notice but the Company expressed its willingness to re-employ him if he is still medically fit and work is available. I decide accordingly.

(k) Ayodhya Prasad.

He has been already reappointed. So no further order is necessary.

IX. Discontinuance of the decimal system of calculation.

It was pointed out by the Company that the calculation is made by means of a machine which is in the decimal system and which cannot be altered. After discussion, it was found that the real grievance is that the workers do not know the exchange value of the decimal system, and the Company agreed to put up in the notice board a notice giving the exchange value. I think it will also be better if a copy of this notice is sent by the Company to the Union so that in case any worker feels himself aggrieved the Union may work out the mathematical calculation for him. It was also pointed out during discussion that in the wages slip given to the workers the hours of work under each count for which particular sums are being paid to them are not mentioned. The Company agreed to do this in future. I, therefore, decide that the Company will put up in the notice board a notice giving the exchange value of the decimal system and send a copy thereof to the Union, and in future in the wages slip given to the different workers the Company will mention the hours of work on each count to enable the workers to verify the amount of their dues.

X. Strike pay.

It is unnecessary to enter into the events which gradually brought about and later made for the continuance of the strike which began on 30th July 1947 and continued till 14th September 1947, when through the efforts of the Hon'ble Minister, Commerce, Labour and Industries and Mr. Deben Sen, M.L.A., Secretary to the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee, some terms of settlement were agreed to by both the disputing parties and work was resumed. It is also unnecessary for me to discuss the general principle of strike pay in the present case. After a full and long discussion before the Tribunal, both parties accepted the position that there was fault on both sides as regards the predisposing conditions for a strike as regards the actual strike itself and as regards its continuance till 14th September 1947. It was agreed to by both the parties that it will be fair and just for the Company to pay half the wages and dearness allowance for the period of the strike to the workers. As this was agreed to by both sides I decide that the Company will pay half the wages and dearness allowance to the workers for the period of the strike.

XI. Health conditions.

Both parties agreed to refer the matter for recommendation to the Indian Institute of Health and Hygiene after inspection of local conditions by an expert selected by the Institute. It has been agreed to by both the parties that the recommendations made by the Institute will be given effect to by the Company in such manner and at such times as may be fixed after consultation with both sides by the Labour Commissioner. I decide accordingly.

XII. General.

It appears that the Company had agreed to pay their full wages to five of the workers who had come to help the Union on the two dates, viz., 8th December 1947 and 13th December 1947. It appears that the Union brought another batch of five workers on each of these two dates for the purpose of giving evidence, if necessary. The Company pointed out that no process had been taken from the Tribunal on either of these two dates for the attendance of these men. It appears that the Union was actuated by the desire not to prolong proceedings, and I consider it only fair that the Company will also pay the wages of these five other workers on these two days and order accordingly.

I must thank most sincerely Mr. Sen, the Advocate for the Company, and the Company's officers who attended to help him, as also Mr. De, the Counsel for the Union, and his junior Mr. Bose, and Babu Birendra Kumar Bhattacharjee of the Union for the great help that all rendered in arriving at a fair and acceptable decision on all the points at issue and for the extremely reasonable attitude that both the sides adopted in the settlement of their dispute. I hope that both sides will remember the desirability of industrial peace and prevent recurrence of disputes in future.

By order of the Governor,

S. K. CHATTERJEE, Secy.

ORDER.

No. 63Lab.—8th January 1948.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Department of Commerce, Labour and Industries order No. 787Lab., dated the 8th November 1947, the industrial dispute between the Birla Jute Manufacturing Company, Limited, Birlapur, post office Birlapur, and its workmen as represented by the Birla Jute Mill Workers' Union, Birlapur, post office Birlapur, was referred for adjudication to Mr. S. K. Sen, I.C.S.

And whereas the said Mr. S. K. Sen, I.C.S., has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 15(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Mr. S K. Sen, I.C.S., shall bind the said Company and its workmen as specified therein for a period of one year from the date of the order.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of Industrial Dispute between the Birla Jute Manufacturing Company, Limited, and its workmen.

Present: Mr. S. K. SEN, I.C.S.

Award.

By Government of West Bengal Order No. 787-Lab., dated the 8th November 1947, the industrial dispute between the Birla Jute Manufacturing Company, Limited, and its workmen as represented by the Birla Jute Mill Workers' Union was referred to me for adjudication. The industrial dispute is concerned with the question of payment of Puja bonus to the workmen for the year 1947. Both parties filed written statements setting forth their respective cases.

The following issues were framed on the basis of the written statements:—

(1) Is the payment of Puja bonus a condition of service under the Birla Jute Mills?

(2) If not, can the question of payment of such bonus form the subject matter of an industrial dispute?

(3) What Puja bonus, if any, should be paid to the different classes of workers, and under what conditions?

Issue No. 1.

The Birla Jute Mills Workers' Union has not been able to adduce any evidence to show that the payment of Puja bonus is a condition of service under the Birla Jute Mills. The Birla Jute Mill Workers' Union in its written statement said that the Company had been giving Puja bonus to their workers regularly for the last 20 years, but the representative of the Workers' Union, at the hearing of the case, admitted the correctness of the Annexure A to the written statement of the Company, the annexure being a statement showing what the workers were given from year to year as Puja bonus. This statement shows that no Puja bonus at all was given up to 1936 though the Company started working in 1920-21; from 1937 to 1946 some Puja bonus was paid but it was sometimes paid in cash and sometimes in kind according to the discretion of the management. In 1937 the permanent workers received one week's wages as Puja bonus. In 1938 the permanent workers received one pair of dhotis and six vests and the temporary workers received six vests each. In 1939 the permanent workers each received one brass thali. In 1940 the permanent workers received three days' wages, one piece of chaddar and one piece of khaddar (2½ yards long), while the temporary workers received only one piece of khaddar (2½ yards long). In 1941 the permanent workers only were granted Puja bonus and they got four days' wages. In 1942 also the permanent workers only got the bonus and each received three days' wages. In 1943 again, only the permanent workers received Puja bonus, and of them those having 60 per cent. attendance or more got one pair of dhotis or saries and those having less than 60 per cent. attendance received only one piece of dhoti or sari. In 1944 those who had more than 65 per cent. attendance received one pair of dhotis or saris and those who had attendance of more than 45 per cent. received one piece of dhoti or sari, others did not receive anything. In 1945 the Puja bonus was Rs. 4 per head to those having satisfactory attendance and Rs. 2 per head to those not having satisfactory attendance. In 1946 the permanent workers got Rs. 4 each as Puja bonus and the temporary workers who worked at least eight days during September 1946, got Rs. 3 each. This statement shows clearly that the demand of Puja bonus could not be a condition of service under the Birla Jute Manufacturing Company, Limited. On behalf of the Company Mr. Tarachand Saboo, the Secretary and Manager of the Company, asserted positively that the payment of Puja bonus was never a condition of service under the Birla Jute Mills. Thus I must clearly find that the payment of Puja bonus is not a condition of service under the Birla Jute Mills.

It has been urged on behalf of the Company that since the Puja bonus is not a condition of service but an ex-gratia payment, the question of payment of Puja bonus cannot form the subject matter of an industrial dispute. But it has been held repeatedly by Labour Tribunals or Industrial Disputes Tribunals that the question of payment of bonus can form the subject matter of an industrial dispute, and the same view must also be taken in respect of the question of payment of Puja bonus which is a special kind of bonus. The evidence shows that the workmen waited on deputation on Mr. M. P. Birla and made a representation for the payment of Puja bonus, and Mr. M. P. Birla ultimately agreed to pay Puja bonus provided the workers gave written assurance that they would not join lightning strikes in future; and as no such assurance was given by the workmen, the management did not pay the Puja bonus to the workmen except to employees of the Central Mechanical Department and Engineering Department who had not joined the lightning strikes. The workers in the Central Mechanical Department and the Engineering Department did not participate in the strikes in January 1947 and July 1947, the number of employees in these departments being only about 700 out of about 8,000 employees under the Company. Thus over the payment of Puja bonus, a difference arose between the management and the workers, with the possibility of a strike and other serious repercussions involving loss of production. Accordingly I must hold that the payment of Puja bonus can form the subject matter of an industrial dispute

Issue No. 3.

Lastly, there is the question what, if any, should be paid to the different classes of workers and under what condition? The representative of the Birla Jute Mill Workers' Union has urged that the Company, by paying Puja bonus to the workers of the Central Mechanical Department and the Engineering Department and by refusing payment to the other workers, took recourse to the policy of victimisation of the workers who joined in the strike in July 1947 and this amounted to unfair labour practice; and that, therefore, the management should be directed to pay Puja bonus to all the workers uniformly. In view of the circumstances, however, I cannot agree that it was a case of victimisation or unfair labour practice. Mr. Tarachand Saboo, the Secretary and Manager of the Birla Jute Mills, has given the circumstances in which the Puja bonus came to be paid originally. He said that in 1937 there was a wave of strikes in many industrial concerns but that the workers of the Birla Jute Mills did not stage any strike, and in recognition of this a Puja bonus was given in 1937; and that since then until 1946, good relationship between the management and the workers was not marred by any strike, and therefore Puja bonus continued to be paid as a token of good relationship between the management and the workers. It appears from the evidence of Mr. Tarachand Saboo that in 1947 this good relationship between the management and the workers came to be marred by a number of lightning strikes. According to Mr. Tarachand Saboo, there were two strikes in January 1947 and on both occasions the workmen returned to work after making an unconditional apology. There was again a strike lasting 12 days in July 1947 and the case was referred to an Industrial Tribunal; and Mr. S. N. Guha Roy, who constituted the Industrial Tribunal, came to the finding that the strike was unjustified and the workers were not, therefore, entitled to strike pay. The workers of the Central Mechanical and Engineering Departments did not join the strike on any of these occasions. Accordingly the management might give them the Puja bonus for 1947 as a token of continued good relationship between the management and those workers, but in the absence of such continued good relationship between the management and the remaining workers the management could rightly withhold Puja bonus from the other workers. Such lightning strikes necessarily involve a good deal of loss to the Company from cessation of work, and they endanger the machinery and plant according to the evidence of Mr. Saboo; but in spite of the lightning strikes staged in 1947, Mr. M. P. Birla was ultimately willing to give Puja bonus to the workers provided they gave a written undertaking that they would not stage any lightning strike in future. In my opinion, the management was right in requiring such a written undertaking from the workers; the workers staged three lightning strikes within a course of a few months and caused a good deal of loss to the Company. The representative of the Birla Jute Mills Workers' Union has said that the Union is affiliated to the All-India National Trade Union Congress and if the All-India National Trade Union Congress should call a hartal for a political or other cause, the Union as member of the All-India National Trade Union Congress would be bound to comply. On behalf of the Company, however, the learned counsel has said that the Company would be willing to overlook a one-day lightning strike or hartal staged under the mandate of the All-India National Trade Union Congress. The representative of the Workers' Union has further urged that apart from a sudden hartal which may be held under the mandate of the All-India National Trade Union Congress, strikes may be necessary to enforce the grievances of the workers, as for wrongful dismissal of active Union workers and similar grounds. There is, however, an adequate machinery now provided for settlement of all industrial disputes and for remedy of grievances over the dismissal of an active Union worker or for other grounds. It is not necessary to stage a strike, far less a lightning strike for such a purpose. If a strike becomes necessary there is no reason why proper notice should not be given to the management. Accordingly I hold that the workers should get the Puja bonus for 1947 only by giving the undertaking wanted by the management against holding lightning strikes in the Birla Jute Mills, subject to the exception that this undertaking would not apply to the case where a one-day hartal is held under the mandate of the All-India National Trade Union Congress.

As to the amount of the Puja bonus, there is also a dispute. The Workers' Union in its written statement has claimed one month's wages as bonus, whereas the bonus which the management paid to the workers of the Central Mechanical and Engineering Departments and is prepared to pay to the other workers is only Rs. 4 per head. The representative of the Workers' Union has urged that the Company is making a lot of profit and that out of surplus profits the Company can afford to pay one month's wages as Puja bonus. I must point out, however, that the learned representative of the Workers' Union has here made a confusion between general bonus and Puja bonus. From the surplus profits earned by a Company the workers may justifiably claim a general bonus, but the question of payment of such bonus is under consideration of the general Tribunal appointed to adjudicate into the dispute between all the jute mills and their workers. In this case we are only concerned with the question of Puja bonus, and the Annexure A attached to the written statement of the Company, which is admitted to be correct by the representative of the Workers' Union, shows that the Puja bonus has been in the nature of a gift to household servants on the occasion of the Puja, and the amount is not dependent on the profits earned by the Company, but something has been given in cash or in kind according to the discretion of the management. In 1945 and in 1946 the permanent workers received Rs. 4 per head as Puja bonus. Accordingly it is quite reasonable that the same amount should be paid in 1947 as Puja bonus.

Accordingly I make the following award: That the workmen of the Birla Jute Mills, Limited, who have not received Puja bonus for 1947 should be paid a Puja bonus of Rs. 4 per head, on the workmen as represented by the Birla Jute Mills Workers' Union giving a written undertaking not to hold lightning strikes, but this undertaking would not apply to the case of a one-day hartal held for a political or other cause under a mandate issued by the All-India National Trade Union Congress, to which the Birla Jute Mill Workers' Union is affiliated.

Award.

By the Government of West Bengal Order No. 668Lab., dated 14th October 1947, this industrial dispute between Messrs. Hind Machines, Ltd., and their employees as represented by the Hind Machines Labour Union has been referred to me for adjudication.

The Hind Machines, Ltd., used to employ about 400 skilled and unskilled workers for manufacturing machinery and machine tools. The association of the employees known as the Hind Machines Labour Union was registered on 16th January 1946 under the Trade Unions Act.

In June 1946 there was a strike in the workshop of the Company which was settled by the intervention of Mr. Soumendra Nath Tagore on 21st July 1946 and an agreement was then made between Mr. Bhimsen Gupta, Managing Director of the Hind Machines, Ltd., and Mr. Soumendra Nath Tagore representing the workers. The case of the Labour Union is that the Managing Director did not care to implement the terms of the agreement and this led to discontent among the workers. The matter came to a head on 2nd October 1947 which day was declared a holiday by Government for celebrating the birth-day of Mahatma Gandhi. The workers of the Hind Machines, Ltd., though they attended the workshop as usual at 7-30 a.m. did not work and staged a stay-in strike demanding a paid holiday for the day on account of the Gandhi Jayanti Celebrations. The Managing Director Mr. B. Gupta refused to grant a paid holiday and said that if the workers did not work, they would receive no pay. The workers locked the gates of the workshop and did not allow any officer to get out of the premises. About 2-30 p.m. there was some damage done to the drawings and instruments in the Drawing Office which is on the 1st floor, and Mr. R. S. Sarma, Foreman of the Structural Shop, was assaulted with missiles and missiles were also thrown against the room of the Managing Director Mr. Bhimsen Gupta, which was also situated on the first floor. Mr. Bhimsen Gupta tried to obtain police help by phone and he also signed to a durwan to obtain police help; and a party of 4/6 armed constables was actually brought by the durwan, but as the gates were kept locked up by the workers, the armed police force could not come into the premises, but remained outside. A meeting was thereafter held in the compound of the workshop and certain terms were handed over by the representatives of workmen and the Managing Director Mr. Bhimsen Gupta signed the terms in token of acceptance. The terms included among other things a paid holiday for the 2nd October 1947 and increased wages to the workmen. After the terms had been signed the workers opened the gates and dispersed. Thereafter the Managing Director lodged a complaint with the Officer-in-charge of Malipanchghara police-station, Howrah, alleging that the workers used violence and that he had been constrained to sign an agreement by the workers. Further the Managing Director thereafter closed the gates of the workshop against the workmen. The matter came to the notice of the Labour Commissioner who called a tripartite conference on 7th October 1947. At the conference the Managing Director of Hind Machines, Ltd., Mr. Bhimsen Gupta, was not present, but his nephew Mr. R. K. Bangshall, who is the Works Manager of the Company represented the Company, and he gave an undertaking to the Labour Commissioner that work would be started again on 13th October 1947; but on 13th October 1947 work was not resumed and the Managing Director Mr. Bhimsen Gupta informed the Labour Commissioner that he was not prepared to re-open the workshop until he received adequate guarantee of police protection in the case of a repetition of violence by the workers. The case was then referred to this Tribunal by the order of the Government already referred to.

The workers' case is that the agreement which was signed on 2nd October 1947 by the Managing Director should be immediately given effect to and that the workers should be further allowed increased wages, dearness allowance and other improved conditions of service and that they should be given pay for the 2nd and 3rd of October and also for the period of lock-out. It should be mentioned that after referring the matter to the Tribunal the Government of West Bengal, under section 10(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act directed the Company to resume work on 17th November 1947 and also declared that the lock-out would be deemed to be illegal after that date. The Managing Director, however, did not re-open the workshop on 17th November 1947 and the Government had to write to him threatening prosecution under the Industrial Disputes Act. Thereupon on the representation of the Managing Director, the notice under section 10(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act was amended, the Managing Director being directed to re-open the workshop on 20th November. The Managing Director re-opened the workshop on that date and thus the period of lock-out runs from 4th October 1947 to 24th November 1947. Regarding the 3rd October 1947 the workers were told at the meeting on 2nd October 1947, on which date Mr. Bhimsen Gupta signed the agreement, that the factory would remain closed on 3rd October 1947 and that work would be resumed on 4th October 1947. Thus 3rd October 1947 is not included within the period of lock-out.

The contention of the Company is that it is not a case of lock-out, but that on 6th October 1947 by a notice displayed at the gate of the workshop the Managing Director dismissed all the workers for their misconduct on 2nd October 1947 resulting in injuries to the Structural Foreman, Mr. R. S. Sarma, and damage to the Drawing Office and other departments amounting to nearly a lakh of rupees; and that therefore the Company is not prepared to negotiate with the old workers of the Company, but the Company, is entitled to resume work with new workmen or such of the old workmen as come under a fresh contract. As to the agreement signed by the Managing Director dated 2nd October 1947, the contention of the Company is that the agreement was obtained by coercion and has no binding effect. The further contention of the Company is that in view of the dismissal of the workmen there can be no question of wages for the lock-out period or for 2nd and 3rd October. As regards the demands contained in the written statement by way of increased pay, dearness allowance and other improvements in the conditions of service, the Company contends that the representatives of the Labour Union are not entitled to negotiate with Company on those points because they no longer represent the workers of the Company. It is further suggested that the general questions as to wages, dearness allowance, paid holidays, etc., should be left for decision by the General Tribunal appointed for all the Engineering Industries in West Bengal.

Accordingly the following issues have been framed in the case:—

(1) Whether the alleged dismissal of all the workmen on 6th October 1947 is a valid and binding dismissal?

(2) Whether the agreement of 2nd October 1947 was obtained from the Managing Director by coercion?

(3) What should be the decision on each of the 19 demands raised by the workmen?

DECISION.

Points 1 and 2.

It will be convenient to discuss and decide the first two issues together because they are both concerned with the question as to what actually happened on 2nd October 1947. On this point, the Labour Union has examined two witnesses, viz., P.W. 1 Atul Dutta and P.W. 2 Nalini Kanta Mondal, both of whom are workmen of the Hind Machines, Ltd., and members of the Managing Committee of the Hind Machines, Ltd., Labour Union. The Company has examined six witnesses, viz., Mr. Bhimsen Gupta, the Managing Director, Mr. G. A. Gardiner, Technical Works Manager, Mr. R. K. Sarma, Foreman, Structural Department, Dr. Panchanon Das, Medical Officer of the Company, Mr. Sourindra Nath De, Labour Welfare Officer of the Company, and Mr. R. K. Bangshall, Administrative and Works Manager of the Company. The parties are agreed that there was a demand made for a paid holiday on 2nd October 1947 on account of the Gandhi Jayanti Celebrations and that the workers staged a stay-in strike in order to enforce the demand. The evidence of P.W. 1 Atul Dutta is that the Managing Director refused to grant leave with pay for that day. He is practically supported by the evidence of O.P.W. 2 Mr. Gardiner who says that when he placed the demands of the workmen before Mr. Gupta, he replied that if the workers refused to do any work, they would not receive any pay. Mr. Gupta himself has deposed that he told the representatives of the workmen that he would grant pay for the day only if the Government and other companies allow a paid holiday for that day. But it does not appear from the evidence of the workers and that of Mr. G. A. Gardiner that Mr. Gupta said so to the workers' representatives. The parties are also agreed in saying that up to about 2 or 2-30 p.m. the workers did no work but remained peaceful and that some trouble started about 2-30 p.m. The two witnesses for the workmen, viz., Atul Dutt and Nalini Mondal, said that they were all sitting downstairs in the workshop and that none of the workers went up to the first floor where the Office and the Drawing Office are situated, but that about 2-30 p.m. some row and noise of breaking things were heard from upstairs and that sometime later about 3-30 p.m. Bhimsen Gupta with other officers of the Company came down and held a meeting of the workers. Thus witnesses examined on behalf of the Labour Union disclaim that the workers had anything to do with the rowdyism which took place at about 2-30 p.m. in the first floor. It has been suggested that in order to put the workers in the wrong, the Managing Director had some mischief done by hired men. This suggestion does not, however, commend itself to me. The testimony of the witnesses examined for the Company is that some of the workers went upstairs about 2 or 2-30 p.m. and committed the mischief, although neither the Managing Director nor any of the witnesses examined on behalf of the Company has been able to explain why the workers who remained peaceful up to 2 or 2-30 p.m. suddenly became rowdy at that time. There is the evidence of O.P.W. 2 Mr. Gardiner that about 12 noon some of the staff tried to go out of the workshop for lunch, but they were stopped by the workers who had shut the gates of the workshop and were congregating inside the gates. The evidence of the other witnesses for the Company is that the gates were locked and guarded and nobody was allowed to come in or go out. This excludes the theory suggested by the Labour Union that hired men might have been brought from outside to have the mischief done. O.P.W. 3 R. K. Sarma received some injuries from missiles thrown at him. He says clearly that a group of workmen attacked him and he has named three of the workers who were among the assailants. The other witnesses examined for the Company also say that workmen of the Company estimated at 30 to 40 or 70 to 80 went upstairs and committed the mischief. I must find, therefore, that some workers went upstairs about 2 or 2-30 p.m. and they were responsible for breakage of the furniture, smashing of the private telephone exchange box and destruction of the drawings and some drawing boards and breakages of glass panes of doors and windows on the first floor. I have already said that none of the witnesses examined on behalf of the Company could explain satisfactorily why the workers or some of the workmen suddenly became violent at 2 or 2-30 p.m. The evidence, however, shows that the workers tried to assault only Mr. R. S. Sarma, the Foreman of the Structural shop, and it is possible that when 30/40 workmen went up about 2 or 2-30 p.m. in order to repeat their demand that they should be allowed a paid holiday for the day, Mr. Sarma used abusive language to them and this made them violent. The evidence of Mr. Sarma is that 30/40 men who came up about 2-30 p.m. came with rods, that is prepared to commit violence, but Mr. Bangshall, who was also in the office upstairs says clearly that he did not notice any weapon in the hands of the 40/50 men whom he saw gathered in the corridors of the first floor about 2 or 2-30 p.m., and regarding the missiles thrown he says that they consisted of broken legs of chairs, dry batteries of the telephone, exchange box which has been smashed, etc. The injuries sustained by Mr. Sarma who had the missiles hurled at him were not very severe. I must accept the evidence of O.P.W. 6 Mr. R. K. Bangshall as to the nature of the missiles and the evidence of Mr. Bangshall strongly supports the view taken above that about 2 or 2-30 p.m. 30 to 50 workmen went up unarmed in order to press their demand for a paid holiday, and because they were abused by Mr. Sarma, they suddenly became violent and did some mischief. There is nothing to show that the general body of workers joined in the violence, which was committed by a number of them. It would rather appear that the leaders of the workers were anxious to avoid violence by the workers. In this connection I may refer to the evidence of Mr. R. K. Sarma himself, who said that when the Managing Director came out of his room, some workers with folded hands requested him to go downstairs and meet the workers and sign an agreement with them. The workers were excited by the turn the events had taken, but they could be pacified if the Managing Director took up a conciliatory attitude. That the workers had no initial violent intention would also appear from the evidence of O.P.W. 4 Panchanon Das, Medical Officer, who said that when the missiles were being hurled at R. K. Sarma, the Medical Officer entreated the men not to harm him and the workers were pacified to some extent by the intervention of the Medical Officer.

As regards the Managing Director Mr. Gupta, his evidence is that when he found the workers doing mischief in the Drawing Office, he locked the door of his office into which Mr. Bangshall had also come, but some workmen hurled things against the glass doors of the office, and in order to avoid injury from the splinters, the Managing Director took shelter behind an almirah and thereafter he opened the door of the office and came out and shouted to men on the streets to call the police, and that four armed constables arrived, but they could not come in as the gates were closed, and then at the request of some workers he went out and met the workers at a meeting and he accepted their demands and signed an agreement because he was apprehensive of damage to the machinery of the workshop and of assault. Mr. R. K. Bangshall corroborates Mr. Bhimsen Gupta that missiles were hurled against the glass door of the office and that Mr. Gupta and himself sought safety behind an almirah in the office. Mr. Bangshall said that it was at his suggestion that the Managing Director opened the door of the office room and met the workers and ultimately went downstairs and met the general body of workers. On behalf of the Labour Union it has been urged that the agreement which was signed by the Managing Director, Ext. 1, must be regarded as a free and voluntary agreement. Several reasons have been advanced in support of this argument. Firstly, it has been pointed out that at the meeting itself the Managing Director was treated with proper respect and there was no show of violence at that time. It would appear from the evidence of the witnesses examined on behalf of the Company that the Managing Director was given a chair in the meeting, and Mr. Gardiner said clearly that there was no show of violence at the meeting itself. Secondly, some armed constables and a Sub-Inspector of Police had arrived and were waiting outside the factory. This appears from the evidence of Mr. Gupta himself. Mr. Gupta had himself contacted the police authorities and help had arrived and was waiting just outside the gate, and it has therefore been urged that Mr. Gupta at that time could have had no apprehension. Thirdly, it has been urged that Mr. Gupta did not accept the terms as they were put to him, but he clearly discussed the matter and modified the terms presented to him. Thus it appears from clause 7 and clause 9 of the demands presented to him that the workers demanded that the skilled workers should have a minimum basic salary of Rs. 110 per month plus D.A. of Rs. 25 per mensem, but Mr. Gupta scored these demands through and wrote himself in English that minimum pay of Rs. 62 inclusive of allowances would be paid by him. Similarly Mr. Gupta cut down the demand for 30 days' pay as bonus to 15 days' pay as bonus, and the demand for paid holidays on gazetted holidays to six paid holidays in a year. It is, therefore, clear that Mr. Gupta, the Managing Director, did not act under such coercion as to be compelled to accept whatever demands were put to him. He had sufficient freedom to discuss the terms presented to him and to accept whatever terms appeared to be reasonable to him.

On the other hand it appears from the F.I.R. Ex. 3 that in the same evening Mr. Gupta lodged an ejahar with the Officer-in-charge of Malipanchghara police-station that he was acting under coercion and that he was compelled to put his signature on the stamped agreement. Further the evidence of the Company's officers is that though the police had arrived and were waiting outside, they did not try to get into the factory premises, the gates of which were kept locked and guarded until the agreement had been signed by the Managing Director. Ex. 1 shows that Mr. Gupta accepted the demand for a paid holiday on 2nd October 1947 and further he accepted the claim to a certain extent for enhanced wages although in the agreement Ex. 2 arrived at between himself and Mr. Soumendra Nath Tagore in July 1946 he had said that the question of wages would be considered after comparing the wages paid by other similar factories, and there is no evidence to show that figures of wages paid by other similar companies were obtained before the agreement of 2nd October 1947 was signed by the Managing Director. In the beginning of that day, i.e., 2nd October 1947, the Managing Director had turned down the demands of the workmen in full. He had refused to grant a paid holiday and also pay for the period from 21st October to 30th October which had been declared as holiday on account of the pujas. He, however, accepted these demands when he signed Ex. 1. It would appear from the circumstances that though he had the freedom to discuss the demands and reduce some of them and though there was no show of violence at the meeting itself, yet the Managing Director must have been under a feeling of restraint because even then the gates were kept locked and guarded by the workers, though the police force was waiting outside. The evidence of Mr. R. K. Bangshall is that they felt that there was no way out of the situation except to concede some of the demands of the workers. In view of the circumstances, I hold that the agreement of 2nd October 1947 Ext. 1 cannot be regarded as a free and binding agreement because there was some degree of coercion on the Managing Director in obtaining that agreement. On the other hand, I must hold that the alleged dismissal of all the workmen on 6th October 1947 cannot be supported as a valid and binding dismissal. It has been found that though there was some degree of coercion on the Managing Director, he was treated with respect and consideration at the meeting and the terms which were ultimately obtained by the workmen, even though they may not be binding, cannot be regarded as unreasonable or exorbitant terms. At the meeting the workmen were told that the factory would remain closed on 3rd October 1947 and work would be resumed on 4th October 1947. This appears from the evidence of the workmen and also from the endorsement by Mr. Gupta himself on Ex. 1 where he wrote "work will re-open on 4th October 1947". Thus I accept the evidence of the two workmen's representatives that when the workmen came to work on 4th October 1947 they found a notice that the workshop was closed indefinitely until further orders. The workmen said clearly that no notice of dismissal was actually seen by them either on 4th October 1947 or 6th October 1947 or on any other day. The Managing Director says that on 6th October 1947 notices were fixed on the gate that all the workers were dismissed for their misconduct and violence on 2nd October 1947. It has, however not been shown that the Board of Directors of the Company by a resolution decided to dismiss all the workers with effect from 6th October 1947. The Managing Director has not been able to produce any document in support of the alleged dismissal. There is the evidence of P.W. 1 Atul Dutta that when the meeting was held at the office of the Labour Commissioner on 7th October 1947 the Works Manager and the Secretary who attended on behalf of the Company did not say that the workers had been dismissed with effect from 6th October 1947. On the other hand the evidence is that Mr. R. K. Bangshall gave an undertaking to re-open the workshop with the existing workmen on 13th October 1947, although the Managing Director Mr. Gupta did not honour the undertaking given by his representative to the Labour Commissioner. The evidence of Mr. Gupta is that his representative had no authority to give the undertaking that the workshop would be re-opened from 13th October 1947. It appears that when representation was made to the Labour Commissioner that on account of damage to the factory the workshop could not be re-opened within a short time, the Factories Inspector was asked to make an inspection and report. A copy of the Factory Inspector's report has been obtained by the Tribunal. It appears from that report, which is dated 17th October 1947, that the machinery in the workshop was not damaged at all and though there was damage to the internal telephone exchange box and certain blue prints and furniture, the damage was not such as to prevent the re-opening of the factory at an early date. Further the Factory Inspector referred to the lock-out by the employer from 4th October 1947 and did not refer to any alleged dismissal of workmen on 6th October 1947. I must hold that there was really no dismissal of the workmen on 6th October 1947, but there was only a lock-out from 4th October 1947. Moreover dismissal of all the workmen would not be justified under the circumstances, because although some violence was used in the course of the stay-in strike, only a small percentage of the workmen actually committed violence; the majority of the workmen not only remained peaceful but they tried to remove the excitement of the workmen by making an arrangement with the Managing Director, and for this settlement they approached the Managing Director with folded hands though, at the same time, there was certain amount of coercion by keeping the gates of the factory locked. It has also been pointed out that even though the agreement Ex. 1 be regarded as vitiated, the terms agreed upon cannot be regarded as unreasonable. Moreover the Managing Director, after the meeting in which he was treated with respect and consideration, told the workmen that work will be resumed after a day's break from 4th October 1947. Under the circumstances dismissal of the workers wholesale would amount to unfair labour practice and victimisation and cannot be supported. The employer would be entitled to proceed with the police case against some of the workers for rioting and mischief and he would be entitled ultimately to dismiss those workmen who may be found guilty of rioting and mischief, but wholesale dismissal of workmen cannot be supported in any way.

Thus on the first two issues I find that there was no legal and valid dismissal of all the workmen on 6th October 1947, but that there was a lock-out in the workshop from 4th October 1947, and that the agreement Ex. 1, dated 2nd October 1947, cannot be regarded as valid and binding because it was obtained by coercion.

Next there is the question of each of the 19 demands raised by the workmen. As a general dispute between the Employers' Associations and the Workmen's Associations in the Engineering trade has been referred to a Tribunal, it would be better to keep the general questions as to revision of pay and service conditions for the general tribunal. Accordingly demand No. 1 for basic pay, demand No. 2 for dearness allowance, demand No. 3 for increment every year, demand No. 7 for bonus, demand No. 8 for mode of discharge, demand No. 9 for casual leave and other leave, demand No. 10 for canteen, demand No. 11 for uniform to durwans, demand No. 12 regarding Provident Fund Rules and Standing Order Rules, demand No. 16 for gratuity and demand No. 17 for Production Bonus are left open for decision in the General Tribunal. Only the remaining demands have to be considered in this case.

Demand No. 4 refers to recognition of the Union by the company. The agreement Ex. 2 which was arrived at between the Managing Director and Mr. Soumendra Nath Tagore representing the Labour Union shows that the Managing Director agreed to recognise the Hind Machines Labour Union. It appears from Ex. B that thereafter the management withdrew recognition because a stay-in strike was staged for one day by the workers in September 1946. This strike, however, lasted only one day and had no untoward repercussions. That would not be sufficient ground for withdrawing recognition of the Union. The Union was registered under the Trade Union Act and the workmen have produced the Register of Membership showing that the majority of the workers are members of the Union. Accordingly I hold that the Company must recognise the Hind Machines Labour Union.

Demand No. 5 relates to pay for the closing days from 21st October to 31st October. This demand is no longer relevant because that period falls within the period of lock-out and I shall consider the question of payment during the lock-out period under demand No. 19 which relates specifically to the demand for payment for the lock-out period.

Demand No. 6 relates to wages for 2nd October, demand No. 18 to wages for 3rd October and demand No. 19 to wages for the lock-out period from 4th October to 24th November 1947. In the agreement Ex. 1 signed by the Managing Director on 2nd October 1947 he agreed to give wages for 3rd October. I have however held that the agreement cannot be regarded as valid and binding as it was obtained by some degree of coercion. As the stay-in strike was attended with some degree of violence, even though only a small percentage of workers might have actually resorted to violence, I cannot agree that the workmen should get wages for the 2nd October 1947. Regarding 3rd October 1947 the evidence of the two workers witnesses is that the Managing Director verbally said that 3rd October 1947 would be a paid holiday; but there is no such note on Ex. 1 which only contains a note that work would be resumed from 4th October 1947. The Company's witnesses did not say that the Managing Director agreed to give a paid holiday on 3rd October 1947, and it is unlikely that the Managing Director should have agreed to a paid holiday on 3rd October 1947 after the damage in the Drawing Office for which some of the workers were responsible. Thus I hold that the workers cannot get wages for 3rd October 1947. As to wages for the lock-out period, the lock-out was to a certain extent justified because the stay-in strike to enforce the demand for a paid holiday for 2nd October 1947 even apart from the violence which attended it, was not a fair means of enforcing the demand. Apart from the violence, the workers imposed wrongful restraint on the Managing Director and other officers, for according to the evidence of Mr. Gardiner the officers and members of the staff who tried to go out for a lunch were prevented from doing so. Further, there was some degree of violence when Mr. R. S. Sarma was assaulted with missiles and the furniture in the Drawing Office and some blue prints were damaged and the telephone exchange box was smashed. Further the Managing Director was constrained to negotiate with the workers in order to get out of the situation and to sign the agreement Ex. 1 against his will. If he had resumed work on 4th October 1947 he could not have said that the agreement had been obtained by coercion, accordingly he had to use the weapon of lock-out in order to get out of the agreement which he was constrained to sign. At the same time, however, I must hold that the lock-out period was prolonged unduly by the Managing Director. Mr. Bangshall, the Works Manager, gave an undertaking to the Labour Commissioner that the factory would be re-opened from 13th October 1947, but the Managing Director did not honour that undertaking given by his representative. Even when an order was issued by the Government of West Bengal under section 10(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act declaring that the lock-out if continued after 17th November 1947 would be illegal, the Managing Director violated the order for as long as he dared, and only when he was threatened with prosecution he re-opened the workshop with effect from 25th November 1947. It has, therefore, been urged that the workmen who suffered by their forced idleness for nearly two months, should get wages for at least some part of the lock-out period. If the Government had not revised the order under section 10(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act, I would have no hesitation in saying that at least from 17th November 1947 the workers would be entitled to get their pay. It appears, however, that the Managing Director satisfied the Government that owing to dislocation caused by the violence of the workers and the delays due to police enquiry, he was not in a position to restart the factory on 17th November 1947 and he obtained further time till 25th November 1947. In the circumstances I do not think that it would be proper to allow wages to the workmen for any part of the lock-out period.

During the hearing of the case the workmen represented that their wages for a period before the incident on 2nd October 1947 has also been withheld by the management and that they had not received the pay for the week from 22nd September to 27th September 1947 and for the three days from 29th September to 1st October 1947. The contention of the Managing Director is that as the workmen caused damage to the Drawing Office and caused a loss of nearly one lakh of rupees to the Company the Company is entitled to withhold wages for the week and three days before 2nd October 1947. I cannot accept this contention of the Managing Director. Wages for the week from 22nd to 27th September and for three days from 29th September to 1st October were earned by the workmen and must be paid to them and the Company is not entitled to withhold the wages on the plea of compensating itself for damage done by only a few workmen out of about 400 workers. Moreover the amount of loss caused has been grossly overestimated by the Managing Director. From the reports of the Factory Inspector and the Investigating Officer it is found that the loss would be in the neighbourhood of ten thousand and not hundred thousand rupees. Accordingly I hold that while the claim for wages for the lock-out period must be rejected, the Company must pay the wages for the week from 22nd September 1947 to 27th September and for the three days from 29th September to 1st October to the workmen, and the Company must do so within one week of this award being brought into force.

Demand No. 13 relates to the service of the men of the Building Department being made permanent. I understand however, from the Managing Director that the men of the Building Department refer to the men employed on the building of the new premises of the Hind Machines, Ltd., and the Company does not do any structural work for other buildings. Accordingly there can be no claim that the men employed on such building work should be made permanent and this demand must be rejected.

Demand No. 14 is that a doctor should be present in the factory throughout the working hours including the overtime. It is admitted that a doctor remains present in the factory during the regular working hours, but not during overtime work. It is, however, necessary that when factory runs overtime, a doctor should be present to attend to any workman who might be injured by the machinery. The Company must make arrangements for the presence of a doctor during overtime hours.

Demand No. 15 relates to better arrangement for drinking water. The Company states that there is a tube-well from which water is pumped and kept in reservoirs. The workers did not suggest what better arrangements could be made. I accordingly reject this demand.

This disposes of the demands not kept open for the general tribunal. In connection with the resumption of the work in the factory from 25th November 1947 under the Order of the West Bengal Government, it is represented by the workers' representatives that out of about 400 workmen on the register about 150 have not been permitted to join by the Company on the ground that they could not produce identity cards; and the workmen's representative by letter, dated 23rd November 1947, gave a list of six workers who had lost their cards and 88 workers who had not obtained the identity cards. The reply of the Company is that every regular worker is given a temporary or permanent identity card and that for loss of identity cards there is a prescribed procedure, but that on the plea that certain workers have not got identity cards, the Labour Union is trying to introduce a new set of undesirable men into the service of the Company. About this point, however, there ought to be no difficulty. Where the Company cannot verify from its records whether a certain person is or is not a regular worker, the Company can arrange for identification by the Foreman in charge of the department or by the departmental mistries or by the Manager of the Employers' Ration Shop from which all regular employees take their rations. The Company must see that advantage is not taken of loss or non-issue of the identity cards to exclude any of the regular workers. Since it is found that there was no valid dismissal of workmen by the Company, but that there was a lock-out, which has ended, all regular workmen must be allowed to come back and join the workshop of the Company and the Company would not be entitled to employ fresh workers without first giving employment to its all regular workers. The Company would, of course, be entitled to suspend such of the workmen as are included in the chargesheet which may be submitted by the police in connection with the incident on 2nd October 1947 and to dismiss such of the workmen as are found guilty and are convicted on trial.

Accordingly the following award is made in this case:—

There was no valid and binding dismissal of the workmen by the Company for the incident on 2nd October 1947, but there was a lock-out which was ended by the order of the West Bengal Government under section 10(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act and all the regular workmen of the Company must be allowed to rejoin their work. As regards regular workmen who may have lost their identity cards or may not have received identity cards, the Company should arrange identification by the Foreman of the Department or by the Departmental Mistries or by the Manager of the Employers' Ration Shop and must allow all regular workers to rejoin.

The agreement signed by the Managing Director on 2nd October 1947 is found not valid and binding as it was obtained by some degree of coercion and therefore the terms contained in that agreement will not come into force, but the old conditions of service will continue until the conditions of service are decided by the General Tribunal appointed for dealing with the dispute between the Engineering Firms and their workers. Demands Nos. 1, 2, 3, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 16 and 17 are left open for decision by the General Tribunal concerning the Engineering Firms. The Company must recognise the Hind Machines Labour Union. The claim for full pay during the declared leave from 21st to 31st October and for the lock-out period is rejected, but the Company must pay the wages for the week from 22nd to 27th September and from 29th September to 1st October 1947, within one week of this award coming into force. It is further directed that for workers who had at least put in 6 months' service before 2nd October 1947, their period of service should be counted for the purpose of gratuity and Provident Fund. The demand that men employed on building the premises of Hind Machines, Ltd., should be given permanent service is rejected. It is directed that the Company should make arrangements for the attendance of a doctor when the workshop works overtime. The claim for better arrangement for drinking water is rejected; the existing arrangement should however be worked satisfactorily.

By order of the Governor,
S. K. CHATTERJEE, Secy.

ANNEXURE.

Industrial Tribunal, Calcutta.

Present: Mr. M. C. BANERJI, ADDITIONAL DISTRICT JUDGE, TRIBUNAL, INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES.

Industrial dispute between Hajee Ismail Sait and Sons, Limited, Russa Distillery, 24-Parganas, and its employees.

Award.

In this dispute the employers are Messrs. Hajee Ismail Sait and Sons, Ltd. This Company carries on business at Russa Distillery, Tollygunj, and manufactures country spirits under the supervision of the Commissioner of Excise, Bengal, and under a license granted by the Government of Bengal. Under the terms of the agreement in the license the Government fixes the prices of the spirits on the basis of the cost price of materials, manufacturing cost and profit to be allowed to the manufacturers, and the Company has to take sanction from the Commissioner of Excise for an increase in the cost of production, so as to enable it to get credit for the same.

The factory workers of this Company formed a Union which was registered as No. 1225 of 6th December 1947. Labour trouble in the distillery commenced in 1942 and continued intermittently, and on 22nd August 1944 there was an award by Government granting dearness allowance to the workers in cash and kind. Rupees 9 was allowed as cash dearness allowance and the value of subsidised ration is alleged by the Union to have been Rs. 12-13. On 23rd December 1947 the factory workers through their Secretary Sj. Atulchandra Ghosh submitted fresh demands. The matter was discussed with the Labour Commissioner and the Special Superintendent of Excise and fresh concessions were granted to workers in January 1947. In May 1947 the Commissioner of Excise revised the grades of pay of the factory workers and also increased the dearness allowance to Rs. 30 with effect from 1st January 1947. The dearness allowance included the benefit from subsidised rations. They were also granted a house allowance of Rs. 3 per month with effect from 1st January 1947. On 8th August 1947, however, fresh demands were submitted to the Company and there was a strike on 15th September 1947. The strike was called off at the intervention of the Labour Commissioner on 17th September 1947 and work was resumed by the factory workers on 18th September 1947. The dispute between the factory workers and the Company was referred by the Government of West Bengal by its Order No. 635Lab., dated the 8th October 1947, to me, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Company employ about 250 factory workers and 52 clerks. This dispute is between the factory workers and the Company. The points of dispute will appear from the issues which are mentioned below:—

The Union was represented by Sj. Atulchandra Ghosh, Secretary, Sj. Banku Behari Samanta, President, M. Ahmed Khan, Assistant Secretary, factory worker, and Sj. Bidhu Bhushan Ghosh, factory worker. The Company was represented by Mr. S. C. Sen, Advocate, Mr. A. Gaffar, Managing Director of the Company, and Mr. Murdoch, Secretary of the Company. Mr. A. K. Mukherji, Special Superintendent of Excise, represented the Commissioner of Excise, West Bengal, at the time of the hearing. The Commissioner of Excise was also summoned as a party to the dispute, as any increase in the cost of production was to be credited by him in fixing the price of the spirits.

Issues.

1. Revision of basic wages and introduction of grade system of salary.
2. Revision of dearness allowance.
3. Recognition of Union.
4. Arrangement for recognition of Provident Fund under Income-Tax Act.
5. Payment of price of the allotment of mustard oil for March 1947.
6. Arrangement for a free canteen.
7. Revision of leave rules.
8. Provision for free quarters or house allowance.

Decisions.

Issue No. 3—Recognition of Union.

The Union has been registered and its register number has been mentioned above. The Union should be recognised by the Company. By recognition, I mean that the employer must recognise the right of the Union to negotiate with him in respect of matters affecting the common and individual interest of the workers. This recognition must, however, be subject to any condition that may be imposed by a statute enacted for the purpose.

Issue No. 1—Revision of basic wages and introduction of grade system of salary; Issue No. 2—Revision of dearness allowance; and Issue No. 6—Arrangement for a free canteen.

These three issues are taken up together for convenience as the questions of basic wages, dearness allowance and free canteen are all linked up together with the items of remuneration granted to the workers.

There was a dispute in August 1944 which was adjudicated on by Mr. R. Gupta, I.C.S., Chief Presidency Magistrate, Calcutta. The Government notification as to this award is on the record. According to this award, the dearness allowance was increased from Rs. 5 in the case of some and Rs. 7 in the case of others to Rs. 9 per month for all workers. Subsidised rations were also supplied to the workers at concessional rates. I am told that the total value of dearness allowance in cash and kind was about Rs. 21-13. The workers prayed for a revision of the remuneration in December 1946 and the Labour Commissioner by his letter No. 556L.C., dated the 18th January 1947, which is on the record, granted some fresh concessions in consultation with the Company. By this letter the working hours were reduced to 45 hours a week, the Sickness Benefit Insurance Scheme of the Government of India was promised to be introduced, waterproofs were agreed to be supplied to drivers and lorry coolies and a cheap canteen was opened with a promise to issue meals worth annas 5 per meal, taking only annas 2 from the workers. This additional benefit of annas 3 per meal was calculated to be worth Rs. 4-14 in the month. The Labour Commissioner did not agree to increase the dearness allowance which was calculated at Rs. 21-13. On 3rd May 1947 the Commissioner of Excise, Bengal, in his letter No. 685E. revised the grades of pay and dearness allowance of the factory workers. The workers heretofore enjoyed no grade scales of salaries. Grade scales of salaries were introduced for the first time by the Commissioner of Excise by this letter, and these grades of pay were permitted to be enforced with effect from 1st January 1947. The grades were at Rs. 30—2—50, Rs. 35—2½—60, Rs. 40—3—70, Rs. 50—3½—85, Rs. 60—3½—95, Rs. 70—4—110, Rs. 90—4½—135, and Rs. 100—5—150.

The Commissioner of Excise also ordered that workers drawing salaries between Rs. 21 and Rs. 24-8 would get the grade of Rs. 30—2—50, workers with actual pay of Rs. 26 to Rs. 29-8 would get the grade of Rs. 35—2½—60, workers who got pay between Rs. 32 and Rs. 34-8 would get the grade of Rs. 40—3—70, workers with actual pay of Rs. 35 to Rs. 42 would get the grade of Rs. 50—3½—85, workers with actual pay of Rs. 45 to Rs. 53 would get the scale of Rs. 60—3½—95, workers getting actual pay of Rs. 55-8 to Rs. 60-8 would get the scale of Rs. 70—4—110, workers with actual pay of Rs. 68 to Rs. 73 would get the scale of Rs. 90—4½—135 and a worker getting Rs. 108 whose salary was fixed at Rs. 115 would get the grade of Rs. 100—5—150. The Commissioner of Excise also increased the dearness allowance with effect from 1st January 1947 to Rs. 30 in cash and kind and further allowed house allowance of Rs. 3 per month from 1st January 1947. The Commissioner of Excise, however, ordered that food from the canteen would be sold to the workers at its actual cost and no concession shall be allowed in this direction. These provisions will appear from the original letter of the Commissioner of Excise which is on the record. As a result of this order of the Commissioner of Excise, the minimum remuneration of a factory worker was fixed at Rs. 63 in basic pay, dearness allowance and house allowance.

These revisions in basic pay and dearness allowance did not, however, satisfy the workers who again began to agitate for more concessions. The letter of the Labour Commissioner to the Secretary of the Union, No. 5412L.C., dated the 5th July 1947, which is on the record, shows that the basic pay and dearness allowance as allowed by the Company in accordance with the letter of the Commissioner of Excise was not agreed to be improved upon and such a claim by the Union was turned down by the Labour Commissioner. This letter is on the record. The workers submitted a list of fresh demands on 8th August 1947. The letter with these demands is on the record. It also appears that while negotiations were going on over these demands, the workers started a strike on the 15th September 1947 and this strike was called off on the 17th September 1947 and work was resumed on 18th September 1947. The letter of the Commissioner of Excise, No. 1155E., dated the 7th October 1947, to the Company, shows that the Commissioner of Excise requested the Company to pay the workers the remuneration for the strike period on the 15th and 16th September. This payment was made. The workers, however, received also salary for the 17th September 1947.

This present reference is based upon the demands of the workers made on 8th August 1947. The present demand of the Union is that the minimum scale of basic pay of an unskilled worker should be at Rs. 40—4—80. There are also other scales of pay as mentioned in the statement of the Union which it is not necessary for me to recapitulate here. The minimum grade-scale fixed by the Commissioner of Excise by his letter No. 685E. is Rs. 30—2—50. This is obviously the pay of an unskilled employee including peons and coolies. The recommendation of the Central Pay Commission shows the minimum pay of an unskilled worker at Rs. 30—½—35, that for a jamadar and dafadar at Rs. 35—1—50 and that for skilled and semi-skilled workers at Rs. 35—1—50 and Rs. 40—1—50—2—60. I have no doubt that the scales of basic pay as recommended by the Commissioner of Excise and allowed by the Company are much more favourable to the employees than the scales of pay recommended by the Central Pay Commission and I am not prepared to make any revision of these grade scales of pay, which appear to me to be quite generous. The claim of revision of basic wages and introduction of different grade systems of salary as raised in issue No. 1 is rejected.

The workers complained to me that some efficient employees should have been given the advantage of higher grades. It is not for me to decide about promotion of deserving cases but for the Company to judge the merits of any particular worker that may entitle him to a promotion to a higher grade of salary. The workers may represent their grievances to the Company in this respect.

I next take up the question of revision of dearness allowance. According to the recommendations of the Central Pay Commission, the minimum living wage for an unskilled worker has been fixed at Rs. 30 in basic pay and Rs. 25 in dearness allowance. For employees in Calcutta there is also recommendation for the payment of Rs. 10 as house allowance and Rs. 5 as compensatory allowance. The factory is situated at Basanta Lal Saha Road at Tollygunj within the Behala Municipality. Accepting that the workers have to live in the city of Calcutta, the most that can be claimed by them is a total remuneration of Rs. 70 and not more. At present they are getting Rs. 63 including house allowance. I propose to give them an additional advantage of Rs. 6-4 including the advantage of the canteen, for which they pressed before me rather strongly. The workers wanted the dearness allowance of Rs. 30 in cash. My award is that the workers shall get the dearness allowance of Rs. 30 in cash.

I am told that the daily average of workers that take meals in the canteen would be about 215. Calculating the cost of a meal at 4 annas per day; the cost of a meal for one worker in a month of 26 working days is Rs. 6-8. The cost of food of 215 workers would be about Rs. 1,400. My award is that out of this sum the Company would contribute monthly a sum of Rs. 700 for the cost of the canteen, thus granting an additional allowance of Rs. 3-4 to each worker. The rooms, electricity and utensils for the canteen shall also be supplied by the Company. The canteen, however, shall be managed entirely by the workers at their own cost with the subsidy of Rs. 700 per month from the Company.

The workers should also get an additional house allowance of Rs. 3, making the total house allowance at Rs. 6 in the month. The minimum total remuneration of a worker will, therefore, amount to Rs. 69-4 in the month. I do consider that this increase in the house allowance and the subsidy to the canteen as mentioned above should satisfy the workers.

Mr. A. K. Mukherji, Special Superintendent of Excise, who represented the Commissioner of Excise, West Bengal, before me, refrained from passing any opinion on the proposal of the increments mentioned above when I confidentially expressed to him my decision about these points. I consider that the Commissioner of Excise should have no objection to granting increments and concessions as decided by me above and that these extra costs should be credited for in calculating the total costs of the manufactured commodity in the factory.

The Ration Shop for rationed articles should be continued and rationed articles should be sold at controlled rates.

These issues are accordingly answered.

Issue No. 4—Arrangement for recognition of Provident Fund under Income-Tax Act.

The Company assured me that the permission of the Income-Tax Commissioner for the starting of the provident fund has been obtained and that they would start the provident fund with effect from January 1948. The Union also claimed that the Company should contribute a sum of Rs. 10,000 to the fund. The Company refused to do so. I do not consider that there is any justification to force the Company to deposit any amount of money in excess of the amount required under the rules of the provident fund.

Issue No. 5—Payment of price of the allotment of mustard oil for March 1947.

Since the adjudication on 22nd August 1944 the employees were getting mustard oil at concessional rates. Each worker used to get half a seer of mustard oil per week at 10 annas per seer. Government control over mustard oil was abolished in March 1947 and the Company stopped supplying the mustard oil in March 1947. The Union claims that as no mustard oil was supplied in the month of March 1947, the Company should give each worker compensation for the difference between the market price and the concessional price for two seers of mustard oil for the month of March 1947. The Company stated before me that they were willing to pay this difference in price by January 1948. It was not stated before me what was the market price of mustard oil in March 1947. I fix it at Rs. 2-4 per seer. The Company would, therefore, pay Rs. 3-4 being the difference in price for two seers of mustard oil to every worker for the month of March 1947.

Issue No. 7—Revision of leave rules.

The factory workers at present enjoy festival holidays of 27 days in the year, privilege leave of 10 days and medical leave of 10 days with full pay in the year. They also get an additional medical leave of 30 days in the year on half pay in the case of prolonged illness. Workers claim privilege leave of 30 days in the year, casual leave of 30 days in the year and medical leave of 30 days in the year with full pay. It was urged that the clerical staff enjoy greater advantages of leave and that there was no reason why factory workers also would not get the same periods of leave. Under the Factories Act a worker is to be given a continuous period of 10 days' leave in the year. That is allowed in this Company. The Company also allows festival holidays of 27 days in the year and medical leave of 10 days with full pay and 30 days with half pay. Considering that the cost of the establishment is being increased by this award, which only can be compensated for by increased production, I am not in favour of reducing the working hours of the workers and I, therefore, do not allow any increase in the period of leave than that in existence. I do consider that leave enjoyed by the workers of this Company is quite reasonable. This issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 8—Provision for free quarters or house allowance.

This question has been adequately disposed of in the decision of issue Nos. 1, 2 and 6 where the house allowance has been increased from Rs. 3 to Rs. 6.

I would urge upon the workers of the factory to justify the increased cost of production by a greater output of work.

This award shall be in force with effect from 8th October 1947, the date of the reference of the case to the Tribunal.

By order of the Governor,
S. K. CHATTERJEE, Secy.

ORDER.

No. 1103Lab.—30th December 1947.—Whereas under the Government of Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 297-Lab., dated 16th July 1947, as amended by the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 428Lab., dated 9th September 1947, the industrial dispute between the Asansol Distillery, Asansol, district Burdwan, Managing Agents, Messrs. Carew & Co., Ltd., 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and their employees as represented by the Distillery Workers' Union, Nursamooda, Asansol, district Burdwan, was referred for adjudication to Mr. N. C. Chakravarty, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Mr. N. C. Chakravarty, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act, that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Mr. N. C. Chakravarty, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company aforesaid and their employees as specified therein and shall remain in operation for a period of one year with effect from 1st July 1947.

ANNEXURE.

Award.

By Government order No. 279Lab., dated 16th July 1947, Mr. H. G. Waight was appointed the Tribunal under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, for adjudication of the dispute between the Asansol Distillery, Asansol, district Burdwan, Managing Agents, Messrs. Carew & Co., Ltd., 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and their employees as represented by the Distillery Workers' Union, Nursamooda, Asansol, district Burdwan. The services of Mr. Waight no longer being available, I was appointed the Tribunal to continue the proceedings and to adjudicate the dispute. The Distillery was permitted to be represented in these proceedings by Messrs. Fowler & Co., solicitors. The employees were permitted to be represented by Babu Bireswar Ghosh and later by Babu S. B Dutta Roy of the Distillery Workers' Union.

2. Being dissatisfied with the terms of employment and conditions of labour the employees organised a Trade Union to help redressing their grievances. The Union was formed on the 27th of December 946 and it presented to the Distillery a number of demands on the 3rd of January 1947. Hereinafter the Distillery shall be referred to as the Company. Though the demands made by the employees through the Union were received by the Company, there was no response The Company explained its position by pleading that the Union having not been registered in accordance with the provisions of the Indian Trade Unions Act, 1926, it was not competent to present the demands and to negotiate a settlement. On the 17th May 1947, the Union served a 14-days' notice of strike unless the demands were met. On the 1st of June 1947, the employees went on a strike. On the 16th June 1947 the Labour Commissioner appears to have made certain recommendations to the Company on the demands of the Union for Company's acceptance. The recommendations, however, were not accepted. The Government, therefore, referred the dispute to the Tribunal on the 16th July 1947. The employees called off the strike on the 29th July 1947. It transpired during the proceedings before the Tribunal only on 15th October 1947 that the Union of the employees had not till then been registered. Registration of the Union is a condition precedent to representation of the employees by the Union in a proceeding under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The Tribunal was informed on the 15th November 1947 by the Labour Commissioner that the Union had since been registered. This explains the delay in taking up the matter for hearing by the Tribunal. I now pass on to the consideration of the framed issues.

Issue No. 1.—Recognition of the Union.

3. In view of the fact that the Union had since been duly registered, under the law the Company withdrew at the last stage of the hearing, very rightly, its objections to recognition of the Union. My award, therefore, is that the Company shall recognise the Distillery Workers' Union as the representative body of the employees and allow it to negotiate with the Company in respect of matters affecting either the common or individual interest of the employees. The award is given subject to the provisions of the Bill now before the Indian Legislative Assembly on the subject of recognition of Trade Unions.

4. The employees also demanded suitable office accommodation for the Union within the Mill premises. The Company had objections on the avowed ground that there was no such accommodation to spare. I could not be impressed with the reasonableness of the employees' demand for accommodation of the Union office to be arranged for by the Company. My award is that the demand in this respect is rejected. The employees shall make their own arrangements for accommodating their Union office.

Issue No. 2.—Service Rules.

5. The dispute on this subject is covered by the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946. It appears that the Company has not yet submitted the standing orders to the Certifying Officer. The attention of the Company was drawn to this by the Additional Labour Commissioner by his letter No. 5032L.C., dated the 16th June . 1947. There was a direction for immediate compliance. Even at the hearing it was confessed on behalf of the Company that it had not till then submitted the standing orders to the Certifying Officer. The Company assured me that it would submit draft standing orders to the Certifying Officer by the January 1948. This assurance does not concern me much in so far as the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act fully covers the subject and provides for penalties for failure to submit the draft standing orders as required by the Act. On a subject covered by a statute the adjudicator must not go ahead of or against it. In the circumstances I have no award to give. The authorities are free to enforce the provisions of the statute for the reason of failure to comply with them.

Issue No. 3.—Daily basic wages for male and female unskilled daily labourers.

6. The demand of the employees was that the daily minimum basic wage for male and female unskilled daily labpurers should not be less than Re. 1 per day. The employees referred to the recommendations of the Central Pay Commission in support of their claim. On behalf of the Company it was offered that Rs. 45 to Rs. 48, inclusive of dearness allowance, should be fixed as the total earnings of a daily rated labourer. It was contended on behalf of the Company that wage rates in its three concerns (at Asansol, at Darsana in Eastern Pakistan, and the other somewhere in the United Provinces) should be at par. This contention cannot have any force to influence my decision, because I have nothing to do with the terms of employment or the conditions of labour in Company's other concerns in a different Province or in a different State. The case of the employees of the Company at its Asansol Distillery should be considered at its own merits. The Central Pay Commission has considered the subject of minimum basic pay in details. Its method of approach to the subject rejects all objections against advancement of remuneration rates. The redistribution of income tending in favour of lower income classes is absolutely necessary, because no man can be paid less than a living wage. To pay a living wage is an obligation which is attached to the employer who chooses to employ a worker unless, of course, exploitation of the labour is to be permitted. The Company pleaded inability to undertake financial obligations to the extent the demands of the employees, even in a reduced form, would throw upon it. The capacity of the industry to pay is a consideration which may pertinently arise for making allowance or disallowance in connection with grade scales above the minimum. Such a consideration, however, cannot arise while fixing the minimum basic wage as the living wage just above the poverty line. The Central Pay Commission has recommended a monthly wage of Rs. 30 as minimum, exclusive of the dearness allowance for unskilled labourer. I have no materials before me for holding that the minimum basic wage for unskilled labourers in the Asansol Distillery should be less than Re. 1 per day, as demanded by the employees. My award, therefore, is that the minimum basic wage for male and female unskilled daily labourers is fixed at Re. 1 per day, exclusive of dearness allowance.

Issue No. 4.—Dearness allowance.

7. The demand of the employees is that dearness allowance should be fixed at Rs. 30 per month for all employees drawing wages up to Rs. 200 per month. The Company has a scheme of dearness allowances which has been in operation since the 1st of July 1947. The rates are as follows:—

(a) On salaries up to and including Rs. 41 per month, a consolidated dearness allowance of Rs. 15 per month.

(b) On salaries above Rs. 41 up to Rs. 101, inclusive, a consolidated dearness allowance of 33⅓ per cent. (5 annas per Rupee) of such salaries.

(c) On salaries above Rs. 101 up to Rs. 250, inclusive, a consolidated dearness allowance of 22½ per cent. on such salaries.

There are other rates for salaries above Rs. 250 We are, however, not concerned with them in so far as the present dispute is with regard to minimum dearness allowance payable to employees drawing wages up to only Rs. 200 per month. The Central Pay Commission has recommended dearness allowance of Rs. 25 on the price index level of Rs. 260 to Rs. 280. There has since been a further rise in the price index level to justify a further increase of Rs. 5 in terms of the recommendations of the Central Pay Commission. There are no arguments available to fix the minimum dearness allowance at present at a sum below Rs. 30 per month. My award, therefore, is that the Company shall follow its scheme for dearness allowance, which has been in operation since 1st July 1947, subject to this modification that none of the employees drawing wages up to Rs. 200 per month shall be paid a minimum dearness allowance of less than Rs. 30 per month.

Issue No. 5.—General increase of 25 per cent. of present wages of all employees other than the unskilled.

Issue No. 11.—Grading of work and fixing rates for each grade.

8. The case of the employees is that since many years there has been no increment in wages. They consider it to be necessary that there should be a grade scale fixed and that as a temporary measure a general increase of 25 per cent. should be granted, fixing the minimum basic wage for monthly rated unskilled workmen at Rs. 30. The Company conceded that once the minimum basic wage was fixed, other salaries would have to be brought into line. At the same time it maintained that increment of wage rates would throw an impossible financial burden. The profit and loss balance-sheets of the Company for the last three preceding years have been placed before me confidentially. I have looked into them. The interest of the employees as also of the Company are equally under my care. I propose to do nothing which will throw an impossible financial burden upon the Company. I am not in favour of a general temporary increase of 25 per cent., because it has been found possible during the hearing to have materials before me reasonably sufficient for fixing the grades of work. That places me in a position to fix the minimum basic wages for each grade of work. Fixing the minimum basic wage is a quite different matter than fixing the grade scales above the minimum. In the latter case the idea is to secure for the workers a better standard of living. The Company complained that it depended on its supply of spirit upon its factory at Darsana in Eastern Pakistan. It apprehended that owing to political changes, large allowance shall have to be made in expecting regular and sufficient supplies. Company's principal income is from potable liquor, the production of which is dependent on supply of spirit from Darsana. The Company also manufactures country liquor under a Government contract at a fixed price. I expect that Company's apprehension in this respect may eventually prove to be unsubstantial. Till that stage is reached when an adjustment is found possible, I should better be advised not to throw too heavy a financial burden upon the Company at a transitional stage. Wage scale increment is ordinarily made on yearly basis. My award can have force under the Act only for a period of one year as the maximum. Therefore by the day the increment of wages would fall due, should I fix the wage scales, my award would be ineffective. In the circumstances it is advisable that I should not, just now, fix the wage scales above the minimum grade rates in expectation of a future still unknown.

9. During the hearing, the employees placed before me a list of workmen, both clerical and manual. Both parties offered suggestions on the subject of grading the work according to skill and also on the question of fixing the minimum basic wages for each grade and of increase above the minimum Having considered carefully the contentions of the parties, I have, with the materials placed before me, grouped the workmen into different categories as in Annexure A. The annexure forms part of my award. The dynamo and pump drivers merely watch the working and report to the head mistry any disturbance. It is the head mistry alone whose duty is to work the dynamos and the pumps. I have, therefore, accepted the contention of the Company that these drivers should be grouped as semi-skilled manual workers. All peons have been, for obvious reasons, grouped as unskilled manual workmen. The stencil marking painter is really a brush-man He has, therefore, been grouped as an unskilled manual worker. The stores issuer is in fact a store coolie. He has, therefore, been grouped as an unskilled manual workman. The firemen have been grouped as skilled manual workers, because the Company pleaded for them for the reason of the high efficiency they were maintaining and further because their work is highly disagreeable.

10. In fixing the minimum basic wages for each category of worker I preferred to follow, as far as practicable, the recommendations of the Central Pay Commission, looking to the degree of skill required in a distillery. For the clerks I consider that minimum basic wage should be Rs. 55 per month. For the unskilled manual workmen the minimum basic wage per month should be Rs. 30. For the semi-skilled manual workmen the minimum basic wage should be Rs. 35 per month, and for the skilled Rs. 40. This is exclusive of dearness allowance.

11. The question is how without fixing the wage scales above the minimum the wages of workman, drawing at present the minimums now fixed and above thereof, may still be adjusted. I have already disapproved the suggestion of the employees that there should be a general increase of 25 per cent. That does not solve the problem satisfactorily. In my opinion the right course would be to maintain the present difference between these individuals, as far as practicable. In no case, however, should the increase, in any particular case, be more than 25 per cent. as claimed by the employees. In actual calculation however various surds created difficulties which could not be better overcome otherwise than by doing what would appear in Annexure A. The Head Clerk and the Head Mistry are already being paid salaries suitable to their work. Therefore I propose to make an exception in their cases and allow no further increase at present. Annexure A shows the rates of pay at present and the increase granted. I give my award accordingly on these two issues.

Issue No. 6.—Profit-sharing bonus.

12. The contention of the Company is that profit-sharing bonus can be claimed only in respect of a specific service year in which there has been a profit and that no such claim can be made in respect of future years during which it is unknown whether the Company will at all make any profit. There is considerable force in the contention in so far as no question of bonus as a share of the profits can arise unless there has been a profit made. The claim as made by the empoyees is vague and that renders it; on the materials placed before me, impossible to draw up a scheme reasonably workable in future years. For these reasons I give my award against the employees.

Issue No. 7.—Provident Fund.

13. The Company has Provident Fund Rules which came into effect on the 1st of July 1946. Subscription at 6¼ per cent. of the employees' monthly emoluments is compulsory for every permanent employee whose monthly emoluments are not less than Rs. 40. At less than that sum, subscription is optional. There cannot be any question that subscription should be compulsory for every permanent employee and that the employer should also make a contribution equal to the amount subscribed by the employee. There was a difference during the hearing whether the rate of subscription should be left at 6¼ per cent. or increased to 8¼ per cent. The Company was in favour of the lower rate while the employees were in favour of the higher. I consider that the rate of 6¼ per cent. is sufficiently high and that it need not be raised any further. I give my award accordingly. Company's Provident Fund Rules shall remain in force subject to this modification that all permanent employees whose monthly emoluments are even below Rs. 40 shall also be entitled to benefits thereunder.

Issue No. 8.—Gratuity.

14. On this subject also the demand of the employees is rather vague. At the hearing on behalf of the employees it was urged that once the principle was accepted the details might be settled between the Company and the employees' Union. In so far as that was the final shape which the demand took, I have no difficulty in accepting the principle that there should be provisions for old age made by the employer. In so far as I was not finally called upon to go into details they are not included in my award. I may point out to the parties that a scheme for providing against old age, sickness, accident, etc., is before the Indian Legislature in the shape of a Bill.

Issue No. 9.—Leave.

15. The claim of the employees is that they should have one month's privilege leave, one month's sick and four days' festival leave with full pay. The Company has Leave Rules whereby an employee, who has put in twelve months' continuous service, is granted fifteen days' combined sickness and casual leave with pay, plus an additional one day for every one year's service after the first year up to a maximum—in all of twenty-one days per year. In case of prolonged sickness, supported by a medical certificate, sick leave may be extended to thirty-one days by the Manager. Further extension of sick leave can be made by the head office alone. In addition to sickness and casual leave festival holidays, numbering four to seven days per year, are granted with full pay. The Leave Rules of the Company are, therefore, more liberal than the minimum provided for in the amended Factories Act. After a negotiation during the hearing the parties agreed that all employees, who have put in twelve months' continuous service, would be entitled to twenty-one days' combined privilege, sick and casual leave over and above the festival holidays. My award, therefore, is that the Company's Leave Rules shall undergo modification to the extent now agreed between the parties and that the employees shall be entitled to leave accordingly.

Issue No. 10.—Free quarters/house allowance.

16. The employees claim that free quarters should be provided for all the employees and that to all those, who are not provided with such quarters, a compensatory allowance at 10 per cent. of pay should be granted including even those who live in their own houses. The Company is agreeable to provide with free quarters only those of the employees who are not local men and do not live in their own houses. It is agreeable to compensate those whom it cannot so provide with quarters at a flat rate of Rs. 5 per month. I could not be impressed that even those, who live in their own houses, should be allowed a compensatory house allowance. I, therefore, find that only those, who do not live in their own houses, should be provided with free quarters or granted a compensatory allowance. The rate of such compensatory allowance shall be Rs. 5 for those who receive a basic wage up to Rs. 50, and Rs. 7-8 who receive a basic wage up to Rs. 75 and Rs. 10 for those who receive a basic wage up to Rs. 100. Above these, the compensatory house allowance shall be at 10 per cent. I give my award accordingly.

Issue No. 12.—Medical arrangement.

17. The number of employees employed in the Distillery at Asansol is about 200. The Company has a well-equipped dispensary in charge of a trained compounder. The Company's doctor is available for free medical attendance to all employees and their families upon arrangement. The doctor does not attend the dispensary at any stated hour. After a negotiation during the hearing it was agreed between the parties that the doctor shall attend the dispensary daily at an hour arranged with him and render free medical help. In all other respects the existing arrangement shall continue. This is my award on this issue.

Issue No. 13.—Acting allowance.

18. The employees demanded that those acting in vacancies in the higher rated jobs should be paid an acting allowance. The issue does not any further arise in so far as I have graded the jobs according to skill and have also fixed the rates for each grade of work. Therefore an employee doing a job graded higher, even who is acting against a vacancy, shall receive the higher basic wage fixed for the job of that grade. I give my award accordingly.

Issue No. 14.—Rations at controlled prices.

19. The concessions received by the employees through supply of rations at controlled rates shall no longer be available in so far as a consolidated dearness allowance at a higher rate has been allowed The demand in this respect is disallowed.

Issue No. 15.—Daily paid coolies to be employed 6 days in the week.

20. Casual labour is always employed to work off casual pressure of work. Therefore it will be improper to direct that casual labourers must always be employed for six days in the week irrespective of justification by available work. The demand in this respect is, therefore, disallowed.

Issue No. 16.—Withdrawal of notice of discharge on Kaloo Bauri, Madhav Majhi, Nalini Chatterjee, Banko Behari Das, Rai Pada Singh, Kali Pada Bauri, Madhab Das, Atul Majhi and Gopal Bauri.

21. The history of the matter is this. The work in the bottling godown was at a standstill and it had to be closed temporarily. The bottling godown staff were given discharge notice with option to accept alternative jobs. Out of the nine employees, three left without accepting alternative jobs and four have been re-employed. The remaining two, Kaloo Bauri and Madhab alias Motor Majhi, refused to accept the alternative jobs offered. The case of the employees was that the jobs offered to these two workmen were humiliating. Kaloo Bauri's work was labelling the bottles. He was asked to do the measuring. Motor Majhi's work was marking. He was asked to check the empty bottles. I should consider that fairly good alternative work was offered to these two workmen. In the circumstances they had no justification in refusing to accept the alternative jobs. I am, therefore, unable to direct that discharge notices upon these two workmen should be withdrawn This is my award.

Issue No. 17.—Accumulation of casual leave.

22. The issue does not arise in so far as the parties have agreed to consolidated sickness and casual leave for twenty-one days. In the circumstances casual leave cannot be separated for accumulation. The demand in this respect is, therefore, disallowed.

Issue No. 18.—Compensation for failure to supply the rationed foodstuff.

23. This issue also does not arise in so far as on the fixation of a higher dearness allowance no food concessions shall any longer be available.

Issue No. 19.—Strike pay.

Issue No. 20.—Tribunal's award if to be retroactive.

24. The strike was commenced by the Union on the 1st of June 1947. The Company had real difficulties in negotiating with the Union which was not registered under the law. Such a Union has no legal standing. On the 16th of July 1947, the Additional Labour Commissioner by his letter No. 5032L G made certain recommendations on the demands of the Union for acceptance of the Company. Company's difficulty in negotiating directly with an unregistered Union should not have, on any reason, stood in the way of negotiating with the Labour Commissioner on the basis of his recommendations. Had that course been adopted, I have no doubt that the strike would have ended early in July 1947. The employees were wrongly advised in going on strike at the instance of officials of a Union which they had not got registered to give it a legal standing. The Company apparently appreciated weakness of its case arising out of its default in not responding to the recommendations of the Labour Commissioner and agreed that the award in these proceedings may have effect from the 1st of July 1947. This implied that the employees would also get their strike pay from the 1st of July 1947. For the reasons above I am not inclined to give an award for strike pay for the month of June. The Company shall pay the employees pay and allowance at the rate allowed by this award from the 1st of July 1947. The award in this respect alone will thus have retroactive operation from that date. I give my award on both these issues as above.

CHAPTER II.

CONSERVATION OF PRIVATE FORESTS AND AFFORESTATION OF WASTE-LANDS.

Preparation of, and appeal and revision in respect of working plans for private forests.

3. (1) The Provincial Government may, by notification, direct that every owner of a private forest which is not a vested forest, but which is situated within such area as may be specified in the notification, shall prepare in the prescribed manner and submit within the period mentioned in the notification to the Regional Forest-officer a working plan for the conservation of such private forest.

(2) On the expiry of the period mentioned in the notification under sub-section (1), the Regional Forest-officer shall, after considering each working plan submitted to him under that sub-section, and after consultation in the manner prescribed with the Conservator of Forests of the forest circle within which such forest is situated, by an order in writing, accept the working plan or modify it in such manner as he may consider necessary or substitute another working plan for it.

(3) If any owner of such private forest does not submit a working plan within the period specified in the notification issued under sub-section (1), the Regional Forest-officer may, after consultation in the manner prescribed with the Conservator of Forests of the forest circle within which such forest is situated, prepare a working plan in respect of such forest.

(4) When the Regional Forest-officer by an order in writing modifies any working plan under sub-section (2) or substitutes another working plan under that sub-section for the working plan submitted under sub-section (1), he shall cause a copy of such order to be served in the prescribed manner upon the owner of such private forest to which such working plan relates and such owner may, within sixty days of the date of service of such order, appeal against such order to the Appellate Committee and the Appellate Committee may thereupon, after giving such owner an opportunity of being heard, by an order in writing, either accept the working plan with or without modifications or reject it and the decision of the Appellate Committee on every such appeal shall, subject to the provisions of sub-section (5), be final.

(5) The Board of Revenue may, on application by an owner of a private forest for revision of an order of the Appellate Committee passed in appeal under sub-section (4), and if such application is made within thirty days from the date of the order, call for the record of the appeal in which the order was passed and on receipt of such record, after giving such owner an opportunity of being heard, may, if it does not see fit to reject the application, direct the Appellate Committee by an order in writing to make such modifications in the working plan accepted by the said Committee under sub-section (4) as may be specified in such order in writing.

(6) The Board of Revenue shall, as soon as may be after an application for revision is disposed of under sub-section (5), communicate the order passed by it on such application to the Appellate Committee, and on receipt of such order the Appellate Committee shall, where the Board of Revenue has directed any modification to be made in such working plan, modify it accordingly.

Approved working plans.

4. (1) When the Appellate Committee accepts any working plan with or without modification under sub-section (4) of section 3, or modifies any working plan under sub-section (6) of the said section, or the Regional Forest-officer accepts, modifies or substitutes any working plan under the said section, or prepares any working plan under the said section, such Committee or officer shall by an order in writing approve such working plan or the working plan as so modified by the Committee or such officer, as the case may be, and every working plan so approved shall be deemed for the purposes of this Act to be an approved working plan:

Provided that the Regional Forest-officer shall not so approve any working plan that he has modified or substituted by an order under sub-section (2) of section 3 if,—

(a) an appeal against the order has been made to the Appellate Committee; or

(b) where no such appeal has been made, the time within which such appeal may be made has not expired:

Provided further that the Appellate Committee shall not so approve any working plan accepted by it with or without modification by an order under sub-section (4) of section 3 if,—

(a) where an application for revision of the order has been made to the Board of Revenue, the order of the Board of Revenue on such application has not been received by such Committee; or

(b) where no such application for revision has been made, the time within which such application may be made has not expired.

(2) A copy of every approved working plan shall be sent in the prescribed manner by the Regional Forest-officer to the owner of the private forest to which it relates and the owner shall thereupon manage such forest in accordance with such plan and shall carry out all the terms and conditions thereof.

(3) At any time after five years from the date of approval of a working plan under sub-section (1), or with the previous sanction of the Provincial Government at any time within the said period of five years, a Regional Forest-officer may, after consultation in the manner prescribed with the Conservator of Forests of the forest circle within which the forest to which such working plan relates is situated, by an order in writing, modify the approved working plan in such manner as he considers necessary and the provisions of sub-sections (4), (5) and (6) of section 3 and sub-sections (1) and (2) of this section shall apply to every plan so modified:

Provided that nothing in this section shall prevent the owner after the expiry of the said period of five years from applying in writing to the Regional Forest-officer for the modification of the working plan in such manner as may be specified in the application and if the Regional Forest-officer, after giving the owner an opportunity of being heard, does not see fit after such consultation as aforesaid so to modify the working plan, he shall record an order to that effect and the owner may within thirty days from the date of such order appeal against such order to the Appellate Committee and an application for revision shall also lie to the Board of Revenue from any order passed by the Appellate Committee on such appeal if presented within thirty days from the date of such order and the decision of the Appellate Committee on such appeal shall, subject to such revision by the Board of Revenue, be final.

Prohibition of leases and extension of terms of existing leases of private forests after issue of notification under section 3 (1).

5. After the publication of a notification under sub-section (1) of section 3, no owner of a private forest in the notified area shall enter into any new lease or extend the term of any existing lease in respect of such forest until the working plan in respect of such forest has been approved under sub-section (1) of section 4 except with the previous sanction of the Provincial Government and, after such working plan has been so approved, except in accordance with the terms and conditions of such plan and any lease entered into or any extension of the term of any lease granted in contravention of the provisions of this section shall, notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, be void and have no effect.

Penalty for the violation of working plan.

6. (1) If after an approved working plan in respect of any private forest has been sent under sub-section (2) of section 4 to the owner of such forest, such owner fails or neglects to carry out any of the terms and conditions of such plan, he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees:

Provided that no prosecution shall be instituted under this sub-section unless the Regional Forest-officer has served in the prescribed manner a notice on such owner specifying the terms and conditions of the working plan which such owner has failed or neglected to carry out and requiring such owner to take such steps for carrying them out as are specified in the notice within thirty days from the date of service of such notice and unless such owner has failed to comply with such notice.

(2) If the owner of a private forest is convicted a second or subsequent time under sub-section (1) for the failure or neglect to carry out any of the terms and conditions of the working plan in respect of such forest, the Provincial Government may, by a notification, direct that the control of such forest shall be vested in such Regional Forest-officer for such period as may be specified in such notification:

Provided that no such notification shall be issued until such owner has been called upon by notice in writing by the Regional Forest-officer within sixty days of such conviction to show cause before the Appellate Committee within such time as may be specified in the notice as to why such notification should not be issued and until the Appellate Committee, after considering the cause, if any, shown by him and any evidence which he may produce in support thereof, has recommended to the Provincial Government that such notification should be issued.

(3) Nothing in sub-section (1) shall render any owner of any private forest liable to conviction for any deviation from any approved working plan if such deviation has been previously sanctioned by the Regional Forest-officer on application made by such owner in that behalf to such officer or by the Appellate Committee on an appeal from an order of the Regional Forest-officer refusing to sanction such deviation presented by the owner to such committee within thirty days from the date of such order.

Vesting of forest in a Regional Forest-officer.

7. Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 3 and 4 or in sub-section (2) of section 6, if the Provincial Government is satisfied that the conservation of any private forest in a notified area should not be left to the owner thereof, the Provincial Government may, by a notification specifying the reasons for so doing, direct that the control of such forest shall be vested in such Regional Forest-officer for such period as may be specified in the notification:

Provided that no such notification shall be issued until,—

(a) the Regional Forest-officer has, by notice in writing, called upon the owner of such forest to show cause before the Appellate Committee within such period as may be specified in such notice why the control of such forest should not be so vested, and

(b) the Appellate Committee after considering the cause, if any, shown by the owner and any evidence which the owner may produce in support of the same has recommended that such notification should be issued.

Forest loans.

8. (1) Subject to rules made under this Act, loans may be granted on the recommendation of the Appellate Committee by such officer as may be empowered in this behalf by the Provincial Government to any owner of a controlled forest or of a vested forest who, in the opinion of the Appellate Committee, is likely to suffer unduly owing to any temporary reduction of his income resulting from any action taken under section 4 or sub-section (2) of section 6 or section 7 or to any owner of a controlled forest to enable such owner to pay any compensation payable by him under sub-section (6) of section 10 or sub-section (2) of section 25.

(2) An application for such a loan shall be made in the prescribed manner to the Appellate Committee and shall state the following particulars, namely:—

(b) the reasons for which it is necessary, and

(c) the period for which it is required.

The West Bengal Private Forests Bill, 1948.

(Chapter II—Conservation of Private Forests and Afforestation of Waste-lands.—Clauses 9, 10.)

(3) After considering in the prescribed manner the application made under sub-section (2) and any evidence that may be produced in support thereof, the Appellate Committee shall state in writing its opinion as to whether or not a loan should be given, and, if it recommends the grant of a loan, shall forward the application to the officer empowered under sub-section (1) with its opinion, stating the reasons for such recommendation and specifying the following particulars, namely:—

(a) the amount of the loan that should be granted and the rate of the interest that should be charged,

(b) the instalments in which the loan should be advanced, and

(c) the period after which and the instalments in which the loan should be repaid.

(4) Subject to rules made under this Act all loans granted under sub-section (1), all interests, if any, chargeable thereon and costs, if any, incurred in granting such loans shall, when they become due, be recoverable by the Collector as if they were arrears of land revenue due in respect of the controlled forest or the vested forest of which the borrower was the owner at the time the loan was granted:

Provided that no proceeding in respect of any such forest under this sub-section shall affect any interest in that forest which existed before the date of the order granting the loan other than the interest of the borrower and of mortgagees of, or persons having charges on, the interest of the borrower.

Amalgamation of two or more vested forests under one working plan.

9. (1) If, after consultation in the prescribed manner with the Conservator of Forests of the forest circle within which the forests are situated, a Regional Forest-officer is of the opinion that it is impossible otherwise to secure the conservation of two or more forests, belonging to different owners, of which the control has been vested in him by a notification under sub-section (2) of section 6 or under section 7, he may record an order that such forests shall be managed under one working plan as if they belonged to one owner, and shall cause a copy of such order to be served in the prescribed manner on the owner of each such forest.

(2) The Regional Forest-officer may at any time, after consultation in the manner referred to in sub-section (1), by order in writing rescind or modify an order passed by him under that sub-section and a copy of every order passed under this sub-section shall be served in the prescribed manner on the owner of each such forest.

(3) Any owner or other person interested in any such forests may, within thirty days from the date on which the copy of any order passed under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) is served on him, appeal against such order to the Appellate Committee and the decision of the Appellate Committee on such appeal shall, subject to the provisions of sub-section (4), be final.

(4) The Board of Revenue may, on application made within thirty days from the date of any order of the Appellate Committee passed in appeal under sub-section (3), revise such order.

Afforestation of land adjoining a forest.

10. (1) The Provincial Government may, if it is satisfied on application made by the owner of a controlled forest, or by the Regional Forest-officer in whom the control of a private forest is vested under this Act, that any land adjoining such forest has not been cultivated during the three years immediately preceding the year in which such application is made and that such land is suitable for afforestation, by notification, announce its intention to declare such land to be liable to be made over to the owner of such controlled forest or vested forest, as the case may be.

(2) Every notification issued under sub-section (1) shall specify a period within which objections to the proposed declaration may be submitted by any person interested in such land to the Appellate Committee and a copy of every such notification shall be served in the prescribed manner on the person entitled to cultivate such land.

(Chapter. II—Conservation of Private Forests and Afforestation of Waste-lands.—Clause 10.)

(3) After the expiry of the period so specified in a notification issued under sub-section (1), the Appellate Committee shall hear the objections, if any, submitted by the person entitled to cultivate such land or any other person interested in such land and any evidence which any such person may produce in support of the same and forward the objections so submitted and its opinion thereon to the Provincial Government.

(4) If, after considering the objections and the opinion of the Appellate Committee forwarded under sub-section (3), the Provincial Government is of opinion that such land should be declared to be liable to be made over to the owner of the controlled or vested forest referred to in sub-section (1), the Provincial Government shall issue a notification—

(a) declaring such land to be liable to be made over to the owner of such forest to be specified in the notification,

(b) specifying as nearly as possible the situation and limits of such land, and

(c) appointing a Forest Settlement-officer to determine, subject to any rules made under this Act, by an order in writing,—

(i) what rights in or over such land shall be extinguished, and

(ii) what rent, if any, shall be payable by the owner of such forest to any landlord of such land.

(5) When a notification has been issued under sub-section (4), the amount of the compensation payable under sub-section (6) to every person whose rights as specified by the Forest Settlement-officer under sub-clause (i) of clause (c) of sub-section (4) are to be extinguished shall be determined, subject to any rules made under this Act, in the manner and in accordance with the principles hereinafter set out, that is to say—

(i) when the amount of compensation can be fixed by the Forest Settlement-officer appointed under clause (c) of sub-section (4) by agreement, it shall be paid in accordance with such agreement;

(ii) where no such agreement can be reached, the Provincial Government shall appoint as arbitrator a person who has exercised the powers of a District Judge in West Bengal or who possesses such qualifications as are normally required for appointment to the post of District Judge in West Bengal;

(iii) at the commencement of the proceedings before the arbitrator the owner of the forest, or the Regional Forest-officer by whom the compensation is payable, and the person to be compensated shall state what in their respective opinions is a fair amount of compensation;

(iv) the arbitrator in making his award shall have regard to the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 23 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, so far as the same can be made applicable; 1 of 1894.

(v) an appeal shall lie to the High Court against an award of an arbitrator except in cases where the amount thereof does not exceed an amount prescribed in this behalf;

(vi) save as provided in this sub-section and in any rules made under this Act, nothing in any law for the time being in force shall apply to arbitrations under this sub-section.

(6) The amount of compensation determined under sub-section (5) shall be paid in the prescribed manner, in the case where the notification under sub-section (1) was issued on the application of the owner of a controlled forest, by such owner, and in the case where such notification was issued on the application of a Regional Forest-officer, by such officer out of the profits of the vested forest adjoining such land, to the person entitled to such compensation and, on payment of such compensation, the land shall be made over by the Forest Settlement-officer appointed under clause (c) of sub-section (4) to the owner of the controlled or vested forest specified in the notification issued under that sub-section and shall thereupon vest in such owner and all rights in or over such land specified by the said officer under sub-clause (i) of the said clause shall with effect from the date on which such land is so made over be extinguished.

(7) When any land is made over under sub-section (6) to the owner of a forest, it shall, with effect from the date on which it is so made over, be deemed to be a private forest.

(8) When any such land is made over under sub-section (6) to the owner of a vested forest which adjoins such land, the control of such land shall be vested in the Regional Forest-officer in whom the control of such forest is for the time being vested and the land shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be a vested forest.

(9) When any such land is made over under sub-section (6) to the owner of a controlled forest which adjoins such land, the Regional Forest-officer may, after consultation in the prescribed manner with the Conservator of Forests of the forest circle within which such controlled forest is situated, by an order in writing, a copy of which shall be served on such owner in the prescribed manner, either direct that the approved working plan in respect of such controlled forest shall be deemed to be the working plan approved for such land under sub-section (1) of section 4 or require such owner to prepare in the prescribed manner and submit within the period to be mentioned in such order to such officer a working plan in respect of such land.

(10) Where the owner of a controlled forest is required under sub-section (9) to prepare and submit a working plan in respect of the land made over to him under sub-section (6), the provisions of sections 3 and 4 shall apply to such working plan as if such owner has been required to prepare such working plan under sub-section (1) of section 3.

Afforestation of other land.

11. (1) If it appears from the report of a Regional Forest-officer that any waste-land which is lying uncultivated for not less than three years is suitable for afforestation and that the owner of such land is unwilling or unable to cultivate it by growing therein agricultural crops, or to use it for the purposes of horticulture to the satisfaction of such officer or to afforest it, the Provincial Government may, by a notification, direct that the control of such land shall be vested in a Regional Forest-officer to be specified in the notification for the purpose of afforestation for such period as may be stated in the notification:

Provided that the Provincial Government shall not issue any notification under this sub-section without considering whether or not such land can more advantageously be used for the purposes of agriculture or horticulture than for the purposes of afforestation:

Provided further that no such notification shall be published until a notice has been issued by such Regional Forest-officer calling upon the owner of such land and any other person interested therein to show cause before the Appellate Committee within such period as may be specified in the notice why the notification should not be published and until the cause, if any, shown and any evidence that may have been produced in support of the same before the Appellate Committee and the opinion of the Appellate Committee thereon have been considered by the Provincial Government.

(2) Any land in respect of which a notification has been published under sub-section (1) shall be deemed to be a vested forest for the purposes of this Act.

(3) When all expenses incurred by the Provincial Government for the afforestation of any such land have been recouped, the profits resulting from such afforestation shall, during the period the control of such land remains vested in a Regional Forest-officer, be divided in equal shares between the Provincial Government and the owner of the land.

Apportionment of rents of forests held under a lease jointly with other lands and the division of the tenure or holding comprising a forest.

12. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, where a private forest or any waste-land is, at the date of publication of a notification vesting the control thereof in a Regional Forest-officer under sub-section (2) of section 6 or under section 7 or under section 11, as the case may be,—

(b) held by the owner of such forest or land as part of a tenure or holding jointly with other lands, the Collector of the district may, on application made in this behalf by such Regional Forest-officer,—

(i) in the case referred to in clause (a), by an order in writing, apportion, subject to rules made under this Act, the rent payable under the lease between the areas included within the vested forest and other areas comprised within the lease on the basis of their respective assests, and

Provided that no order shall be passed under this sub-section without giving, in the case of an order passed under clause (i) the lessor and the lessee of such forest or land, and in the case of an order passed under clause (ii) the owner of such forest or land and the landlord or landlords, or their common agent, if any, of the tenure or holding, a reasonable opportunity of being heard.

(2) An appeal shall lie from every order passed under sub-section (1) to the Commissioner of the Division if it is presented within thirty days from the date of such order and the decision of the Commissioner on such appeal shall be final and shall not be questioned in any Court.

Explanation.—In this section, "lease", "lessor" and "lessee" have the same meanings as in the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, and "tenure" and "holding" have the same meanings as in the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885. IV of 1882. VIII of 1885.

Where a private forest or waste-land of which the control has been vested in a Regional Forest-officer by a notification under sub-section (2) of section 6 or under section 7 or under section 11 is, at the date of publication of such notification, held either exclusively or jointly with other property under a lease granted by the owner of such forest or land before such date, the rent payable under the lease or under an order of apportionment made under clause (i) of sub-section (1) of section 12 in respect of such forest or land during the period such forest or land remains so vested in the Regional Forest-officer shall, subject to the prior payment of the land-revenue, if any, due to the Government thereupon, be a first charge upon the leasehold interest in such forest created by such lease.

Power to order a vested forest to be formed into a separate estate.

14. The Provincial Government may, if it thinks it expedient, direct the Collector to partition off that part of an estate which comprises a vested forest into a separate estate; and the demand in respect of land-revenue and cess for which the original estate was liable shall on such partition be assessed upon and divided between the two separate estates so formed respectively in such manner as the Provincial Government may direct.

15. The Provincial Government may, if it so considers expedient, by a notification, exempt any estate, and subject to the provisions of section 14 of the Bengal Land-revenue Sales Act, 1859, every share or part of an estate for which a separate account has been opened under section 10, or section 11 of the said Act, or under section 70 of the Land Registration Act, 1876, of which a vested forest forms part, from sale for arrears of Government revenue accruing during the period the control of such forest remains vested in a Regional Forest-officer under sub-section (2) of section 6 or under section 7 or under section 11 or during such part of such period as may be specified in such notification: XI of 1859. Ben. Act VII of 1876.

Provided that where any such estate, share or part is so exempted, all such arrears of revenue shall be the first charge upon the sale-proceeds of such estate, share or part which may be sold otherwise than for such arrears of revenue.

16. (1) The cost of any extra staff required for the management of a vested forest in each year shall be determined in the prescribed manner by the Regional Forest-officer and shall be recovered by him in that year, or in subsequent years, from the sale of the forest produce of such forest.

(2) The cost of the operations of any Forest Settlement-officer and such part of the cost of a Regional Forest-officer and of his staff as is proportionate to the work done by them in connection with the management of a vested forest shall be included in the cost of management.

(3) Any amount due in respect of a loan made under section 8 to the owner of a vested forest shall be included in the cost of management of such forest.

(4) Any amount paid as compensation by the Regional Forest-officer under sub-section (6) of section 10 out of the profits of a vested forest or paid as compensation by the Regional Forest-officer under sub-section (2) of section 25, and to be recouped under that sub-section from the profits of a vested forest, shall be included in the cost of managment of such forest.

17. (1) The Provincial Government may impose in the prescribed manner on an acreage basis a cess on all private forests within a notified area with effect from such date, not being before the expiry of ten years from the date of publication of a notification under section 3, as the said Government may appoint.

(2) Such cess shall be so calculated as to yield a sum not greater than that which is sufficient to meet the cost of the Regional Forest-officer and his staff, including any expenses incurred in connection with their work to be determined in the prescribed manner.

(3) If the Regional Forest-officer or his staff does any work in connection with a Government forest, a proportionate deduction shall be made from the cost of such Regional Forest-officer and of his staff before the cess is calculated under sub-section (2).

(4) Every cess imposed under sub-section (1) shall be recoverable as a public demand under the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913. Ben. Act III of 1913.

(5) The Provincial Government may, by general or special order, exempt any private forest in a notified area from the payment of any cess imposed under sub-section (1) or of any portion of such cess for such period as may be specified in such order.

18. (1) If the owner of a vested forest satisfies the Appellate Committee—

(a) at any time after the expiry of fifteen years from the date of the notification by which the control of such forest has been vested in a Regional Forest-officer, that—

(i) the control of such forest may be restored to him without undue risk of detriment to its conservation, and

(ii) the cost of its management as determined under the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 16 has been recovered in full, or the Appellate Committee shall by order direct that with effect from a date, to be specified in such order, the control of such forest shall cease to be vested in the Regional Forest-officer:

(b) at any time after the expiry of thirty years from the date of such notification, that the cost of management of such forest as determined under the provisions of that sub-section has been recovered,

Provided further that no such order shall be passed regarding a forest in respect of which there subsists an order passed under sub-section (1) of section 9, unless the owners of all the forests, in respect of which the order under the said sub-section was passed, have satisfied the Appellate Committee that there will be no undue risk of detriment to the conservation of any of such forests if the control of the said forest ceases to be vested in the Regional Forest-officer.

(2) When the owner of a forest has been required under the first proviso to sub-section (1) to prepare and submit a working plan in respect of such forest, the provisions of sections 3 and 4 shall apply to such working plan as if such owner has been required to prepare such working plan under sub-section (1) of section 3.

(3) The fact that the control of any forest has ceased to be vested in a Regional Forest-officer shall not operate to revive any right which may have been extinguished or modified by a proclamation under section 28.

(2) If only one such statement of claim is presented in respect of any such forest-produce, the Regional Forest-officer shall, after making such inquiry as he thinks fit and recording his reasons in writing, either reject the claim or deliver the produce to the claimant.

(3) If more than one such statement of claim is presented, the Regional Forest-officer may, after making such inquiry as he thinks fit and after recording his reasons in writing, either deliver the forest-produce to such of the persons as he considers to be entitled thereto or refer the claimants to the Civil Court and retain such produce pending receipt of an order from the Civil Court for its disposal.

(4) Any person whose claim has been rejected under this section may, within three months from the date of rejection of such claim, institute a suit to recover possession of the forest-produce claimed by him; but no person shall be entitled to recover any compensation or costs against the Provincial Government, or against any Forest-officer, on account of rejection of such claim, or on account of the detention or removal of any forest-produce, or the delivery thereof to any other person under this section.

(5) No such forest-produce shall be subject to any process of any Civil, Criminal or Revenue Court until it has been delivered, or a suit has been instituted as provided in this section.

Disposal of unclaimed forest-produce.

36. If no statement of claim is presented in respect of any such forest-produce after a notice has been published under sub-section (1) of section 35, or if a person whose claim has been rejected under that section omits to institute a suit under sub-section (4) thereof, the ownership of such forest-produce shall vest in the Provincial Government free from all encumbrances, or, when such forest-produce has been delivered to any person under sub-section (3) of that section, in such person free from all encumbrances not created by such person.

Disposal of seized property after information has been given under section 34.

37. (1) Any forest-produce in respect of which a forest-offence has been committed and information has been given to a Magistrate under section 34 shall, on the conclusion of the trial for such offence, be made over to the owner of the forest from which it was derived or to any other person whom the Magistrate deems to be entitled to the same:

Provided that, if it is not known from which forest such produce was derived, such forest-produce and all tools, boats, motor vehicles, carts and cattle used in committing such forest-offence shall be liable to confiscation.

(2) Such confiscation may be in addition to any other punishment which may be awarded under this Act for such offence.

Disposal of confiscated property on conclusion of trial.

38. When the trial of any forest-offence is concluded, any forest-produce in respect of which such offence has been committed shall, if it has been confiscated, be taken charge of by a Forest-officer.

The West Bengal Private Forests Bill, 1948.

(Chapter IV.—Penalties and Procedure.—Clauses 39—46.)

Procedure when offender cannot be found.

39. When the offender cannot be found, the Magistrate may, if he finds that an offence has been committed, order the property in respect of which the offence has been committed to be confiscated and taken charge of by the Regional Forest-officer, or to be made over to the person whom the Magistrate deems to be entitled to the same:

Provided that no such order shall be made until the expiry of one month from the date of seizing such property, or without hearing the person, if any, claiming any right thereto, and the evidence, if any, which he may produce in support of his claim.

Procedure as to perishable property seized under section 32.

40. The Magistrate may, notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, direct the sale of any property seized under section 32 and subject to speedy and natural decay, and may deal with the proceeds as he would have dealt with such property if it had not been sold.

Appeal from orders under section 37 or section 39.

41. The officer who made the seizure under section 32, or any of his official superiors, or any person claiming to be interested in the property so seized, may, within one month from the date of any order passed by the Magistrate under section 37 or section 39, appeal therefrom to the Court to which orders made by such Magistrate are ordinarily appealable, and the order passed on such appeal shall be final.

Property when to vest in Government.

42. When an order for the confiscation of any property has been passed under section 37 or section 39, as the case may be, and the period limited by section 41 for an appeal from such order has expired, and no such appeal has been preferred, or when, on such an appeal being preferred, the Appellate Court confirms such order in respect of the whole or a portion of such property, such property or such portion thereof, as the case may be, shall vest in the Provincial Government free from all encumbrances.

Saving of power to release property seized.

43. Nothing hereinbefore contained shall be deemed to prevent any officer empowered in this behalf by the Provincial Government from directing at any time the immediate release of any property seized under section 32.

Punishment for wrongful seizure.

44. Any Forest-officer or Police-officer who vexatiously and unnecessarily seizes any property on pretence of seizing property liable to confiscation under this Act shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both.

Penalty for counterfeiting or defacing marks on trees and timber and for altering boundary marks.

45. Whoever, with intent to cause damage or injury to the public or to any person, or to cause wrongful gain as defined in the Indian Penal Code— Act XLV of 1860.

(a) knowingly counterfeits upon any timber or standing tree in a controlled or vested forest a mark used by Forest-officers to indicate that such timber or tree is the property of the Government or of some person, or that it may lawfully be cut or removed by some person, or

(b) alters, defaces or obliterates any such mark placed on a tree or on timber in a controlled or vested forest by or under the authority of a Forest-officer, or

(c) alters, moves, destroys or defaces any boundary mark of any forest or waste-land to which the provisions of this Act apply or are applied, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine, or with both.

Power to arrest without warrant.

46. (1) Any Forest-officer or Police-officer may, without orders from a Magistrate and without a warrant, arrest any person against whom a reasonable suspicion exists of his having been concerned in any forest-offence punishable with imprisonment for one month or upwards under this Act.

(2) Every officer making an arrest under this section shall, without unnecessary delay and subject to the provisions of this Act as to release on bond, take or send the person arrested before the Magistrate having jurisdiction in the case or to the officer-in-charge of the nearest police-station.

The West Bengal Private Forests Bill, 1948.

(Chapter IV.—Penalties and Procedure.—Chapter V.—Regional Forest-officers.—Clauses 47—53.)

Power to release on a bond a person arrested.

47. Any Forest-officer of a rank not inferior to that of a Ranger, who, or whose subordinate, has arrested any person under the provisions of section 46, may release such person on his executing a bond to appear, if and when so required, before the Magistrate having jurisdiction in the case or before the officer-in-charge of the nearest police-station.

Power to prevent commission of offence.

48. Every Forest-officer and Police-officer shall prevent, and may interfere for the purpose of preventing, the commission of any forest-offence.

Power to try offences summarily.

49. The District Magistrate or any Magistrate of the first class specially empowered in this behalf by the Provincial Government may try summarily, under the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, any forest-offence punishable with imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, or with fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, or with both. Act V of 1898.

Power of Court to order payment of rewards out of fine.

50. Whenever a Court imposes a fine under this Act or confirms in appeal under this Act a sentence of fine or a sentence of which fine forms a part, for a forest-offence other than an offence specified in sub-section (1) of section 6 or section 44, the Court may, when passing judgment, order any portion of the fine recovered to be paid to the person whose information led to the detection of the offence.

Power to compound offences.

51. (1) The Provincial Government may, by notification, empower a Forest-officer—

(a) to accept from any person against whom a reasonable suspicion exists that he has committed any forest-offence, other than an offence specified in sub-section (1) of section 6, section 44 or section 45, a sum of money, not exceeding fifty rupees, by way of compensation for the offence which such person is suspected to have committed; and

(b) when any property of such person has been seized, to release the same.

(2) On the payment of such sum of money to such officer, the suspected person, if in custody, shall be discharged, the property, if any, of such person seized shall be released, and no further proceedings shall be taken against such person or property.

(3) If the forest-offence has been committed in respect of a controlled forest, the amount of any compensation paid to a Forest-officer empowered under sub-section (1) to accept such compensation, or such part of such amount as the Forest-officer deems equitable in the circumstances, may, at the discretion of the Forest-officer, be paid to the owner of the controlled forest; but the amount of any compensation not so paid to the owner of a controlled forest and the amount of any compensation paid to such a Forest-officer if the forest-offence has been committed in respect of a vested forest shall be paid into the revenues of the Province.

(4) A Forest-officer shall not be empowered under this section unless he is a Forest-officer of a rank not inferior to that of a Ranger.

Onus of proof.

52. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other Act, when in any area in respect of which the Provincial Government has made rules under clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 41 of the Indian Forest Act, 1927, any person is found to be moving forest-produce without a pass from an officer duly authorised to issue the same, the burden of proof that such person has not committed an offence under this Act in respect of such forest-produce shall lie on him. XVI of 1927.

53. (1) The Provincial Government may invest any Regional Forest-officer with all or any of the following powers, that is to say:—

MISCELLANEOUS.

Conservation of forest or afforestation of land at the request of owners.

59. Notwithstanding anything elsewhere contained in this Act, the Provincial Government may, on application made in this behalf in writing by the owner of any private forest or of any waste-land referred to in sub-section (1) of section 11 or, if there be more than one owner thereof, by the owners of shares therein amounting in the aggregate to at least one-half thereof, to the Collector of the district in which such forest or land is situated, by a notification, apply the provisions of this Act applicable to vested forests, subject to such restrictions or conditions as may have been determined by an agreement between the said Collector and such person or persons, to such forest or land and thereupon such forest or land shall be managed on behalf of such owner or owners as a vested forest in accordance with such provisions by a Regional Forest-officer specified in this behalf by the Provincial Government.

Recovery of money due to Regional Forest-officer and lien on forest-produce for such money.

60. (1) All money payable to a Regional Forest-officer under this Act or under any rule made under this Act, other than money payable in respect of the cost of management of a vested forest, and all money payable to such officer on account of the price of any forest-produce or on account of expenses incurred in the execution of this Act in respect of such produce shall, if not paid when due, be recoverable as a public demand under the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913. Ben. Act III of 1913.

(2) When any such money is payable for or in respect of any forest-produce, the amount thereof shall be deemed to be a first charge on such produce, and such produce may be taken possession of by a Regional Forest-officer until such amount has been paid.

(3) If such amount is not paid when due, the Regional Forest-officer may sell such produce in the prescribed manner, and after payment of the costs of the sale the proceeds thereof shall be applied first in discharging such amount.

(4) The surplus, if any, if not claimed within two months from the date of the sale by the person entitled thereto, shall be forfeited to the Crown.

Land required under this Act to be deemed to be needed for a public purpose under the Land Aquisition Act, 1894.

61. Whenever it appears to the Provincial Government that any land is required for any of the purposes of this Act, such land shall be deemed to be needed for a public purpose within the meaning of section 4 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894. I of 1894.

Powers of the Regional Forest-officer and control of the Provincial Government.

62. Subject to the provisions of this Act and to any rules made thereunder every Regional Forest-officer—

(a) may do all such things requisite for the proper management of the forest the control of which has been vested in him under this Act as the owner of such forest might do for its management, and Repeal and savings.

63. (1) Sections 35, 36, 37 and 38 of the Indian Forest Act, 1927, in their application to West Bengal are hereby repealed. XVI of 1927.

Repeal of Ben. Act XI of 1945 in its application to West Bengal.

64. The Bengal Private Forests Act, 1945 in its application to West Bengal is hereby repealed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Indiscriminate denudation of forests by tenants and private owners in West Bengal has resulted in soil erosion on a considerable scale making large tracts of land bare and unproductive. The gradual disappearance of forests has also rendered certain parts of the Province more liable to floods and drought and has seriously affected the supply of timber and fire-wood for local consumption. To cope with this alarming situation, safeguard the larger interests of the community and confer at the same time permanent benefit on private owners by providing for the conservation and improvement of their forests and the afforestation of waste lands, the Bengal Private Forests Act, 1945, was enacted as a Governor's Act in exercise of the powers assumed by the Governor by Proclamation issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935.

The Governor's Proclamation under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, having been revoked on the 24th April, 1946, the Bengal Private Forests Act, 1945, will cease to have effect on the expiry of two years from the date of revocation unless sooner repealed or re-enacted by an Act of the Legislature. The circumstances which necessitated the passing of the Governor's Act still persist and it is therefore proposed to re-enact all the provisions of the Governor's Act.

D. BASU,

for Director of Agriculture, West Bengal.

Calcutta, the 13th January 1948.

DIRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, WEST BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 12th January 1948.

Preliminary Forecast of the Bhadoi Crops of West Bengal for 1947-48.

Character of the season.—In most of the districts rainfall was insufficient for preparatory tillage and consequently the acreage sown was less than the last year. The weather conditions were unfavourable and drought affected the growth of the crop in almost all districts. But weather and its effect on the cultivation and growth of the crop have been favourable in the districts of 24-Parganas and Darjeeling.

Acreage.—The total area sown with different Bhadoi crops this year is estimated at 1,735,500 acres this year as against 1,981,900 acres of last year. The estimates of acreage and yield under Bhadoi crops in West Dinajpur could not be sent by District Officer there as the relevant papers were not available to him in consequence of the partition of the district. Hence the above figures exclude the acreage sown in West Dinajpur except for autumn rice the figures whereof have been estimated by this Directorate.

Of this, the area under autumn rice is estimated at 1,415,100 acres this year as against 1,636,900 acres of last year.

Outturn.—The outturn of autumn rice is estimated at 75 per cent. of the normal this year as against 85 per cent. of the normal last year.

D. BASU,
for Director of Agriculture, West Bengal.

DIRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 15th May 1947.

Final Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal for 1946-47.

[Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1944-45, the area under wheat has represented some 0·5 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of the irrigated wheat acreage to the total wheat acreage (a) in British India and (b) in Bengal has in the five years ending 1944-45 averaged (a) 47·5 per cent. and (b) 7 per cent., respectively.]

Character of the season.—Since the submission of the Third Forecast, the weather conditions have not much improved. There has been some damage to the crop due to drought, insect-pests, and fungus diseases.

Acreage.—The total area sown with the crop is estimated at 192,800 acres this year, as against 201,700 acres of last year. The decrease is mainly due to unfavourable weather conditions prevailing at the time of sowing.

Outturn.—The average outturn of the crop for the province is estimated at 72 per cent. of the normal this year, as against 63 per cent. of the normal last year.

Total yield.—Taking 9 maunds as the normal yield per acre, the gross yield of the crop for the province works out to 45,900 tons this year, as against 42,000 tons last year.

W. M. CLARK,
Addl. Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

ANNEXURE.

INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT: Mr. M. C. BANERJI, Additional District Judge, Tribunal, Industrial Disputes.

Industrial dispute between the employees of the Garden Reach Municipality and the Municipality.

Award.

The dispute in this case is between the employees of the Garden Reach Municipality and the Municipality. The employees are represented by the Garden Reach Municipal Association and the Matiabruz Scavengers' Union. The Association represents the clerical staff and the other employees except the scavengers, and the Union represents the scavengers of the Municipality. The statements filed by the Association and the Union are the same. It appears that in 1940 the Association of the Municipal Employees was formed and was affiliated to All-Bengal Municipal Employees' Association. The Association consists of almost all the employees of the clerical staff, the peons, durwans and others except the scavengers. The Union of the Scavengers was formed in 1945 and was registered under the Trade Union Act. On 27th July 1946 the Association and the Union separately passed resolutions making some demands in respect of basic pay, dearness allowance and other conditions of service. There was no response from the Municipality. The Association and the Union again met in a general meeting on 10th January 1947 and adopted resolutions demanding amongst other matters revision of pay and grade with effect from 1st August 1946, and also notified their intention to go on strike with effect from 31st January 1947, unless there was a favourable response from the Municipality by 15th January 1947. The Municipality did not come to any agreement and the employees sent a strike notice on 16th January 1947, and they actually went on strike with effect from 31st January 1947. Negotiations for a settlement ensued and an interim settlement was arrived at between Dr. Moitreye Bose, M.B.M.D., President of the Association and the Union, on the one hand, and the Executive Officer of the Municipality, acting on behalf of the Municipality, on the other, and the strike was called off with effect from 10th February 1947. It was agreed in the interim settlement that the dispute between the Municipality and its employees should be forthwith referred to the Adjudication Court. This dispute was referred by the Government to me for adjudication by Order No. 451Lab., dated 12th September 1947. The Association and the Union submitted their demands in separate statements. The Municipality opposed these demands in their written statement.

The Municipality was represented by Mr. P. N. Rai Chaudhury, Pleader, Judge's Court, Alipore, and the Secretary Mr. Kunai Lal Das. The Association and the Union were represented by the Secretaries of these bodies and also Dr. Moitreye Bose, the President of both these bodies.

The disputed points as framed are as follows:—

Issues.

(1) Revision of pay and grade of all the staff with effect from 1st August 1946.

(2) Introduction of provident fund for the menial staff.

(3) Employment of more hands for scavenger unit.

(4) Equalisation of pay for male and female workers.

(5) Sick leave to be allowed on full pay.

(6) Quarters for menials.

DECISIONS.

Issue No. 1—Revision of pay and grade of the staff with effect from 1st August 1946.

There are various categories of employees under the Municipality, and the scales of pay offered to them will appear from Annexure 8 of the written statement filed by the Municipality. It appears from this Annexure that the pay of the Gowkhana Inspector, Slaughter House Sarkar, Conservancy Sarkar and the Compounder is Rs. 25—2—40. The pay of a male Vaccinator is Rs. 25—1—35 and that of an Assistant Teacher of a Municipal School is Rs. 25—1—30. The pay of a Clerk Bailiff and Typist is Rs. 30—2—50. All these employees are of the middle class of society. The pay of a peon is Rs. 16—1—20. The monthly pay of a latrine worker and other menial employees of the Conservancy establishment is at Rs. 20 per month in the case of male workers and Rs. 17-8 per month in the case of female workers. The scale of pay of the various categories of officers will appear from Annexure 8 of the written statement filed by the Municipality. Over and above this basic pay, the superior staff used to get a dearness allowance of Rs. 14 per month prior to the settlement of the strike on 9th February 1947. The inferior staff was also getting dearness allowance at Rs. 14 per month prior to the date of the settlement of the strike. According to the interim terms of settlement on 9th February 1947, the dearness allowance was increased. Those drawing basic pay at Rs. 35 or more were given a dearness allowance of Rs. 22 per month and for those who drew salary at less than Rs. 35 the dearness allowance was Rs. 20. By the interim terms of settlement, the basic pay was also increased by 20 per cent. from 1st August 1946. The minimum pay of a clerk would, therefore, be Rs. 30 plus Rs. 6 and his dearness allowance would be Rs. 22, i.e., he would get Rs. 58 in all. The minimum pay of a peon would be about Rs. 19 and his dearness allowance Rs. 20; his total remuneration would, therefore, be Rs. 39 in all. A male scavenger would get Rs. 24 in pay and Rs. 20 in dearness allowance, i.e., Rs. 44 in all. It appears clearly that these scales of minimum pay are much below the living wage recommended by the Central Pay Commission, according to which the minimum remuneration for a middle class employee should be Rs. 90, being Rs. 55 in basic pay and Rs. 35 in dearness allowance. According to the Central Pay Commission's Report, the total remuneration of an inferior employee should be Rs. 30 in basic pay and Rs. 25 in dearness allowance, i.e., Rs. 55 in all. For employees in Calcutta there are other allowances which amount to Rs. 22-8 in the case of middle class employees and Rs. 15 in the case of the inferior staff. These sums are in house allowance and compensatory allowance on account of higher cost of living in the city. The Garden Reach Municipality is not exactly within the city of Calcutta but is at its outskirts. The locality of the Municipality entails almost the same cost of living as in the city proper. It may be mentioned that the area of the Municipality was absorbed in the Calcutta Municipal area in 1923 and was separated in 1935. In the circumstances, there is no doubt that the present remuneration allowed to the Municipal employees is much below the minimum recommended by the Central Pay Commission and there is a good case for enhancement of the salaries.

The hearing of this case commenced on 4th November 1947 and the parties took an adjournment of 2 weeks to make an attempt at an amicable settlement of the question of the wages of the employees. The Chairman of the Municipality, who was present at the hearing, informed me that he was anxious to consult the Commissioners in a meeting for the purpose of considering the pay and dearness allowance of the employees of the Municipality. The case was adjourned to 19th November 1947. The case was further adjourned and hearing was resumed on 29th November 1947. On this date the Municipality filed a petition along with minutes of the proceedings of the meeting of the Special Committee of the Commissioners of the Municipality in their meeting held on 11th November 1947. In this meeting the Municipal Commissioners revised the basic pay of all the Municipal employees and offered these revised grades to the employees. The petition of the Municipality shows that the Association did not accept the grades fixed by the Municipal Commissioners on 11th November 1947. Before me, however, the Association filed an application on 29th November 1947 stating that the revised rates of salaries as fixed by the Special Committee of the Commissioners on 11th November 1947 may be accepted by them, subject to some changes in the case of the salaries of some of the employees. The changes as suggested by the Association are as follows: The pay of the Lighting, Gowkhana, Conservancy, Mosquito and Slaughter House Sarkars was fixed by the Commissioners at Rs. 40—2—60, the revision suggested in this scale is Rs. 40—3—70. The pay of the Vaccinators and Sub-Registrars of Burial Ground and Burning Ghat, was also settled by the Commissioners at Rs. 40—2—60 and the Association suggested a scale of Rs. 40—3—70 instead. The Compounder's salary was fixed at the grade of Rs. 35—2—60 and the Association suggested the scale of Rs. 35—3—65 instead. The pay of the Clerk Bailiff has been fixed at Rs. 50—3—80 and the Association wants a personal allowance of Rs. 10 for this officer. The pay of the Collection Inspector and Store-Keeper was fixed by the Commissioners at Rs. 75—5—110; the Association wants the maximum to be raised to Rs. 120. The pay of the Cashier, Assessor, Accountant and Head Clerk was fixed by the Commissioners at Rs. 85—5—150 and the Association wants it at Rs. 100—5—150. The other scales of pay as fixed by the Commissioners are not objected to by the Association and the Union. On hearing both the parties I do consider that the slight changes in the salaries as suggested by the Association and the Union are not improper in any way, and that these revisions should be allowed. My award is that the grades of salaries as fixed by the Commissioners in their Special Committee meeting on 11th November 1947 for the Municipal employees shall be enforced except for the employees abovementioned who shall get salaries as suggested by the Association, as mentioned below:—

The Lighting, Gowkhana, Conservancy, Mosquito and Slaughter House Sarkars shall get pay at Rs. 40—3—70. The Vaccinators and Sub-Registrars of Burial Ground and Burning Ghat shall get pay at Rs. 40—3—70. The Compounder shall get pay at Rs. 35—3—65. The Clerk Bailiff shall get pay at Rs. 50—3—80 plus a personal allowance of Rs. 10 as he has got to do outdoor work. The salary of the Head Clerk, Accountant, Cashier and Assessors shall be at Rs. 100—5—150. The salary of the Collection Inspector and Store-Keeper shall be at Rs. 75—5—120.

I may observe that the scales of salaries fixed by the Commissioners and accepted by the Association show minimum salaries at less than the limit recommended by the Central Pay Commission. In view of the financial condition of the Municipality, which is anything but satisfactory, I appreciate the attitude of the employees in accepting the moderate scales of salaries as recommended by the Commissioners in their meeting on 11th November 1947. The scales of basic pay as finally fixed by this Tribunal is shown in Appendix A of this award. In the interim settlement on 9th February 1947 it was agreed that the new grades should have retrospective effect from 1st August 1946. The date from which the new grades of basic pay shall be operative will be fixed by the Government under section 19(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act, and it is not within the jurisdiction of this Tribunal to fix such a date. I would, however, request the Municipality to pay to the employees the difference between the new salary and the actual salary received by any employee as calculated from 1st August 1946 in suitable instalments in view of the agreement above mentioned. The Municipality also agreed before me to make such payments.

In making out the salary to be paid to any employee according to the grades mentioned above, every employee shall be placed at the stage in the grade next above the salary he is actually drawing at the present time.

It may be added that the Municipal employees agreed to accept the scales of salaries on condition that due compensation was awarded to them in the shape of dearness allowance. It appears that the minimum pay of a Compounder as settled by a Special Committee of the Commissioners on 11th November 1947 is Rs. 35, that of a Vaccinator at Rs. 40, that of Lighting, Gowkhana, Conservancy, Mosquito and Slaughter House Sarkars is Rs. 50 and that of a Junior Clerk Rs. 50. These posts are all held by employees of the middle class of society. Considering that the poverty line was drawn by the Central Pay Commission at a minimum remuneration of Rs. 90 for a middle class employee, the present dearness allowance of Rs. 22 per month appears to be very meagre and unsatisfactory in all conscience. The employees agreed to accept a flat rate of dearness allowance of Rs. 30 for all grades of employees except the Conservancy staff, and I do not consider that this amount of dearness allowance is in any way excessive or unjustified. I would rather consider that a dearness allowance of Rs. 30 for the minimum salaries mentioned above is much below the poverty line. Considering, however, the financial condition of the Municipality, to which I shall advert below, it is decided that all the employees of the Municipality except the Conservancy staff shall get a flat rate of dearness allowance of Rs. 30 per month.

For the scavengers, the scale of pay Rs. 20—2—40, as fixed by the Special Committee on 11th November 1947, has been accepted by the Union.

They, however, claim for an increase in the dearness allowance. On a consideration of this matter my award is that the scavengers will get a dearness allowance of Rs. 20 per month along with a house allowance of Rs. 5 per month. The house allowance shall be discontinued when accommodation is provided for the scavengers by the Municipality, which the Municipality should do as soon as possible.

The revised dearness allowance shall have effect from such date as the Government will fix under section 19(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The next question is, if the increased liability in pay and dearness allowance is a burden which the Municipality would be able to bear. In its written statement the Municipality pointed out that it was running at a deficit and that any increase in the cost of the establishment would end in a deadlock of the administration. It appears from the written statement of the Municipality that when the Municipality was separated from the Calcutta Corporation on 1st April 1935, it was given a fund of Rs. 7,50,000 by the Calcutta Corporation. In the year following the separation the Municipal rates were decreased from 19½ per cent. to 15 per cent. of the valuation, with a fall in the revenue. There has been a subsequent enhancement of the rates to 19 per cent. of the valuation of the holdings. It also appears that the Municipality was superseded by Government for 2 years on 1st November 1945 and an Executive Officer was appointed by the Government to administer the Municipality. The Executive Officer increased the rates from 15 per cent. to 19 per cent. on increased valuations of holdings and the revenue of the Municipality was raised from Rs. 2,11,000 to Rs. 3,89,000. It is pointed out by the Municipality that in the year 1946-47 the revenue fund had a deficit of about Rs. 7,50,000. From Annexure 1 of the written statement of the Municipality it appears that in 1946-47 the current demand was Rs. 3,89,911, the total demand was Rs. 4,61,354 and the total realisation was only Rs. 2,48,792. This is certainly an unsatisfactory state of affairs, and it ill-befits the Municipality to set up a case of pecuniary difficulty when it cannot realise about 50 per cent. of its demands. The inefficiency in this respect cannot be expected to be removed until the employees of the Municipality are sufficiently well paid to afford them the proper enthusiasm for work. I do consider that it is the deplorably low remuneration of the Municipal employees that is primarily responsible for the terrible arrears in the Municipal rates. The Secretary of the Municipality supplied me with the details of the financial implications of the increase in pay and dearness allowance as mentioned above with a house allowance of Rs. 3 instead of Rs. 5 per month for the scavengers. I find that the increased pay and dearness allowance of the scavengers along with a house allowance of Rs. 3 amounts to Rs. 40,748 in the year. The increased pay and dearness allowance for the other staff amounts to Rs. 38,000 and odd. The total increase in pay and allowances of the entire staff would be, therefore, Rs. 78,810. The total deficit of the Municipality along with the increased pay and allowances of the staff amounts to about Rs. 1,00,000 in the year. The present assessment of rates is at 19 per cent. of the valuation in place of a maximum of 27½ per cent. The holding rate is 9 per cent. out of a maximum of 10 per cent; the water rate is 6 per cent. out of a maximum of 7½ per cent. The lighting rate is 1 per cent. in place of a maximum of 3 per cent., and the conservancy rate is 3 per cent. instead of a maximum of 7 per cent. The Secretary and the Assessor of the Municipality informed me that an increase of 1 per cent. in the holding rate, 3 per cent. in the conservancy rate, 1½ per cent. in the water rate and 1 per cent. in the lighting rate would bring to the Municipality an additional revenue of about Rs. 1,15,000. The total rate would, therefore, be 25½ per cent., whereas the maximum allowed by the Bengal Municipal Act (vide sections 124, 125 and 126) is 27½ per cent. I am of opinion that the increased burden may be well met by the Municipality if they enhance the holding rate by 1 per cent., the conservancy rate by 3 per cent., water rate by 1½ per cent., and lighting rate by 1 per cent., making the total rate at 25½ per cent. of the valuation. This additional revenue would also permit payment of house allowance at Rs. 5 per month to the scavengers. The additional house allowance of Rs. 2 per month means an additional amount of about Rs. 7,000 in the year, the number of the scavenger unit being about 300. The Municipality cannot be permitted to carry on its administration with an army of employees on the verge of starvation and yet to keep the Municipal rate much below the rates permitted by the statute. I gather that the Commissioners of the Municipality are averse to enancement of the Muncipal rates. They must be alive to the sense of their duty to pay their employees at least at a living wage. The award on the pay and dearness allowance as mentioned by me above is somewhat below the living wage recommended by the Central Pay Commission, and I base my award on such scales only because the employees were agreeable to accept these wages and also in view of the fact that the Municipality was on the verge of bankruptcy. I urge on the Municipal Commissioners to enhance the rates of the Municipality with effect from the next year and also to try their utmost to see that all the recoverable revenues are realised during the financial year. This issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 2—Introduction of provident fund for the menial staff.

This claim was made only by the scavengers. I understand that other employees of the Municipality enjoy the benefits of the provident fund. The Municipality objected to the claim on the ground that the Model Rules for Provident Fund as framed by Government exclude the claim of the scavengers from the benefits of the provident fund. I have seen the model rules. I find that the scavengers or menials are not included within the category of employees for whom a provident fund may be started. Dr. Moitreye Bose asked me to urge upon the Municipality to find out ways and means for starting a provident fund for the scavengers. It is not possible for me to give the scavengers any relief in this case. I would, however, urge upon the Municipality to consider this matter in the near future after the financial condition of the Municipality is stabilised. The scavengers may apply to the Municipality for the purpose towards the close of 1948 when the Municipality may consider about ways and means for starting a provident fund and take Government sanction for the purpose, if necessary.

Issue No. 3—Employment of more hands for scavenger unit.

It was urged by the Union that there has been an enormous increase in the population of the Municipality within the last few years, and the quota of work for each scavenger has been more than double. It is argued by the Municipality that a scavenger has got to work for 7 hours a day as before, notwithstanding the rise of the population in the Municipality. I do not consider that the claim of reducing the quota of work may be justified unless it can be shown that a scavenger has to put in more hours of work in the day. The Municipality may, however, consider this matter when its financial condition is improved. In the present state of the financial condition of the Municipality, I do not consider that any claim for increasing the staff of the scavengers may be seriously considered.

Issue No. 4—Equalisation of pay for male and female workers.

The claim in this respect was that a male and a female sweeper should get the same remuneration from the Municipality. Up till now the female sweeper used to get somewhat less remuneration than a male sweeper. In fixing the basic pay and dearness allowance of the scavengers above, I have not made any distinction as to male or female workers. The male and the female workers in the scavenger unit would, therefore, get the same pay, i.e., the pay mentioned above.

Issue No. 5—Sick leave to be allowed on full pay.

The Municipal employees other than the scavengers get a privilege leave of one month in the year, casual leave of 15 days in the year and a medical leave of one month in the year with full pay. I do not consider that these rules of leave demand any revision.

The scavengers, however, get no leave in any form. Dr. Bose, President of the Union of Scavengers, asked for framing of leave rules for the scavengers by the Municipality and for granting 15 days' sick leave with full pay till these rules are framed. The Municipality should frame service rules, including leave rules, for the labour staff including the scavengers. They will frame rules for granting such leave as they consider proper to the scavengers. Till these rules are framed the scavengers should be granted 15 days' sick leave with full pay during the year.

Issue No. 6—Quarters for menials.

In this issue the Union and the Association demanded free quarters for the scavengers. I have already mentioned above that the Municipality should build free quarters for the scavengers, and that until such quarters are available the scavengers should get a house allowance of Rs. 5 per month. This decision disposes of the question in this issue.

Conclusion.

I would ask the Municipality to frame service rules for the labour staff, the duty hours for office, outdoor and labour staff and the terms of earning seniority in service to get the benefit of the senior grade of clerks, so that the administration may be carried on in accordance with fixed rules framed by the Commissioners. I would urge on the Municipal Commissioners to improve the financial condition of the Municipality and to enhance the rates as mentioned above, to carry on the administration with efficiency. At the time of the hearing I came to learn that there is a huge waste of money in supplying filtered water to the rate-payers and that the present Chairman has already effected some economy in this direction. I would ask the Chairman and the Municipal Commissioners to see that a further economy is effected in the cost of supplying filtered water. I would request the employees to try their utmost to see that there are no unrealised Municipal rates and that the dues of the Municipality are fully realised so that the cost of administration may be met without any difficulty.

As a result of this award the Municipality will be saddled with an extra burden of costs of about Rs. 85,000 in the year. I would urge upon the Municipal employees to see that they justify this increased burden by honest and efficient discharge of their duties.

By order of the Governor,
D. S. P. MUKHERJEE, Dy. Secy.

ORDER.

No. 10Lab.—5th January 1948.—Whereas under the Government of Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 265Lab., dated 3rd July 1947, as amended by the Government of Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, addendum No. 335Lab., dated 2nd August 1947, and the Government of West Bengal Commerce, Labour and Industries Department order No. 425Lab., dated 9th September 1947, the industrial dispute between (1) Messrs. Burma Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India, Ltd., Hong Kong House, Dalhousie Square, Calcutta, (2) Standard Vacuum Oil Company, 6, Church Lane, Calcutta, (3) Caltex (India), Limited, 22, Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta, and (4) Indo-Burma Petroleum Co., Ltd., 8, Clive Street, Calcutta, and their employees as represented by the Bengal Oil and Petrol Workers' Union of 22, Trunk Road, Budge Budge, 24-Parganas district, and Burma Shell Labour Union, Standard Vacuum Labour Union, Caltex Labour Union and Indo-Burma Petroleum Labour Union of 47, Chowringhee, Calcutta 16, was referred for adjudication to Mr. S. C. Chakravarty, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Mr. S. C. Chakravarty, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure, hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Mr. S. C. Chakravarty, Additional District Judge, shall bind the four oil companies aforesaid and their employees, as specified therein and shall remain in force for a period of one year with effect from the date of this order.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of disputes between Messrs. (1) Burma Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Co., of India, Ltd., (2) Standard Vacuum Oil Co., (3) Caltex (India), Ltd. and (4) Indo-Burma Petroleum Co., Ltd., versus

Their employees as represented by Bengal Oil and Petroleum Workers' Union.

By Government order No. 265Lab., dated the 3rd July 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. (1) Burma Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India, Ltd., (2) Standard Vacuum Oil Company, (3) Caltex (India), Ltd., and (4) Indo-Burma Petroleum Co., Ltd., and their employees, as represented by Bengal Oil and Petroleum Workers' Union, was referred to a Tribunal consisting of Dr. H. G. Waight, I.C.S. Difficulties were experienced as there were also separate Unions of the workers of each of the companies and also because of the fact that the services of Dr. Waight were no longer available. The original order was therefore modified by Government order No. 425Lab., dated the 9th September 1947. By this order the workers were said to be represented by their respective labour Unions, and I was appointed Tribunal in place of Dr. Waight.

For Messrs. Standard Vacuum Oil Company:—Dr. S. K. Gupta, Counsel, with Dr. H. G. Waight, Counsel, instructed by Messrs. Sanderson & Morgans, Solicitors.

For the other companies:—Dr. H. G. Waight, Counsel, instructed by Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

For the Union:—Mr. Kalipada Mukherjee, Honorary Secretary of the Union.

AWARD.

There are four Companies for storage and distribution of petrol and other allied oils. The dispute is between these four Companies and their workers. The points in dispute will appear from the following:—

Issues.

1. Should any bonus or further bonus be granted for the year 1946? What amount and by what Companies?

2. Should there be any order for payment of profit-sharing bonus? If so, to what extent, for which period and to which worker?

3. Fixation of basic wages for different kinds of workers.

4. Fixation of Dearness Allowance in cash inclusive of food concession values.

5. Should there be any canteen? If so, on what terms and at what places?

6. What should be the working hours per week? What should be the active duty hours of the barge and launch crew? Should they have freedom to go out of the vessel when not on active duty? If so, on what terms? Should they be paid anything because of compulsory stay in the vessels? On what conditions they may be allowed to go out when the vessels are moored?

7. Alteration in the Leave Rules.

8. Consideration of the question of extra payment for night duties.

9. Should there be any improvement in the matter of gratuity, pension, provident fund, special termination allowances or insurance scheme?

10. Should there be any alteration in the Standing Rules about dismissal and termination of services?

11. Should any House Allowance be given? If so, at what rate?

12. Has the Tribunal jurisdiction to make any alteration in the Standing Orders? If so, what alteration in the Standing Orders should be made in respect of persons affected?

13. Should the system of Contract Labour be abolished?

14. Is there any occupational disease connected with this industry here? If so, what remedies can be provided?

15. Recognition of the Unions and their representative character.

Issues Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 11.

These issues cover what the employees should get in return for their work. There has been considerable argument as to the competency of the Tribunal to grant any bonus in the shape of ex-gratia payment. Mr. Mookerjee on behalf of the workers made it clear that by the expression "profit-sharing bonus" he did not mean partnership in profit but a bonus which would vary with the amount of profits of the Company.

As a preface to the discussion of the jurisdiction of the Tribunal to grant bonus I should like to state very briefly the way in which the Tribunal can interfere with the wage structure of a concern. As yet the Law of Contract governing the relation between the master and the servant has not been abrogated but must be respected. That law also gives power to a Court of Law to interfere with contracts. The industrialist with vast resources at his command may compel the workers to agree to terms which are unfair. This is something like exercise of undue influence. Neither the Court of Law nor the Tribunal will tolerate any man obtain any undue advantage over the other party. The Tribunal can interfere to raise the wage structure to a level when it can be said that the labour is not exploited but no further.

Fixation of wages above what is called the "poverty line" is a fundamental and basic demand. No industrialist can be allowed to engage labour at below the poverty line. Payment below the poverty line is definitely exploiting labour. Wages at poverty line gives to the worker only the bare necessaries and it is not open to him to have a change in diet or to give proper education to children, etc. With an industrialist who cannot pay beyond the poverty line he does not exploit labour in paying at poverty line; the man who makes huge profits for himself but does not give to the worker some more amenities for change of diet, education of children, etc., does to that extent exploit labour.

Dr. S. K. Gupta, Counsel for the Standard Vacuum Oil Company, argued the point for bonus and Dr. Waight, Counsel for the other Companies, supplemented him for the other Companies. I am in agreement with Dr. Gupta that the Tribunal cannot grant any bonus for no consideration, i.e., cannot order for a gift. In India bonuses have been allowed in some cases in Bombay only when the Companies made huge profits. While agreeing with the contention of Dr. Gupta, the payment of bonus when the Company makes huge profits is clearly justifiable and follows from what I have already said. When bonus, which is more or less a loose expression, is granted to remove exploitation of labour, i.e., part of return of the service of the worker, it is justifiable and can be allowed by the Tribunal but when it is purely an ex-gratia payment, the Tribunal cannot allow it. Whether any bonus in the shape of return for work will be given will be considered later.

The wage structure of Burma Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India, Ltd., is given in Appendix A. The wage structures of the other Companies are almost uniform. The demand of the Union is set out in Appendix B.

Apart from the question of merits and demerits of time-scale system of pay, it is useless for a Tribunal to prescribe a time-scale. The award of the Tribunal will, under no circumstances, be effective for more than a year. Fixation of a time-scale will be in the nature of a pious wish and is not called for. The scale of wages only will be fixed which will be operative for the period Government decides.

There have been enough discussions in the several awards about the guiding principles for fixation of minimum basic wages. I do not think it necessary to discuss all those things over again here as I consider that the minimum basic pay of the workers, as recommended in the Central Pay Commission Report, should be accepted for unskilled labourers. The method of calculation has been 26 working days for the month. I therefore decide that the minimum basic wage for an unskilled labourer in all the Companies shall be Re. 1-2-6 pies a day. There are some unskilled women workers. In fixing the basic wage I take into consideration the family budget. In case of female workers there must be one less and the present scales of wages also show that the women workers get less. Coolies are the principal unskilled labourers of the Companies. In this branch of work also men are expected to be better. I fix the minimum basic wage for a female worker as 15 annas a day.

Now about semi-skilled and skilled labourers. This involves valuation of work in relation of wages. Dr. Waight on behalf of the Companies argued that after the wages of a worker is raised from subnormal to the normal standard he need not be given very heavy increments, even if anything be granted. He further contended that if any increment be given it must be in a sliding scale, where a higher paid workman should get less. In developing this argument Dr. Waight further contended that in August 1946 Messrs. Burma Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India, Ltd , gave increment mostly to the higher paid workers, and it was argued that a general increase by a definite amount would benefit them more at the cost of others. Against this last contention I may only say that I am not inclined to think that the Company gave any undeserved increment to anybody. I can only presume that the relative wage valuation was corrected in August 1946. The agrument that the increment should be in a sliding scale is based on the construction that after a man is given what is absolutely necessary for him, further increment should sparingly be given. I do not find that these workers are very highly paid officers and to make the increment sliding would offend against relative wage evaluation also. The difference of the existing wages between the different classes of workers should be maintained. I therefore decide that the daily wages of semi-skilled and skilled workers be raised by 3 annas 6 pies a day.

So far as monthly paid workers are concerned, the lowest paid man gets Rs. 22. Therefore their wages be increased in each case by Rs. 8.

This rate of increment is sanctioned for all the four Companies involved as the minimum basic pay is almost identical in all the Companies.

Now about the Dearness Allowance. On behalf of the Union Mr. Kalipada Mookerjee referred to the scale of Dearness Allowance adopted by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Waight objected to that on the ground that the Bengal Chamber of Commerce formulated a scheme with lower basic wages. I am in agreement with Dr. Waight that if the scheme of Bengal Chamber of Commerce in relation to Dearness Allowance be adopted, the minimum wages stated therein should also be adopted. I have definitely differed from that and have fixed the minimum basic wage as Rs. 30. I cannot therefore accept the scheme of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. According to the scheme of Pay Commission Rs. 25 is the amount of Dearness Allowance to be paid to each worker. The calculation is based on figures which are higher in Calcutta. I therefore fix Rs. 30 as Dearness Allowance which means Re. 1-2-6 pies a day. This amount shall include the food concession values, i.e., the amount of food concession values should be deducted from the Dearness Allowance and be paid in coin as is being done. For the workers engaged within the limits of Calcutta Corporation, Tollygunge Municipality, Garden Reach Municipality, South Suburban Municipality (Behala) the workers shall get Rs. 5 more to cover tram and bus fare as also a higher rate of rent for residential purposes.

This is the scale of wage at poverty line. The question is whether the workers should get anything above the poverty line. At one time I was assured that the account books of the different Companies would be produced before me for ascertaining the income of the different branches. The books have not been produced. These four Companies taken together form a monopoly of this commodity and they have not to face any competition. I could find signs of large expenditure for certain classes of officers indicative of the fact that the Companies feel the necessity of retaining officers with large expenditure which, in turn, indicates the solvency of the Companies. I therefore decide that the wages thus settled be increased by 1/12th, but the payments shall have to be made in lump for the year before the Durga Pujahs. If there is no objection to use the term "Bonus", this name, or any other name may be given to it. This is not an ex-gratia payment but it is in lieu of work. I am not much impressed with the argument that this offends against the provisions of the Payment of Wages Act When an amount is definitely agreed or ordered to be paid on a certain date, it can be so paid. Wages beyond the poverty line is also justified by the fact that the workers have, according to the conditions of employment, to work at night also and at different hours.

While inspecting the factory of Messrs. Burma Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India, Ltd., I found that the soldermen were working under very difficult conditions. There were obnoxious fumes and the workers had to work in that fume all the time. I had a talk with the management whether the fumes could be blown away immediately. There were difficulties as the temperature of the furnaces would be reduced. In view of this, I am inclined to give them extra wages. The learned Counsel on behalf of the Companies argued that the workers were accustomed to it and what we felt for a moment was not felt by the workers. It is so, but if we go a little further, we find that for money the workers have sacrificed sensibility. People working in the soldering room may be divided into two classes—those who work outside a block and those who remain inside the block. People who remain outside the block are not so much affected by the fumes. Men who are to work inside the block for all the day or at least for four hours shall get 4 annas extra per day.

According to the recommendations of the Pay Commission, Dearness Allowance should be Rs. 25. The calculations are based on figures which are lower than the prevailing figures. I therefore decide that the Dearness Allowance should be at the rate of Rs. 30 a month, i.e., Re. 1-2-6 pies a day. Food concession values are included in it, i.e., the workers will get an amount less than Rs. 30 by the food concession values.

No separate House Allowance need be given. But those who work within Calcutta Corporation or the municipalities of Garden Reach, South Suburban, Tollygunge, Beliaghata and Narikeldanga shall get an extra allowance of Rs. 5. This allowance is granted on the ground that the workers have to pay more for house and have to incur tram or bus fare in attending office.

The Companies have been giving bonus equal to the wages for a month and this is exactly what I have allowed and as this has been for 1946, I do not consider anything more need be given for 1946. They will get this from 1947.

I was asked to consider the case of the contractor's labour. The workers under the contractor are not direct employees of the Companies. Therefore, the Tribunal is incompetent in this proceeding to consider their case. If there be a dispute between the contractor and his workers, the matter may be considered then.

Issue No. 5.

The Companies contemplate opening a canteen and they have submitted their scheme to the Board of Directors. Both parties agree that they should await the Board's sanction. In view of this I can only suggest that this may be done in consultation with the Union.

Issue No. 6.

The first part of the issue is about the working hours per week. There is no complaint that the workers are made to work beyond the hours prescribed by the Factories Act. On behalf of the Union I have been asked to reduce the working hours further. In connection therewith it was argued that deduction in working hours may to some extent solve the unemployment problem of the country. When the Statute has fixed working hours the Tribunal is not inclined to interfere with it.

The next part of the issue is what should be the active duty hours of the barge and launch crews. Technically speaking, the Factories Act do not apply to them. Still the Tribunal may interfere if it finds that these men are overworked. The crew have to perform peculiar work in barges and boats. They have got intermittent active hours. It is not possible to engage them for eight hours or any number of hours consecutively. When a man signs himself for this particular job, he adopts a life in boat and incidental nature of work. I talked about the nature of work with some of the crew and I found that the serang and other men had stand-by. The boats were usually towed in; the manjhis were to do some work when the cargo would be unloaded. I am satisfied that they are not overworked. So no change is called for.

The next part of the issue is whether they should have freedom to go out of vessel when not on active duty, and, if so, on what terms. For the protection of the vessel and the contents it is necessary that a certain percentage should always remain in the boat. The Companies have no objection that when the boats are moored, a certain number of crewmen may go out with the permission of the person in charge of the boat. This is a fair thing and is approved.

As regards the last part of the issue, I do not think any extra payment should be made to them for compulsory stay in the vessel. They signed themselves for this work. They adopted this life of their free will. I have already said on what terms they should be allowed to go out when the vessels are moored.

Issue No 8.

This is quite different from overtime payment. This is one of the incidence of service in these Companies and I have considered this in fixing the wage structure. No further payment need be made.

Issues Nos. 10 and 12.

Under the Standing Orders Act the Company has got to propose standing orders, i.e., the conditions of service. After the Labour Commissioner receives them, the workers are informed through the Union or, if there is no Union, it is proclaimed in the factory. The rules are then adopted. If any party has any grievance he can put an objection. The standing orders, after acceptance, become as binding on the parties as a contract voluntarily agreed upon. The Tribunals do not interfere with this since there is a different Tribunal, i.e., statutory agency for settling these terms.

Issue No. 13.

I have already indicated that the Tribunal has no power to abolish the contract labour. Unless there be a statute abolishing contract labour, the Tribunal cannot do anything.

Issue No. 14.

I have not been given figures to come to a finding that there is any occupational disease. I was told that handling petroleum and other oils result in roughness and ultimate soreness of skin, etc. While in the factory I tried to ascertain whether this was very common. Some of the workers said that they had no such thing and did not hear of anybody being affected in this way Only one man came forward and it was found that he had roughness and sore in the skin. I am told remedies in such cases is that when a man gets roughness and soreness of skin he should be removed from his duty and engaged in some other work for a period of four weeks after which he may return. The Companies have agreed to it. On behalf of the Union it was argued that tuberculosis was an occupational disease. There are no data avaiable to come to a decision on the point. This must await investigation by Government. One point which I should note is that I was not satisfied with the arrangement for washing after a worker finished his job. In one installation I found a fairly big tank for wash. In another I found a very small reservoir. I found workers cleansing their hands by rubbing clay. The workers complained that only a little soap was given at one time and nothing further. On behalf of the Companies it was said that the soap had been taken home for washing linen. Without entering into the merits of either accusation, I may suggest that the Companies may keep either soap in liquid form or soap dissolved in water to be given to each worker daily for washing. The tank or the reservoir for washing should be big enough or there should also be flow of water.

Issue No. 7.

The subject under discussion may be divided into two parts. The first part relates to holidays with pay and the second part relates to other leave.

Formerly, in all the concerns 17 days' holidays were allowed. After the rules under the Factories Act were framed by which the workers were to get 10 days' continuous leave, the concerns have decided upon granting 10 days' continuous leave excluding Sundays and 8 days more. The result has been that the workers cannot enjoy some of the festive holidays which they had been accustomed to get before. There is an amount of misapprehension that the Companies' redistribution of holidays had been illegal. This is not so. It is no doubt true that the workers would feel that they had been deprived of some of the festive holidays while forgetting that they have secured 10 days' continuous leave. It would be punishing the Companies for their past generosity if I were to order that all the 17 festive holidays prevalent before should be restored. So far as holidays are concerned, I am not prepared to go beyond the Factories Act, as the Companies have not curtailed the Factories Act list. The festive holidays are not granted to the barge and launch workers or to the men of the security staff.

The second part is about other leaves. The workers get seven days' sick leave only; craft employees get, after 12 months' service and, thereafter, in every alternate year, 3 months' leave, 21 days only of which will be with pay and in other years either 21 days with pay or 2 months' leave without pay. In addition they shall get 7 days' sick leave with pay in case of genuine sickness. A comparative chart is given in Appendix C.

It appears to me that the Companies virtually do not give anything like privilege or casual leave to the workers. Ten days' leave in the year obtained by curtailment of festive holidays is not compensation for that. I therefore decide that the workers shall get in addition to 7 days' sick leave casual leave on basic pay for 7 days. The casual leave shall not accumulate beyond the year. Casual leave will be granted in emergencies at the discretion of the Company and not too many at a time to hamper normal and efficient work.

So far as craft personnel are concerned, I make the modification that instead of 21 days there shall be 25 days. I do not want to make any distinction between craft personnel and the members of the security staff who are deprived of festive holidays and who also come mostly from other parts of the province like craft personnel. So the security staff will enjoy the same facilities as craft personnel. The privilege leave allowed to them may accumulate for two years but not more.

Issue No. 9.

The workers demand Provident Fund for all the workers of all type. This demand is not against Messrs. Burma Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India, Ltd., as they have got a Provident Fund scheme. They demand gratuity or pension or special termination allowance in addition to Provident Fund.

Messrs. Burma Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India, Ltd., permits contribution up to approximately 10 per cent. of wages and this compares favourably with many other concerns and I consider them to be fair and no further imposition is called for. Except Messrs. Standard Vacuum Oil Company the other two Companies have switched over to the Provident Fund scheme taking the Burma Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India, Ltd., as model. Messrs. Standard Vacuum Oil Company have got their pension scheme. The essential features of their plan are: on retirement at 55 years of age, with a minimum of 20 years of service, an employee receives a pension calculated at 1½ per cent. of the basic salary earned during the years of his employment; if an employee dies in active service his nominated beneficiary receives the equivalent of 1 month's basic pay for each year of service up to a maximum of 12 months' basic pay at the rate earned by the employee immediately before his death. If the employee dies after retirement the nominated beneficiary receives the equivalent of 1 year's pension. In Appendices D, D_1 illustrations of the scheme as made by the Company are given.

In comparing the Provident Fund Rules and Pension Schemes there are points in favour of each. One point for which Government is very anxious for pension scheme must be left out of consideration. Government is anxious for the pension scheme to keep a body of men faithful to it throughout life. With these Companies no such consideration arises. I have carefully considered the matter and it appears to me that if a man puts in full service and lives for some years, the pension scheme is beneficial to him but it has all the drawbacks of death following soon before the age of retirement or soon after retirement. With Government servants, the family is left with nothing in case of premature death but the Company here gives something which is not substantial. With the Provident Fund the family would be in a better position. I do not agree with the complaint of the Union that workers are discharged before the retiring age to avoid giving pension. I am considering the scheme itself and not its working. The men earn little and thus the pension necessarily becomes small. This may not be sufficient to maintain the family always but in case of Provident Fund he may start a business and get better income for maintaining his family. It is no doubt true that a man may dissipate the large amount he may get at one time. The money will be paid at a time when the man will be lost to all romances and he may not dissipate the amount except by speculation. Pension scheme becomes advantageous with long life. Exact data are not available to show the effect of factory life on expectancy of the life of a worker. Considering all aspects of the matter, I consider that Provident Fund system is more beneficial for these workers. I am not unmindful of the fact that their present scheme has been approved by other Tribunals in Bombay, Karachi and Madras. I have been assured by the Company that Provident Fund Scheme on the lines of Burma Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India, Ltd., would not cost them more. The Company resists the change on the ground that this is more beneficial for the worker and, secondly, on the ground that this is a global practice for the Company and should not be altered in one place. I have disposed of the first contention. Local conditions must vary and a scheme which is considered better may not be sacrificed for uniformity. I therefore decide that the Company should switch on the Provident Fund Scheme as in Burma Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India, Ltd. The Company will contribute up to 10 per cent, as in that Company. Difficulties may arise in making adjustments for those who have put in some years of service. It is difficult for the Tribunal to make a scheme for adjustment as the Income-tax Department will have a say in the matter. Provided the Income-tax Department agrees the adjustment should be made in the following way. The Company will ascertain what amount it would have paid for a particular worker under the Provident Fund Scheme up to this time at 10 per cent. The worker will start with this initial deposit to his credit. New entrants will come under the Provident Fund Scheme. A scheme for adjustment will be made for the existing workers and they would be put to their irrevocable election either to continue under the old scheme or come under the Provident Fund Rules. The scheme shall apply to employees of all grades including the craft personnel and the men of the security staff. The change to Provident Fund system is not intended to undermine the loyalty of an employee to the employer during the continuity of the service which is an essential condition of service. The Government of India Model Rules or like these things may be adopted.

Issue No. 15.

The Companies are agreeable to recognise the Unions. The Unions should be recognised as a medium for negotiating with the employees whom they represent. On behalf of the Companies it was suggested to me that the Tribunal should specify the Unions to be recognised as the persons to be affected. I decide that Messrs. Burma Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India, Ltd., shall recognise Burma Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India, Ltd., Labour Union; Messrs. Indo-Burma Petroleum Co., Ltd., shall recognise Indo-Burma Petroleum Co., Ltd., Labour Union; Messrs. Standard Vacuum Oil Company shall recognise Standard Vacuum Oil Company Labour Union and Messrs. Caltex (India), Ltd., shall recognise Caltex (India), Ltd., Labour Union as representing their employees in the factories.

ANNEXURE.

INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT: Mr M. C. BANERJI, Additional District Judge, Tribunal, Industrial Disputes.

Industrial dispute between Messrs. B. C. Agarwalla and Company, Grand Smithy Works, Belur, Howrah, and its workmen as represented by the Secretary, Loha Karigarh Union, Belur, Howrah.

Award.

The Grand Smithy Works owned by Messrs. B. C. Agarwalla and Company is an iron foundry usually employing about a hundred men in the factory. At the date of the reference on 26th September 1947 there were about 80 workers in the factory. On 19th August 1947 the proprietor B. C. Agarwalla issued a notice to the workers, stating that as his health did not permit him to stay at the place any longer he had decided to close down the factory, with effect from 30th September 1947. The workers were also informed in this notice that they would be paid ten days' pay along with their weekly wages on 30th September 1947, when the Company would be closed down. The workers belonged to a Union named Lohar Karigar Union. The Union applied to the Labour Commissioner objecting to the declaration of the proprietor to close down the factory, as disclosed in the notice and alleged that this move on the part of the proprietor was only an attempt to avoid any claim by the Union for improvement of the conditions of service of the workers and that what the proprietor desired was to start the factory again with a new set of workers after discharging the present employees. The Labour Commissioner could not bring about a settlement of the dispute between the parties and the dispute was referred to me by Government, by order No. 551Lab., dated 26th September 1947, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Union submitted its written statement and pleaded that the Company should not be allowed to close the factory and discharge the workers and that in case the workers were really discharged, sufficient compensation should be awarded to them. The Union also claimed for basic pay and dearness allowance as mentioned in its additional written statement filed on 4th November 1947 and also for framing of leave rules. The Company in its written statement stated that the proprietor by reason of his ill-health was not in a position to undertake and execute the responsibility of running the factory and that he was, therefore, obliged to close down the factory.

The Union was represented at the hearing by Sj. Taradas Bhattacharyya, Secretary and Hem Narayan and Birendra Das, workers. The Company was represented at the hearing by Sj. Narendra Nath Bose, Works Manager. The case was heard on 20th December 1947.

The disputed points in this case are as follows:—

ISSUES.

1. Are the proprietors going to close the industry? If so, are the employees entitled to any compensation?

2. If the industry be not closed down—
   (a) What may be the basic pay and dearness allowance of the employees?
   (b) What may be the leave to be allowed to the employees?
   (c) What should be the rules for dismissal of employees?

DECISIONS.

Issue No. 1: Are the proprietors going to close the industry? If so, are the employees entitled to any compensation?

The notice of the Company, dated 19th August 1947, shows that the workers were notified on that date of the intention of the proprietor to close down the factory with effect from 30th September 1947. The proprietor assigns the reason for closing down the factory to be an unsatisfactory state of his health. The Union asked before me that the proprietor Mr. B. C. Agarwalla was in the best of health and he was really trying to close down the factory in order to get rid of the present set of workmen who had formed the Union and were about to press for economic demands on the Company. The Union suggested that the most that the proprietor would really do was to close down this factory for a short period and then to start another factory with a new set of workmen without any past period of service to their credit. The Union referred me to the file of the Labour Commissioner and suggested that before the Labour Commissioner the proprietor Mr. B. C. Agarwalla admitted that he was going to start a motor workshop in place of the smithy after about six months. It appears from the file of the Labour Commissioner that Mr. S. N. Das, Assistant Labour Commissioner, went to the workshop on 8th September 1947 and had a long discussion with the proprietor on that date. Mr. Das states in the note sheet that as far as he could ascertain, the proprietor Mr. B. C. Agarwalla was not in bad health and that he was going to close down the present workshop for the time being and that after about six months he might start a motor workshop. It also appears from the file of the Labour Commissioner that Assistant Labour Commissioner repeatedly tried to make an amicable settlement of the matter between the proprietor and his workmen and urged on the proprietor to pay adequate compensation to the workmen, but that the proprietor was not agreeable to any such arrangement. It again appears from the note of the Assistant Labour Commissioner on 24th September 1947 that the proprietor admitted to him that he had made very excellent profits during the war years and that he complained that his business was now in a bad way.

It is admitted that no bonus was paid by this Company to its workers during the war years. It, therefore, appears that in case of discharge, the employees are entitled to adequate compensation.

According to the admission of both the parties before me this workshop was started in 1941. There are, therefore, workers whose services may extend to a period of six or seven years. Due notice was given by the proprietor of his intention to close down the factory on 19th August 1947. As the case was referred to this Tribunal on 26th September 1947, the workshop was not closed down during the pendency of this case before the Tribunal. It, however, appears that out of about 80 men who were in the workshop at the time of the reference there were now about 50 men remaining and others had left the workshop in search of better jobs. It is admitted by the Union that those who had left the service of the workshop after reference to the Tribunal, had so done of their own accord on getting better appointments elsewhere except, however, one Sufal Chandra Das who was discharged on 19th November 1947 during the pendency of this case. My award, therefore, is that those men who are still serving in the workshop and will be discharged by the proprietor will get compensation at the following scale, instead of ten days' pay as stated in the notice on 19th August 1947:—

Each worker with service of one to two years will receive one month's extra wages.

Each worker with service of more than two years will receive extra wages for two months.

Sufal Chandra Das who was discharged by the proprietor during the pendency of this case will also be entitled to this compensation.

Issue No. 2: If the industry be not closed down—

(a) What may be the basic pay and dearness allowance of the employees?

(b) What may be the leave to be allowed to the employees?

(c) What should be the rules for dismissal of employees?

(a) The Union demanded a minimum basic pay of Rs. 30 per month and dearness allowance at the flat rate of Rs. 30 per month, in case the workshop continued its business. The Company did not object to this demand and in fact its contention was that it had no interest in contesting these demands, in view of the fact that it was determined to close down the workshop after the conclusion of the present trial. I would consider that in view of the fact that this workshop is situated in Howrah, a minimum basic pay of Rs. 30 and a dearness allowance of Rs. 30 per month would not be excessive in accordance with the recommendations of the Central Pay Commission. In case the workshop continues its business and retains the workers in its employment, my award is that the workers will get a minimum basic pay of Rs. 30 and a dearness allowance at the flat rate of Rs. 30. Those workers who are in receipt of basic pay at the present time at more than Rs. 30 per month shall get a flat rate of increment of Rs. 5 per month in the basic pay.

(b) The Union demanded 15 days' sick-leave with pay in a year, 15 days' casual leave with pay in a year and one month's privilege leave with pay in a year. As mentioned above the Company did not say anything with regard to this demand as it was sure of closing the workshop. I would, however, consider that the workers should get 15 days' leave on full pay in a year cumulative for two years and 15 days' sick-leave with full pay in the year. These periods of leave should satisfy the workers' demands.

(c) The Union asked me to formulate rules for dismissal of employees. I would only point out that there should be no dismissal of any employee without a proper enquiry by a competent authority and without giving the worker a chance of explaining his conduct. I do not consider that anything further should be laid down to restrict the discretion of the proprietor in discharging his employees in a fit case.

Conclusion.

I would remind the workers that the proprietor of the workshop has got an inherent right of closing down his business if he finds it so convenient to him. The right of the workers will, however, be safeguarded if they receive a sufficient compensation for their discharge after serving the Company for some time. If the proprietor changes his mind and continues his business in the workshop, the workers will get remuneration as detailed above.

The award will take effect from such date as the Government will fix under section 19(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act.

For the Companies:—Mr. V. K. Batra.

Award.

By an order of the Government of West Bengal No. 667Lab., dated 14th October 1947, an industrial dispute between the abovenamed companies and their workers was referred to me as a Tribunal constituted under the Industrial Disputes Act under sections 7 and 10 of the said Act for adjudication of the said dispute. The workers filed written statement on 10th November 1947 and the Companies filed written statement on 17th December 1947. The Bharat Carbon and Ribbon Manufacturing Company could not file the written statement earlier as the Board of Directors of the company could not meet to consider the demands of the workers before 4th December 1947. The Bharat Carbon and Ribbon Manufacturing Company had its registered office at Lahore and had at first commenced manufacturing carbon papers and typewriter ribbons at Karachi. It started a factory in Calcutta in 1944. In July 1946 Messrs. Bharat Metal Industries, Limited, who had their factory at Lahore, shifted to Calcutta in a separate building within the premises of the company. On account of partition of India and the communal disturbance at Lahore the Bharat Carbon and Ribbon Manufacturing Company shifted their registered office to Amritsar and closed their factory at Karachi. This company suffered serious losses on account of the partition and the communal disturbances in the Punjab and the shifting of the Karachi factory to Calcutta. The Bharat Metal Industries, Limited, is a company managed by different Board of Directors, though the local management appears to be the same. The workers of the two companies are different, though they have formed and registered a joint Union.

PREVIOUS HISTORY.

Certain differences arose between the workers and the two companies over the formation of a union and dismissal of three workers in June 1947. Ultimately, however, the disputes were settled amicably and the three workers, who had been dismissed, were re-appointed. During the second week of August, the workers demanded special holidays on the 15th and 16th August and one month's salary as Independence Bonus. On the 14th of August there was a stay-in strike but later the workers accepted the assurance of the management that their demands would be referred to the Board of Directors and resumed duty on the 18th of August. On the 12th of September the management issued a notice intimating that 47 workers—11 of Bharat Metal Industries and 36 of Bharat Carbon and Ribbon Manufacturing Company would be retrenched on the ground that the companies were forced to reduce production on account of non-availability of raw materials and want of orders from Government. This led to a stay-in strike from the 15th of September, and a list of demands of the workers was also presented to the companies on the 17th of September. On the 18th September the company declared a lock-out. Through the intervention of the Labour Commissioner and on his assurance that he would advise the Government to refer the dispute to a Tribunal, the lock-out was withdrawn and the workers returned to duty on the 29th September.

The following issues were framed on the basis of the statements filed by the parties:—

(1) Fixation of basic pay and grade.
(2) Dearness Allowance.
(3) Bonus and its time of payment.
(4) Cheap Canteen.
(5) House Rent Allowance.
(6) Proper medical treatment of the workers.
(7) Reinstatement of 47 workers of the company.
(8) Security of service.
(9) Security money deducted from workers' pay.
(10) Diminution of leave and holidays.

The case was fixed for hearing on the 5th January 1948, but the parties did not appear on that day. On 6th January 1948, Mr. Batra on behalf of the management of the two companies and Sj. Jagannath Bhattacharya, President, and Mr. K. P. Chatterjee, Secretary of the Workers' Union, filed statements to the effect that the matters in dispute between them have been amicably settled and prayed that the case may be decided accordingly. It would appear from the statements that out of the ten issues framed, the parties have come to a full agreement regarding six of the issues and the workers have accepted the offers of the company as embodied in their statements filed on 17th December 1947 on these issues. These issues are:—

(1) Fixation of basic pay.
(2) Dearness Allowance.
(3) Bonus and its time of payment.
(4) Cheap Canteen.
(5) House Rent Allowance.
(6) Proper medical treatment of the workers.

The agreement regarding these six issues is as follows:—

Issues Nos. 1 and 2: Fixation of Basic Pay and Dearness Allowance.

The Board of Directors have sanctioned a minimum daily basic wage of 2½ annas per hour amounting to Rs. 1-4 per day of 8 hours and Rs. 7-8 per week of 48 hours. This amounts to Rs. 32-8 per month. The workers, according to the management, are all skilled workers and they have been divided into four categories, viz., Assistants, Operators, Junior Chargemen and Senior Chargemen. The maximum pay of the assistants has been fixed at 4 annas per hour or Rs. 2 per day; the operators' minimum pay is 3as. 6p. per hour and the maximum is 6 annas; the pay of the Junior Chargemen is 4as. 6p. per hour minimum and 8 annas per hour maximum and that of the Senior Chargemen is 5as. 6p. per hour minimum and 10 annas per hour maximum. The dearness allowance has been sanctioned at 2 annas per hour for all classes equivalent to Re. 1 per day and Rs. 26 per month. These revised scales and grades of pay and dearness allowance will be given effect to from 1st January 1948. These offers are fair and mean a considerable improvement on the present position. The basic pay and the scales of pay of the four grades of workers and the rates of increment and dearness allowance are accordingly fixed as sanctioned by the Board of Directors as per statement filed by the company on 17th December 1947 and as set out in Appendix A which will take effect from 1st January 1948.

Issue No. 3: Bonus and its time of payment.

The workers demanded that bonus equal to one month's wages every year should be paid to the Hindu workers before the Durga Puja Festival and to the Mahommedan workers before the Id Festival. The management stated in the written statement that during the years 1944-46 bonus equal to 1/6th of the basic wage of a worker during the previous year was paid. The management is prepared to pay the bonus at the same rate and has no objection to pay the bonus to the Hindu workers on the occasion of the Pujas and to the Mahommedan workers on the occasion of the Id Festival. So there is practically no dispute on this issue and the workers have accepted the suggestion of the management.

Issue No. 4: Cheap Canteen.

With regard to the demand of the workers for a cheap canteen the management has stated that arrangements for setting up of a cheap canteen and ration shop are already in hand and would be completed by the end of January 1948 at the latest. This has also been agreed to by the workers. I hope a cheap canteen will be set up in the course of this month as undertaken by the management.

Issue No. 5: House Rent Allowance.

The companies have sanctioned a house rent allowance of Rs. 1-8 per week amounting to Rs. 7 per month, for each worker with effect from 1st January 1948. This has been accepted by the workers. The house rent allowance is fixed accordingly with effect from 1st January 1948.

Issue No. 6: Proper medical treatment of the workers.

The companies maintain a doctor who visits the factory twice a week and attends to all the workers. Certain medicines are also supplied free of charge to the workers. A list of such medicines has been supplied by the company. This arrangement is quite adequate and has been so recognised by the workers.

Issue No. 7: Reinstatement of 47 retrenched workers.

The management have agreed to take in 43 of the retrenched workers in due course according as vacancy occurs. An exception has only been made in respect of four workers, who were dismissed for indiscipline. They are Deb Nath Das, Sashi Bhuson Mitra, S. K. Dutt and Matilal Das. The Workers' Union has agreed to this. The company should, therefore, re-appoint all the retrenched workers excepting the four named above according as vacancy occurs.

Issue No. 8: Security of service.

It has been agreed that confirmation in service is to take place after six months.

Issue No. 9: Security money deducted from workers' pay.

The workers made a grievance of the fact that certain sums are taken as security by deduction from their pay. This matter has been referred by the management to the head office and the management hope that the demand of the workers will be acceded to by the companies. The workers have agreed to abide by the decision of the head office on the point.

Issue No. 10: Diminution of leave and holidays.

The management have stated that this point is still under consideration by the Board of Directors and the workers have agreed to await their decision on the point.

There was also a demand by the workers for recognition of their Union. The companies have no objection to recognise the Workers' Union but a difficulty has been created because the workers have formed and registered one union comprising of the workers of Bharat Carbon and Ribbon Manufacturing Company and Bharat Metal Industries, Limited. Since the two companies are separate and are managed by separate Boards of Directors, they want that there should be two Workers' Unions for the two concerns. They have agreed to recognise the separate Unions of their respective workers if the present union is split up and two such separate Unions are brought into existence. This can be easily done and the workers have also undertaken to form and register separate Unions for the two concerns by splitting up the present Union. When this is done the Unions will be recognised by the respective companies.

In conclusion, I congratulate both the management and the workers for the admirable spirit they have shown in resolving all their differences amicably and I hope that this spirit will continue to animate both the parties in future.

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 17th November, 1947:—

L. A. Bill No. 44 of 1947.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Foreigners (Amendment) Act, 1947.

2. Substitution of "India" for "British India" in Act XXXI of 1946.—In the Foreigners Act, 1946 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), for the words "British India", wherever they occur, the word "India" shall be substituted.

3. Amendment of section 2, Act XXXI of 1946.—In clause (a) of section 2 of the said Act—

(a) for the words "Indian State" the words "acceding State" shall be substituted;

(b) for the words "Tribal areas" the words "Assam tribal areas" shall be substituted.

4. Amendment of section 3, Act XXXI of 1946.—(1) In sub-section (2) of section 3 of the said Act,—

(b) after the words "and may make provision" the words "for any matter which is to be or may be prescribed and" shall be inserted.

(2) To the said section 3 the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

5. Amendment of section 6, Act XXXI of 1946.—In section 6 of the said Act, sub-section (4) shall be renumbered as sub-section (6), and after sub-section (3) the following sub-sections shall be inserted, namely:—

"(4) If any foreigner enters India in contravention of any provision of this Act or any order made thereunder, the prescribed authority may, within two months from the date of such entry, direct the master of the vessel or the pilot of the aircraft on which such entry was effected or the owner or the agent of the owner of such vessel or aircraft, to provide, to the satisfaction of the said authority and otherwise than at the expense of Government, accommodation on a vessel or aircraft for the purpose of removing the said foreigner from India.

(5) The master of any vessel or the pilot of any aircraft which is about to carry passengers from a port or place in India to any destination outside India, or the owner or the agent of the owner of any such vessel or aircraft shall, if so directed by the Central Government and on tender of payment therefor at the current rates, provide on the vessel or aircraft accommodation to such port or place outside India, being a port or place at which the vessel or aircraft is due to call, as the Central Government may specify, for any foreigner ordered under section 3 not to remain in India and for his dependents, if any, travelling with him."

6. Amendment of section 7, Act XXXI of 1946.—To section 7 of the said Act, the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

7. Insertion of new section 7A in Act XXXI of 1946.—After section 7 of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"7A. Power to control places frequented by foreigners.—(1)) The prescribed authority may, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed, direct the owner or person having control of any premises used as a restaurant or as a place of public resort or entertainment or as a club and frequented by foreigners—

(a) to close such premises either entirely or during specified periods, or

(b) to use or permit the use of such premises only under such conditions as may be specified, or

(c) to refuse admission to such premises either to all foreigners or to any specified foreigner or class of foreigner.

(d) A person to whom any direction has been given under sub-section (1) shall not, while such direction remains in force, use or permit to be used any other premises for any of the aforesaid purposes, except with the previous permission in writing of the prescribed authority and in accordance with any conditions which that authority may think fit to impose.

(3) Any person to whom any direction has been given under sub-section (1) and who is aggrieved thereby may, within thirty days from the date of such direction, appeal to the Central Government; and the decision of the Central Government in the matter shall be final"

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Foreigners Act, 1946, has in certain respects been found inadequate for the effective control of foreigners in India. For example, the Act does not provide power for requiring the master of a vessel or the pilot of an aircraft to remove a foreigner who has made an illegal entry into India on any such vessel or aircraft or who has under section 3 of the Act been ordered not to remain in India. Another power the absence of which has been keenly felt is that of requiring a foreigner, who has been directed to leave India, to meet the expenses of his voyage, if he is in a position to do so; for want of this power, recalcitrant foreigners evade payment which falls on the general tax-payer of India especially in case of foreigners whom it is found necessary to deport with as little delay as possible. The Act does not also give power for imposing in times of emergency an obligation on a householder in any specified area (e.g., in prohibited and protected places) to report to the prescribed authority the presence of any foreigner in his household and to furnish other particulars in respect of such a foreigner. Similarly there is no power under the Act for closing down clubs and restaurants, etc., frequented by foreigners, and in the absence of such power the police have experienced special difficulty in closing down gambling and opium dens, etc., used by foreigners of criminal or disloyal association or otherwise undesirable type. These powers are necessary both from the security point of view and for the effective control of foreigners in general.

2. The object of this Bill is to amend the Foreigners Act, 1946, so as to take adequate powers in respect of the matters mentioned above.

(1) To continue in force for a further period of one year ending 31st March, 1949, the present rates of entertainments tax and electricity duty enacted by the Bengal Finance Act, 1945, a Governor's Act, which is due to expire on 31st March, 1948.

(2) To continue in force for a further period of one year ending 31st March, 1949, the present rate of the totalisator and betting taxes levied by the Bengal Finance (No. II) Act, 1945, which is a Governor's Act and is due to expire on 31st March, 1948.

(3) To continue in force on a permanent basis the present rate of Sales Tax, viz., three-quarters of an anna in the rupee enacted by the Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Amendment Act, 1945, a Governor's Act, which will, under the provisions of article 6 of the India (Provisional Constitution Order), 1947, read with sub-section (4) of section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, automatically lapse on 24th April, 1948, unless re-enacted by the Legislature.

(4) To repeal the Bengal Finance Act, 1939, imposing a tax at the flat rate of Rs. 30 per year on persons in trade, profession, calling and employment. The tax was actually repealed by the Bengal Finance (Repealing) Act, 1946, but as this repealing Act is a Governor's Act, it requires to be re-enacted by the Legislature before 24th April, 1948, the date on which it will automatically lapse under the provisions of article 6 of the India (Provisional Constitution Order), 1947, read with sub-section (4) of section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935.

2. Unless this Bill is passed, the rates of taxes in respect of items (1), (2) and (3) above will, after 31st March, 1948, or 24th April, 1948, as the case may be, revert to the lower rates originally imposed. Continuance of the higher rates is necessary in the interest of revenue. The passage of the Bill will also ensure that the flat rate tax on professions, trades, callings and employments which is open to serious administrative and other objections will not revive after 24th April, 1948.

Isolation of patients.

8. When the Deputy Director of Health Services (Public Health), or the Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, or any person authorised in writing by either of these officers, considers that the isolation of any patient is a precaution necessary for the protection of the neighbouring population, he shall order the patient to observe isolation and may order the nearest relative in attendance on the patient, or the occupier of the house in which the patient is staying, to arrange for the isolation of the patient in such a manner and for such a time as may be approved by the Deputy Director of Health Services (Public Health), or the Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, or any person authorised in writing by either of these officers.

9. No person shall enter any place wherein a patient is isolated under regulation 8 without the permission of the Deputy Director of Health Services (Public Health), or the Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, or any person authorised in writing by either of these officers.

10. The Deputy Director of Health Services (Public Health), or the Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, or any person authorised in writing by either of these officers, may require to be carried out, by such agency and within such time as may be specified in the order, such measures for the disinfection or evacuation of any premises in the occupation of a patient or for the disinfection or destruction of any of his personal effects, as the Deputy Director of Health Services (Public Health), or the Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, or any person so authorised may consider necessary.

11. The Deputy Director of Health Services (Public Health), or the Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, or any person authorised in writing by either of these officers, may forbid any person who has been a patient, or who has to his knowledge been in contact with a patient, to act as vendor of any article of food or drink for such period as may be specified in the order.

12. No person shall sell any article which has been in contact with a patient until it has been disinfected to the satisfaction of the Deputy Director of Health Services (Public Health), or the Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, or any person authorised by either of these officers.

Water supply.

13. When the Deputy Director of Health Services (Public Health), or the Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, or any person authorised by either of these officers, is of opinion that the water of any well, tank, pool or other source of domestic water supply is contaminated or is likely to be contaminated, he may at once take such steps as he deems necessary to close and keep closed such tank, well or pool or may require the owner or occupier of the land upon which such well, tank, pool or source of water supply is situated, to take steps to close the same to the satisfaction of the Deputy Director of Health Services (Public Health), or the Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, or any person so authorised, within such time as may be specified in the order.

14. When the Deputy Director of Health Services (Public Health), or the Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, or any person authorised in writing by either of these officers is of opinion that the water in any well, tank, pool or source of domestic water supply is contaminated, he may disinfect it or direct its owner or occupier to disinfect it with such disinfectants as he may specify in such quantities and at such time as he may think fit.

15. The Deputy Director of Health Services (Public Health), or the Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, or any person authorised in writing by either of these officers, may prohibit persons from easing themselves or throwing rubbish, sewage or offensive matter into any well, tank, pool or other source of water supply which is used by the public or within such distances from such well, tank or source of water supply as he may fix in this behalf.

Miscellaneous.

16. Whenever the Deputy Director of Health Services (Public Health), or the Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, or any person authorised in writing by either of such officers, is satisfied that the condition of any privy, urinal, drain or sewer or cess-pool is such as to endanger the risk of the spread of cholera to the inhabitants of the neighbourhood, he may order the occupier of the land in which such privy, urinal or cess-pool is situated to disinfect it or to allow any officer of the Corporation to disinfect it with such disinfectants in such quantity and at such times as such officer may think fit.

16A. Every owner of a premises in which a privy is situated shall, if the arrangements for flushing such privy are not in good order effect necessary repairs thereto and put such arrangements in order by the 20th of February 1948 and thereafter every such owner shall maintain all arrangements for flushing each privy situated in such premises in proper working order.

17. The Deputy Director of Health Services (Public Health), or the Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, or any person authorised in writing by either of these officers, may, during this outbreak of cholera, order that any market, shop or other public place shall remain closed for such time as may appear to him to be necessary and may forbid the holding of any gathering within the Corporation area.

18. 21. The Deputy Director of Health Services (Public Health), or the Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, or any person authorised in writing by either of these officers, may enter upon any land or after two hours' notice in writing into any premises or building used for human habitation at any time between sunrise and sunset for the purpose of carrying out any measure or making any enquiries authorised by these regulations.

For the purpose of ensuring that the provisions of regulations 24 and 25 are being complied with, the Deputy Director of Health Services (Public Health), the Health Officer of the Calcutta Corporation, or any person authorised in writing in this behalf by either of these officers, may inspect any articles of food or drink being sold, exposed, offered for sale, stored or kept in any public place, or any market, shop or stall and may for this purpose enter any premises between sunrise and sunset.

27. No person other than an employee of the Corporation or a person or class of persons authorised in this behalf by the Corporation shall touch, remove or otherwise deal with—

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE SREE ASHUTOSH DAS GUPTA, TRIBUNAL.

In the matter of a dispute concerning Messrs. Roberts McLean and Company, Limited, and their employees represented by the Roberts McLean Employees' Union.

Award.

The dispute between Messrs. Roberts McLean and Company, Limited, and their employees represented by Roberts McLean Employees' Union was referred for adjudication to Dr. H. G. Waight, Tribunal, by order No. 56Lab., dated the 15th May 1947, of the Government of West Bengal. Subsequently, when the services of Dr. Waight were not available, the dispute was referred to me for adjudication by order No. 398Lab., dated the 1st September 1947, of the Government of West Bengal. The Union was at first represented by Messrs. S. Sen, Advocate, and Dwijendralal Sen Gupta, M.A., B.L., Pleader, and by Babu Jogendra Kishore Roy, Vice-President of the Union and Babu Bhabanipati Mukherji, Assistant Secretary of the Union. Mr. A. N. Roy, Bar.-at-Law, assisted by Mr. G. F. Kennedy, Solicitor of Messrs. Fowler and Company, and Mr. R. C. Atterton, Secretary of the Company, represented the Company. The case was taken up on 6th October 1947 for hearing on the merit. The examination-in-chief of Mr. Atterton, first witness for the Company, was finished on 14th October 1947 and before the cross-examination commenced, both parties proposed to amicably settle the dispute and time was allowed till 16th October 1947. The terms of settlement purporting to have been agreed upon by the parties were filed on 16th October 1947. The terms were signed by the Director of the Company and Mr. S. Sen, Advocate, for the Union. The demands of the Union included, among other things, reinstatement of 22 workers said to have been discharged by the Company without justification. The terms of settlement provided, as in the nature of a gratuity, one month's basic pay and dearness allowance at the rates in force at the date of discharge of the employees in respect of each year of service of the Company, subject to a minimum of two months' pay. The length of service was to be counted up to the date of settlement. Immediately after the terms of settlement were filed, I was told that some of the discharged employees were not agreeable to the terms and that they demanded reinstatement. Some objection was also raised by Babu Jogendra Kishore Roy to clause 6 of the terms of settlement. The objection was made to the Advocate and we are not aware what the objection actually was. Before I could pass my order as to whether the terms of settlement should be accepted by me, and an award should be passed in terms of the settlement, I received a letter from the Secretary of the Union, Sree Nirmal Kumar Sen, in which it was said that the employees were definitely against the compromise. The Secretary requested me to cancel the compromise and prayed for one day's time to enable him to place the case of the Union before the Tribunal. 18th October 1947 was fixed for hearing the parties but as I was otherwise engaged I had to adjourn the case till 1st November 1947. Mr. S. Sen retired and Mr. P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, represented the Union. I examined Mr. S. Sen with a view to have a clear idea of the circumstances under which the settlement was arrived at. It was contended on behalf of the Union that it had not instructed Mr. S. Sen to settle the dispute in the way in which the settlement is said to have been arrived at. On enquiry it transpired that a very large section of the discharged employees were either absent or were not agreeable to accept gratuity in lieu of reinstatement. Although a very few of the discharged employees might have agreed to accept gratuity in lieu of reinstatement, nothing was mentioned in the terms of settlement as to who those few discharged employees were. Mr. S. Sen also admitted that he did not apply his mind to paragraph 6 of the terms of settlement. The terms embodied in paragraph 6 might be a consideration for the terms embodied in other paragraphs. The result of the enquiry was that I had to reject the terms of settlement and I directed hearing of the case to commence on the 1st December 1947 (vide order No. 32, dated 17th November 1947). I may mention in this connection that some time was spent over a preliminary objection raised by the Company about the jurisdiction of the present Tribunal to adjudicate the Union's demands regarding the pay and condition of service of the employees. The objection was overruled by order No. 18, dated 6th October 1947. This is how the adjudication of the case was unusually delayed. The hearing of the case on the merit was commenced on 1st December 1947 and concluded on the 20th December 1947. Both parties examined witnesses and proved documents in support of their respective cases.

The case of the Union is that on 24th July 1946, the employees of Messrs. Roberts McLean and Company formed a Union, named it Roberts McLean Employees' Union and had it registered under the Indian Trade Unions Act of 1926, on the 30th September 1946; that on 30th July 1946 the Union, on behalf of the clerical and menial staff of the Company, submitted certain proposals for the consideration of the Company for the improvement of their pay and condition of service; that when the demands were not substantially conceded to the Union had to give a reminder on 30th September 1946, but as the reminder was not responded to, the executive committee of the Union passed a resolution on 12th February 1947 deciding to call a general meeting for consideration of the advisability or otherwise of launching a strike; that the Company on receiving the aforesaid information started victimisation of the employees and verbally dismissed six of its employees mentioned in paragraph 1(f) of this statement on 17th February 1947 without assigning any reasons; that the employees became irritated and started strike on the 8th March 1947, after giving proper notice to the Company that on the advice of the Labour Commissioner the employees called off the strike on the 11th April 1947, but that 16 persons mentioned in paragraph 1(h) of the statement were not allowed to rejoin their duties. The demands of the employees are for increment of the existing scales of pay and dearness allowance, an improvement of the existing scheme of bonus, provident fund, gratuity, pension, leave, medical relief, working hours, security of service and promotion, for recognition of the Union and reinstatement of the discharged employees mentioned in paragraphs 1(f) and 1(h) of the written statement of the Union.

All the demands were traversed by the Company in their written reply. The contention of the Company is briefly that the existing scales of pay and dearness allowance, conditions of service and amenities which the employees are at present enjoying do not call for any improvement or revision and that the discharge of the 22 employees mentioned in the Union's statement was fully justified.

Dr. H. G. Waight, my predecessor in office, framed the following issues:—

1. What, if any, increase should be awarded in the existing scales of pay to the following classes:—

(i) Clerical staff,

(ii) Jamadars, drivers and mistries, and

(iii) Bearers and peons?

2. Dearness allowance: What minimum should be fixed for—

(a) Clerical staff, and (b) Other employees?

3. (i) Godown menials: Whether the godown menials should be divided into two grades;

(ii) If so, what would be the appropriate rates for the respective grades; and

(iii) Whether there should be provision for making any workers permanent; and, if so, after what period and at what rate?

4. Whether any improvement should be made in the existing bonuses?

5. Provident Fund: Whether any alteration is necessary in the rate of contribution payable by both sides to Provident Fund; and, if so, what?

6. (i) Whether any scheme for payment of retiring gratuity or pension should be introduced; and (ii) Whether any pension provision should be made to the wife of an employee dying while on Company's duty?

7. Leave: What change, if any, is necessary in the existing Leave Rules?

8. Working hours: Is any change necessary in the existing rules, if any, for payment of overtime?

9. (a) Whether the Company should be required to assign reasonable cause in writing at the time when dismissing workers;

(b) Whether it is necessary to make further provision for the security of employment of the workers; and

(c) Whether it is desirable to provide that new vacancies should be filled up, as far as possible, by promotion from the existing staff?

10. Whether the Company should be required to recognise the Union?

11. (a) Whether the workmen mentioned in paragraphs 1(f) and 1(h) of the Union's written statement should be reinstated; and, if so, on what terms?

(b) Whether the action of the Company in terminating the services of the sixteen workmen mentioned in paragraph 1(h) was in contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act? Or whether they were otherwise improperly discharged; and

(c) Whether any of these workmen should be reinstated, and, if so, on what terms?

DECISION.

Issues Nos. 1 and 2.—Increase in the scales of pay and dearness allowance.

The Company is anxious to implement the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme for the minimum pay of workers of different types, dearness allowance and the scales and grades of pay and the Union is also willing to accept the scheme. Practically, therefore, there is nothing to adjudicate on these two issues. The Company begins its year on the 1st of November. The minimum pay for a permanent indoor clerk has been fixed at Rs. 60 and that for a probationer at Rs. 50. We find from the table (Ex. 1) supplied by the Company to show how much the employees of the Company were drawing in June 1947 that three clerks of the office and one clerk of the godown were getting less than Rs. 60 in June 1947. No suggestion has been given as to whether these four clerks are probationers or permanent. If they are probationers there is nothing to interfere with but if they are permanent clerks, they should be given the minimum basic pay of Rs. 60 per mensem. It appears that the Union placed its demands for the employees of Messrs. Roberts, McLean and Company so far back as 30th July 1946 and has since been fighting for the demands. The minimum rates have been determined by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce so as to meet the increased cost of living up to 180, 100 points representing the 1939 cost of living. Obviously, when the demands were placed before the Company the index of cost of living had been much higher than 180. Since July 1946 there has been a rise in the cost of living index. In August 1947, it was 292. I am accordingly inclined to direct that the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme for basic minimum pay should be given effect to from the beginning of the Company's year 1946-47, i.e., from the 1st November 1946. If the present pay of an employee is in between two scales, his pay should be fixed at the stage in the scale formulated by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce next above the pay he has been drawing at present. I do not propose to fix the present pay of any employee with reference to his length of service. Future increment and promotion from one grade to another will be governed by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme.

I may mention in this connection that the Chamber of Commerce Scheme does not cover drivers and mistries. Nothing has been said in the Chamber of Commerce Scheme as to whether a jamadar is covered by the scheme. Those of the subordinate staff who are not covered by the Chamber of Commerce Scheme have been left to the discretion of the individual employers. Nothing has been said by the Union as to whether the jamadars, mistries and drivers have any grievance, nor has it been suggested either that jamadars, mistries and drivers in neighbouring comparable industrial concerns have better prospects. In any case drivers and mistries get much more than the minimum basic pay of the highest class of the subordinate staff indicated in the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme. Hence I do not propose to make any observation in respect of the pay of jamadars, mistries and drivers.

Although the Union claimed in its charter of demands submitted on 30th July 1946 Rs. 40 as minimum dearness allowance for the clerical staff and Rs. 25 as minimum dearness allowance for the employees, the learned Advocate for the Union claimed dearness allowance on the basis of the index of the present cost of living. The index was 291 in August 1947, and it is nobody's case that the cost of living has come down since August 1947. According to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme the minimum dearness allowance shall be Rs. 37. I accordingly direct that the dearness allowance shall not be less than the scale fixed by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme. It has been urged on behalf of the Company that the Company has considerably increased the pay of an employee with a view to enable him to meet the higher cost of living and that there is no scope for increasing the dearness allowance. The basic pay is meant for enabling an employee to maintain his standard of living in normal times and the increment of pay is given to an employee as a reward for his faithful service, experience and acquired efficiency and is partly meant for enabling the employee to meet additional expenditure brought about by addition in the family, education of grown-up children, marriage of dependants and so forth. Dearness allowance is intended for enabling an employee to maintain his own standard of living. The evidence on the Company's side or the argument of the learned Counsel was that the increment of pay was given to an employee to meet the constant increase in the cost of living.

Issue No. 3.—Godown menials.

This issue was not seriously pressed. The demand of the Union on this point was that the godown menials should be divided into two grades—"A" and "B"—that all unskilled labourers should come under grade "B" and start with a minimum wages of Re. 1 per diem and that after working for two years "B" grade workers should be transferred according to efficiency to "A" grade on wages of Rs. 1-8 per diem. The Union also demanded that skilled labourers should be taken into grade "A" direct and that after working in "A" grade for three years, the workers should be made permanent and that workers working under the firm for more than five years should be made permanent forthwith, as monthly workers. This was not seriously pressed. I find from the statement of salaries and dearness allowance filed by the Company (Ex. 1) that there is a practice in the Company to transfer day labourers to monthly pay roll. The total earnings of the day labourers as wages appear to be much more than the minimum fixed by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme for the subordinate staff. I, however, in the interest of efficiency, appeal to the Company to consider the advisability or otherwise for providing two grades for labourers—one for the unskilled and the other for the skilled—and for making provision for promotion from one grade to the other and absorb the daily wage earners, according to their efficiency, into the grade of the monthly labourers.

Issue No. 4.—Bonuses.

This has not been pressed. The Union is agreeable to accept the existing scheme of bonus.

Issues Nos. 5 and 6.—Provident Fund, retiring gratuity, pension.

The Company has a Contributory Provident Fund Scheme. The employees urge that the contribution should be raised to 10 per cent. of the pay on either side. No evidence has been placed about the scheme prevalent in the neighbouring comparable industrial concerns but I feel that the contribution of 5 per cent. is rather low and we get from the Secretary, Mr. Atterton, that the Directors are not very much satisfied that the existing scheme is the best that the Company produced and are prepared to review it. I am accordingly inclined to increase the rate of contribution to 6¼ per cent. of the salary of an employee on both sides, i.e., the employee shall contribute 6¼ per cent. of his pay and an equal amount shall be added by the Company. I am told that the Company intends to have the scheme of Provident Fund recognised by the Income-Tax Department under the Indian Income-Tax Act and I request the Company to make an early move in the matter.

Contributory Provident Fund is considered sufficient provision for old age and, in fact, nothing has been shown that in any neighbouring comparable industrial concern there is any provision for gratuity or pension to wife and children of an employee in addition to the Contributory Provident Fund. I find from the statement of the Company that it had granted pensions in two cases as an encouragement to the employees. I should appeal to the Company to maintain its benevolence uniformly. But the Provident Fund Scheme of the Company is only seven years' old. Employees of the Company of more than seven years' standing must have some beneficial provision for their children from the Company prior to the introduction of the Provident Fund Scheme. I accordingly direct that the Company shall allow as gratuity 15 days' pay for each year of service of an employee prior to the introduction of the Provident Fund Scheme.

Issue No. 7.—Leave.

The Union is willing to abide by the existing Leave Rules of the Company. The Company shall give the benefit of the existing Leave Rules to all members of the staff.

Issue No. 8.—Working hours.

The working hours prevalent in the Company do not call for any revision. The working hours in the Company are much less than that fixed by the factories under the Indian Factories Act. I am not accordingly inclined to make any award for payment of overtime work according to the Indian Factories Act. The Secretary of the Company says that godown menials are paid for overtime work but he does not remember whether they are paid 1½ times or twice the usual rates. I direct that godown menials shall be paid for their overtime work at twice the usual rates. I do not propose to make any provision for overtime work of the clerical staff except when they are directed by their employers to work on Sundays and other holidays, in which case they shall be paid at 1½ times their usual daily rates. Any provision for overtime work on week days is likely to bring in lethargy in the clerical staff. All members of the clerical staff shall make it a point to finish their usual works within the working hours of the day.

Issue No. 9.—Security of service, promotion.

This issue which has been broken up into three parts relates to security of service. This is one of the baits which shall be given to the employees to ensure efficiency. Efficiency cannot be expected from an employee who is always labouring under an apprehension of dismissal or some such punishment. A guarantee for security of service is one of the means for ensuring good feelings between the employer and the employed, which is undoubtedly the basis of efficiency. I accordingly direct that whenever any act of employee calls for punishment or warning, the charge must be placed before him and he shall be given an opportunity to explain. There shall not be any discharge or dismissal for acts of commission or omission not justifying such discharge or dismissal.

Promotion is another incentive to the workers. If a worker knows that he may be promoted to a higher grade, he will find more interest in the work and try to do it as best as he can. The Company shall follow the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme on this point.

Issue No. 10.—Recognition of the Union.

The Legislature has provided for formation of the Workers' Unions and for registration of such Unions. The advantages which an employer may expect from a Union of its employees which is registered are many. The majority of the employees of Messrs. Roberts, McLean and Company, Limited, formed themselves into a Union and had it registered in September 1946. Since the Union has gained allegiance of a majority of the workers, I fail to think how anything but advantage can accrue to the Company by recognising the Union. The Company can deal with the individual workers through the Union. A censure by the Union or Association to which the employee belongs is much more effective than the censure by an employer. The Legislature appreciated the usefulness of a registered Union and gave a registered Union the power to represent the workers in any dispute before a Tribunal or a Conciliation Board, and, in fact, in enacting the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act of 1946, the Legislature allotted a very important role to the Union. In framing the standing orders of an industrial concern, the Union of its workers, if it is registered, has to be consulted and, in fact, the standing orders cannot be certified without notice to the registered Union of the workers. Having considered the immense advantages that are to accrue to both the employers and the employees from recognition of the Union, I am inclined to direct the Company to recognise the Union of its employees registered under the style, "Roberts, McLean Employees' Union". I am told that a Bill for enforcing recognition of an Employees' Union on the employer is on the anvil. I do not propose to wait indefinitely for the Act. My attention was invited by the learned Counsel for the Company to the adjudication reported in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 9th October 1947, in which the learned Adjudicator refused forced recognition of the Employees' Union on the employers (Messrs. B. K. Paul and Company and their employees). With due respect to the learned Adjudicator I cannot persuade myself to accept the view taken by him. In fact, Mr. MacGillivray observes: "if there was a genuine Union I would accept it for such a Union is very helpful". I am told that the Company did not get the copies of the rules of the Union and other papers. During hearing of this dispute the Company's Solicitor has been provided with the copies of the rules and other papers of the Union. There cannot be any earthly reason for withholding recognition of the Union and I direct, in the interest of both the employers and the employees, that the Company shall recognise the Union of its employees which has been duly registered. This recognition shall not be only in letter. It shall be in spirit without which the organisation is likely to bring about complications without being useful.

Issue No. 11.—Reinstatement of the discharged employees.

Twenty-two employees are said to have been discharged in two batches on the 17th February 1947, and on the 21st April 1947, without any justification and the contention of the Union is that these are cases of victimisation on account of the fact that these employees took an active part in the Union and the strike which followed the discharge of the first batch of six employees, who were discharged on the 17th February 1947. The Union had been contemplating to strike work on the ground that the demands of the Union were not responded to by the Company. A meeting of the Union was held on the 12th February 1947, in which it was resolved that a general meeting would be called for the purpose of giving 14 days' notice to the Company. On the 17th February these aforesaid six employees were discharged and on the 18th February a general meeting was held by the Union in which it was resolved that if the dismissed employees were not reinstated forthwith, the employees would go on strike from the morning of the 1st March 1947. A copy of this resolution was sent with a covering letter to the Company as also to the Labour Commissioner. This was the strike notice. The contemplated strike was to commence from the 1st March. An objection was raised by the Labour Commissioner that the notice was invalid on account of insufficiency of the period of notice. A fresh notice was re-issued extending the date of commencement of the strike from the 1st of March to the 8th of March 1947, and the employees struck work from the 8th of March. At the intervention of the Labour Commissioner the strike was called off on the 11th April 1947, by a resolution of the Union in a meeting held at 3 p.m. on the 11th April 1947. The other 16 employees attended office in the morning of the 21st April. The contention of the Union is that these 16 persons were not allowed to resume their duties on the ground that they took an active part in the strike. The contention of the Company is that the Company had issued a notice that in the event of employees not returning to duty by the 15th April, they would be replaced by new hands and that the 16 employees having failed to turn up on the 15th April, had broken the contract with the Company. The general charge of the Company against the six employees discharged on the 17th February 1947 is that they were inefficient, insubordinate, unpunctual in attendance, slow and negligent. I shall deal with the cases of these 22 discharged employees separately.

(1) Jogendra Kishore Roy (appointed on 15th May 1936).—On the date of his discharge he had put in about 12 years' service in the Company and was getting Rs. 175 per mensem as salary. He was attached to the Tollygunge godown under Babu Jatindra Nath Das, Godown-keeper. Although no previous notice was given to him and although no charge was framed against him when he was discharged and although there is not a single scrap of paper that he was given any previous warning, he is said to have been inactive, wilfully disobedient, habitually negligent, insubordinate, inefficient and incompetent and incorrigible in spte of repeated warnings. Speaking about him Mr. R. C. Atterton, Secretary of the Company, says that he visited Tollygunge godown on about two dozen occasions from 1st November 1945 to the middle of February 1947, and found Jogendra Kishore singularly inactive. Fani Bhushan Mukherji, Head Clerk of the Calcutta office, is said to have complained against Jogendra Kishore some time in January 1947. The evidence of Jatindra Nath Das (Company's witness No. 2) is that Jogendra Kishore Roy used to do all his works and that some stray cases of mistakes were found. These mistakes were, however, rectified on information received from the main office on the phone. According to him, works in the Store Department are more difficult than the works in the Accounts Department and Jogendra Kishore was attached to this Store Department. On one occasion or two Jatindra Das had to complain against Jogendra Kishore Roy to Mr. McLean who himself is said to have detected some mistakes on one single occasion. There was no other complaint against him. Jatindra Das was not asked a single question whether Mr. Atterton ever went to the godown at Tollygunge to supervise the works there. His sworn testimony is that Mr. McLean supervised the works of the godown and after him Mr. Cargyll has been supervising the work of the godown. To err is human, and without specific instances of mistakes, which Jogendra Kishore Roy is said to have committed, it is not possible to say that the mistakes were sufficient to justify the discharge of Jogendra Kishore. Mr. McLean has not been examined in this case. He is in England. From the very fact that no step was taken against Jogendra Kishore by Mr. McLean, there being no suggestion that Jogendra Kishore was ever given any warning in writing, we may presume that the mistakes, if any, committed by Jogendra, were negligible and would not justify the extreme punishment which has been dealt out to him. Jatindra Das got a special increment after termination of the strike. This special increment was not given to any other employee of the Company. He says that Jogendra Kishore Roy occasionally tried to ignore him. Assuming that Jatindra Das is a truthful man, I must say that the charges against Jogendra are very ambiguous. Does it mean that Jogendra Kishore did some work without consulting him, or did Jogendra Kishore do anything against the orders of his superior officer, Jatindra Das? The ordinary dictionary meaning of the word "ignore" is "not to take notice of". The charge of Jatindra Das against Jogendra Kishore may at best imply that Jogendra Kishore did something without consulting Jatindra Das or without his orders. It does not imply insubordination or insolence. Without the specific facts it is not possible for me to say that the charge was sufficient to justify dismissal of Jogendra Kishore. I fail to understand what Phani Bhushan Mukherji, Head Clerk, had to complain to Mr. Atterton against Jogendra Kishore. Phani Bhushan Mukherji did not ever visit the Tollygunge godown and he himself admits he does not know the way in which Jogendra Kishore worked. Phani Bhushan charges Jogendra Kishore Roy for threatening him for not joining the strike. Jogendra Kishore Roy denies this, and I do not propose to penalise Jogendra Kishore on the uncorroborated testimony of Phani Bhushan Mukherji, specially in the present case where there is no such charge against Jogendra Kishore. If really Jogendra was inefficient, slow, negligent, insubordinate, insolent and a general trouble maker, I fail to understand what prompted the Company to retain his services for more than 11 years without any written warning or without even withholding his promotion. He was drawing Rs. 100 before August 1946 and, curiously enough, in August 1946 he was given a special increment of Rs. 75, which no other employee of the Company received in August 1946. In my opinion this is a sufficient certificate about efficiency and general abilities of this clerk. The Company has miserably failed to substantiate the charge against Jogendra Kishore Roy who happens to be the Vice-President of the Union. We are told by Mr. Atterton that the Company had no information about the Union except that he could know from a letter of September 1946, that Dr. Suresh Chandra Banarji was the President and Babu Nirmal Chandra Sen was the Secretary of the Union. From the record it is clear that the attitude of the Company towards its Employees' Union was anything but favourable. In the written statement of the Company it has been pleaded that there is no provision in law by which a Union can be recognised by the Company. The Company appears to have obtained a declaration from some of its employees that they would not accept the terms of the unrecognised Union. They also appear to have given an undertaking that they would not take any part in the strike, "which the unrecognised Union at present contemplates". This is Annexure "A" to the Company's written statement. The Union contends that Jogendra Kishore Roy was sacked on account of his connection with the Union as an influential member. In the application for registration of the Union we find the names of Anil Kumar Mukherji, Baradaprosad Ghosh, Satyahari Ganguli and Subodh Chandra Gupta. They are still in the Company's service. The suggestion has been thrown out that this shows that there was no victimisation on the part of the Company against Jogendra Kishore Roy and the other discharged employees on account of their connection with the Union. But we find that the office bearers of the Union other than the discharged employees gave the Company an undertaking that they would practically dissociate themselves with the Union. The significance of this undertaking or declaration is obvious. Some other employees tendered resignation of their membership of the Union and sent a copy of the letter to the Secretary of the Company. A copy of this letter was filed by the Company and was marked "X_1" for identification. The significance of the undertaking (Annexure "A" and the letter, marked X_1) is too obvious to call for any explanation. The less I comment upon these two documents the better. The demand of the Union for its recognition by the Company was vehemently opposed. It has been abundantly proved that the Union is not in the good book of the Company and in the absence of any satisfactory proof about the charges brought by the Company against Jogendra Kishore Roy, I cannot but accept the suggestion that Jogendra Kishore Roy was sacked simply because of his connection with the Union as an influential or important office bearer. This is undoubtedly an unfair labour practice.

(2) Anadi Bhushan Banarji (appointed on 11th July 1938).—He was attached to the Accounts Department and had put in more than 8½ years' service in the Company at the time of his discharge. He was getting Rs. 150. The charge against him is that he frequently arrived late and left office early and was frequently absent from his desk and refused to obey orders and instructions of his superiors. There was no previous written warning against Anadi Bhushan Banarji. He was discharged without any notice or even without a formal charge framed against him. Anadi had direct connection with Mr. Willis. Phani Bhushan Mukherji, Head Clerk, says that Anadi came to office sometimes in time and sometimes late. Sometimes he was found absent from his seat. The office was on the second floor and the latrines and bathrooms were in the ground floor, and Phani Babu's evidence is that whenever he found Anadi absent, he used to think that Anadi had gone to the latrine. According to Phani Babu Anadi used to leave office at 5 o'clock. Anadi had to attend to Mr. Willis from time to time and Anadi's sworn testimony is that he had to attend to Mr. Willis 22 to 25 times in a day. His sworn testimony is that sometimes he was late on account of late arrival of the trains and that a mark was placed against his name in the attendance register. He has pointed out some of these marks (vide the marks in the attendance register on the 21st November 1944, 17th February 1945, 5th April 1945). I have examined the attendance register of the Company and find that late attendance was marked in the Company's attendance register. An attempt was made by the Head Clerk, Phani Bhushan Mukherji, to make out that this was not always done, although he had at first said in answer to a question put to him by the Company's Counsel that late attendance was shown in the attendance register. He, however, corrected himself. Having examined the attendance register thoroughly, I cannot but remark that Phani Bhushan's evidence is not at all convincing. He at first spoke out the truth, for truth always sits on the lips of an unguarded man and he corrected himself when he thought that he was going against the Company. Anadi Bhushan Banarji was Assistant Secretary of the Union at the time of his discharge. The Company has failed to substantiate the charges against Anadi Bhushan Banarji and I cannot but say that he was discharged because of his important connection with the Union, which the Company had hitherto looked upon with disfavour. Anadi was a daily passenger and that was known to his master. If he had been late on a few days on account of late arrival of train, the offence is not so grave as to justify extreme punishment. The evidence is that he got special increment of Rs. 30 in March 1945. The increments given to the employees in March 1945 were not general increments. Only a few of the employees got an increment in March 1945. He also got an increment of Rs. 50 in August 1946. No ordinary clerk other than Jogendra Kishore Roy and Anadi Bhushan Banarji got the increment of Rs. 50 in August 1946. These special increments prove that Anadi's efficiency was recognised by the Company but that when he identified himself, rather prominently, with the Union, the Company sacked him. This is another instance of unfair labour practice on the part of the Company.

(3) Bhabanipati Mukherji (appointed on 1st November 1944).—He was the Sales Tax Clerk of the Company. The charges against him are that he was inefficient, slow, habitually negligent, insolent and frequently late in his arrival and that he frequently absented himself from the office. He was not given any warning in writing and he was discharged without notice and without any formal charge framed against him. There is no specific instance to substantiate any of the charges brought against him by the Company. Without specific facts it is not possible for any court of justice to deal out extreme penalty to a man. The attendance registers of the Company have been exhibited in this case. The Company could not point out from the attendance register that Bhabanipati Mukherji was frequently late in his attendance. Bhabanipati Mukherji was directly under Mr. Willis and Mr. Atterton says that Mr. Willis had two protracted periods of illness and that during his absence Mr. Atterton was in charge of the Accounts Department. I cannot persuade myself to believe that Bhabanipati was retained by the Company and was given increments from time to time in spite of the bad certificate he now gets from the Company. I am clearly of opinion that the charges against Bhabanipati Mukherji could not be substantiated. On the evidence and circumstances of the present case and in the absence of any suggestion of any third case, I cannot but say that Bhabanipati Mukherji was discharged on account of his connection with the Union as its Assistant Secretary. This is another instance of unfair labour practice on the part of the Company.

(4) Gour Chandra Das (appointed on 7th August 1939).—He was the Bill Checker of the Company. The charges against him are that he was incompetent and that he made frequent mistakes and absented himself from the office. He is further said to have participated with his brother, Nitai Chandra Das, who was previously an employee of the Company in the Ball Bearing Department, in black market operations in connection with the sales of ball bearings. Nitai Chandra Das was an employee of the Company. He tendered resignation and we are not here called upon to enquire what led him to tender resignation. The fact remains that Nitai Chandra Das was taking a part in the activities of the Union from before its registration. There is no iota of evidence worth the name to substantiate the Company's charges against Gour Chandra Das. Nitai Chandra Das placed the demands of the Employees' Union before the Company. In the absence of any evidence substantiating the charges of the Company against Gour Chandra Das, I cannot but accept the case of the Union that Gour Chandra Das was sacked because he happened to be the brother of Nitai Chandra Das who was an active member of the Union. This is undoubtedly an unfair labour practice.

(5) Bhikhari Charan Das (appointed on 5th June 1943).—He was office peon of the Director, Mr. MacGillivray. I cannot place much reliance on the oral evidence against this man. He is said to have been guilty of petty thefts. According to the Company he was a peon thoroughly unreliable, insubordinate and I fail to understand what charm the Company had in this man to retain him and give him increments from time to time. No sane man can believe the story which the Company has placed before this Tribunal. In these circumstances I cannot but accept the Union's case that he was discharged on account of his connection with the Union as its member.

(6) Sukdeb Das.—I do not enter into the evidence about Sukdeb Das for the Union has not pressed for his reinstatement.

The evidence is that Bhikhari Charan Das and Bhabanipati Mukherji got some employments in October 1947. The Union claims reinstatement of Jogendra Kishore Roy, Anadi Bhushan Banarji and Gour Chandra Das and pay and dearness allowance for Bhabanipati Mukherji and Bhikhari Charan Das up to September 1947. The learned Counsel for the Company urged that it is not desirable to force an unwilling employer to take in an employee because that does not lead to good relationship. I may mention that we are not concerned whether reinstatement of the discharged employee is available under the common law. This Tribunal is in the nature of a court of equity. It has been found in a number of industrial disputes that employees discharged as an unfair labour practice should be reinstated. I may mention in this connection that discharge or dismissal of an employee without justification brings in discredit to the reputation of an industrial concern and in a case like this I should appeal to the good sense of the Company to forgive and forget what had happened and to take in the discharged employees with a good spirit. This will add to the good name of the industrial concern, and I appeal to the Union to impress upon its members, who are employees of the Company, to resume their works in an equally good spirit. The employers and the employees should shake hands and henceforth be friends, for this spirit will benefit both parties.

The learned Counsel for the Company urges that where reinstatement is desired, it is essential to know first that the person claiming reinstatement has not already received an employment, secondly, that he has made all efforts to obtain employment without success; thirdly that it is not possible or reasonably possible for him to get employment for the particular type of labour or work that he performs in the market at the present moment. I do not agree with the learned Counsel on this point. If it is found that an employee has been discharged without justification, he is entitled to reinstatement in a labour Tribunal. Then about the compensation of Bhikhari Charan Das and Bhabanipati Mukherji from the date of their discharge to the date of their employment in some other concern, the learned Counsel raised vehement opposition on the ground that it did not strictly arise under the issue and that the discharged employees might claim compensation under the common law in a civil court and not in the Tribunal. The point is not free from difficulty and I was myself thinking whether this Tribunal would be justified in awarding compensation to Bhikhari Charan Das and Bhabanipati Mukherji. Compensation is undoubtedly a lesser relief than reinstatement. Law always permits a court to grant a lesser relief when there is a prayer for a greater relief in cases when the greater relief is not available to the claimant. In the case of Susamusa Sugar Factory, published in the Behar Gazette (Extraordinary) of August 5, 1947, similar compensation was allowed to an employee, Abdus Samad, who took up employment elsewhere. I do not find any reason why I should not agree with the adjudication of a learned Judge on this point. Bhabanipati Mukherji and Bhikhari Charan Das were waiting so long for reinstatement by their old masters. They were tired of waiting and were on the look out for an employment elsewhere. They succeeded and they have accepted the new employments. This relieves the Company of the burden and anxiety of reinstating these two men. The Company shall pay to these workers their basic salary and dearness allowance from the date of their discharge to the end of September 1947, at the rates they were getting on the date of their discharge.

Mr. MacGillivray's charge against the entire clerical staff of the Company is that on account of general inefficiency of the office the accounts of the Company for 1946 could not be completed. To disprove this the learned Advocate for the Union called for the general ledger of the Company. The Company filed the general ledger and urged that it might be treated as confidential. During the evidence Mr. A. N Roy, Bar.-at-Law, who led the evidence on behalf of the Company, conceded that failure to close the accounts per se is not the inefficiency of the staff. It was not the duty of the staff to close accounts. Closing of the accounts is the function of the Directors. It is true that the closing of accounts is not possible unless the workers complete their part of the duty in time. Even if the workers had completed their part of the duty, closing of accounts might not be possible on account of negligence of the Directors. The general ledger or any other account book will not disclose the reasons why the accounts had not been closed even if the accounts are found to have not been closed. In view of these circumstances I hold that no importance can be attached to Mr. MacGillivray's charge against the staff

Then about the reinstatement of the 16 employees mentioned in paragraph 1(h) of the Union's statement. They are—

(1) Ramkaran Singh.
(2) Ram Ekbal Tewari.
(3) Bhulan Ram.
(4) Puludi Ram.
(5) Sahoolal Ram.
(6) Rammarayan Choubey.
(7) Ambika Prasad Singh.
(8) Shibmurat Ram.
(9) Shambhu Nath Dass.
(10) Nirmal Chandra Mandal.
(11) Daitari Dass.
(12) Padan Dass.
(13) Purushottam Dass.
(14) Pannalal Nayak
(15) Ramprasad.
(16) Meki Dass.

These 16 persons were menials attached to the Clive Street godown. Ramkaran Singh was the jamadar. Much energy was spent on both sides over the significance of the office of jamadar. Jamadar means chief or leader of any number of persons. This is the ordinary dictionary meaning of the word. I should, in this connection, refer to the correspondence between the Company and Ramkaran Singh at the time of his appointment. Ramkaran Singh says in his application [Ex. 6(B)], "I am a young man of 29 and have other men to work as durwans under my control". I am clearly of opinion that Ramkaran Singh was the head of the menial staff of the department to which the other 15 discharged persons belonged. The strike was called off in a meeting held in the afternoon of the 11th April 1947. The evidence on the side of the Company is that after the strike was called off it issued a notice on the employees that in the event of their failure to return to duty by the 15th April 1947, they would be replaced by new hands. The evidence about the notice is anything but satisfactory. In the Company's statement reference has been made to a notice of the 13th March 1947, which is Annexure "E". Then it was stated in the written statement that on the 3rd July 1947, four employees of the Company were jointly and severally instructed to notify all other employees of the Company to return to work by the 15th April 1947 and that they did notify the intention of the Company to the strikers. Mr. Atterton gives the names of these four employees. They were Head Clerk, Mr. Phani Bhushan Mukherji, Mr. P. B. Mukherji, Babu Amod Banarji, Kali Babu and Anil Babu. Kali Babu and Anil Babu have not been examined in this case. Amod Babu who was examined by the Company was not asked a single question on this point. Mr. P. B. Mukherji denies to have gone over to the workers to ask them to return to duty. Mr. P. B. Mukherji gives a direct lie to Mr. Atterton, the Secretary. Mr. Atterton had at first said that no limitation was put by the Company as to the date by which the employees were to rejoin. His evidence on this point is not convincing. He says that the Company has no notice board and that no notice was given in writing. Mr. MacGillivray says that he sent a notice in the form of Annexure "E" and subsequently a notice like the one marked Ex. 4. The original of Ex. 4 was returned to the Company after inspection and after retaining a copy. The original was neither signed nor dated. This was filed on 5th December 1947. The genuineness of this notice is not free from doubt. Besides, there is nothing in the notice to show when it was issued nor was there anything to show by what date the employees were directed to return. I cannot believe that any notice was issued by the Company requiring its employees to return to duty by the 15th of April on the pain of penalty of losing their job in the event of default to comply with the terms of notice. Ramkaran Singh claims to be the head of the menial staff consisting of the 16 discharged persons. The strike was going on for a pretty long time. It is quite possible that some of the employees who could not afford to stay in Calcutta, went home and returned to Calcutta after the receipt of information that the strike had been called off. The evidence is that persons who joined after the 15th April, were also taken in. But Mr. MacGillivray says that they were all good men. The charge against these 16 discharged menials is that they are bad men. The only question is whether they returned to duty within a reasonable time. They called at the office on the 21st April in the morning but they were not taken in. Ramkaran Singh was in Calcutta throughout but as he was the head of the menial staff, he thought that if he went to the office without his full strength he might not have been taken in. Some allowance must be made for the intelligence and understanding of a man like Ramkaran Singh. The 16 employees are mostly upcountry men and if they returned from home after 11 days, they cannot be said to have made any unusual delay. 20th April was a Sunday. From the evidence of Mr. MacGillivray we may presume that if these 16 men were good men, the delay would have been condoned but why are these men not good men? There is no charge of misconduct against them. In the absence of any suggestion to the contrary, I cannot but accept the case of the Union that they are thought undesirable by the Company because they are connected with the Union. Ramkaran Singh happens to be a member of the executive committee of the Union. It has been urged by the learned Counsel for the Company that a discharged employee cannot be reinstated unless and until it be ascertained that the particular person has not already received an employment, that he has made efforts to get an employment without success, that it was not possible or reasonably possible for him to get employment for the particular type of work that he performs at the present moment. I have already observed that I am not in agreement with the learned Counsel on this point. Much was made of a statement alleged to have been made by Ramkaran Singh that he does not know where the other discharged persons are working. This statement was not recorded by me as it was not considered relevant, for even if a discharged man is working elsewhere, he might choose to return to his former employment and if he is found entitled to reinstatement no court of equity shall refuse him the relief.

It has been urged on behalf of the Company that the Company has already taken substitutes in place of these employees and if reinstatement of these 16 persons is ordered, there is likely to be a fresh dispute case between the Company and the employees that would be discharged as a consequent of the order of reinstatement of the 16 discharged employees. If the 16 employees were discharged without sufficient reasons, they cannot but be reinstated but if any further dispute is the consequence, there cannot be any help, and I am not in a position to decide at this stage what will be the result of such a dispute. From the attendance registers I find that no attendance register was started for the newly appointed menials in April. The attendance register was started from the 1st May, and we may fairly presume that at the time when the 16 discharged employees called at the office of the Company and wanted to resume their works, there was hardly sufficient men to do their work. In the attendance register started from the month of June 1947, we find on the first page a list of peons with dates of their appointments [Ex. 5(a)]. From this it is clear that only three persons were engaged on 17th March 1947. They must have been engaged on a temporary basis, for we can understand, from what has transpired in evidence, that the Company was willing to take these 16 persons if they had joined on the 15th April and we may presume that they were not taken in as permanent men before the 1st May 1947, on which date the attendance register was started for them. Ramkaran Singh saw some Nepalese in the office. He was asked whether he was willing to work with the Nepalese. His answer was that he was not willing to work under the Nepalese. This is quite understandable. He himself was the head of the menial staff. He could not work under any other man nor could he work any stranger for he was to be responsible for the honesty and the works of the entire menial staff. In the circumstances of the present case I cannot but direct the Company to take in the 16 employees mentioned in paragraph 1(h) of the written statement of the Union.

These 16 persons were not dismissed for joining the strike. The strike was precipitated eventually by the discharge of the six employees without justification. I am not here called upon to decide whether this strike was unjustified and the fact is that the Company was willing to take in all the employees who joined strike provided they joined by the 15th April. Unless and until it be found that the strike was unjustified, the employees cannot be dismissed simply because they joined the strike. I may, in this connection, invite the attention of the Company that the discharge of the 16 menials on the 21st April 1947, was bad in law. A copy of the strike notice was received in office of the Labour Commissioner on the 22nd February 1947, and the Labour Commissioner made an attempt for conciliation. Conciliation proceedings are deemed to commence when the notice of strike was received by the Labour Commissioner who is the principal Conciliating Officer and, to conclude, in cases where conciliations fail, when the report of the Conciliation Officer is received by the Government. The Conciliation Officer submitted the report on the 1st May 1947 (vide the report of the Labour Commissioner in the file of the proceedings before him). Thus the 16 persons were discharged during the pendency of the conciliation proceedings within the meaning of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, and the discharge was an offence under the Act. It has been urged by the learned Counsel for the Company that I cannot take cognizance of the report from the Labour Commissioner's file. The Secretary of the Company admits that the Conciliation Officer had once been to the Company's office and the Company cannot deny the correspondence between the Company and the Labour Commissioner. In a letter, dated the 5th March 1947, the Director of the Company acknowledged receipt of the letter of the Labour Commissioner No. 1996-L.C. of the 1st March by which the Company was apprised of the notice received by the Labour Commissioner. As soon as the Labour Commissioner received the strike notice, it was incumbent on him to start conciliation proceedings, and, in fact, the Conciliation Officer had no business to visit the Company's office if he had no mind to attempt a conciliation. The Company did not take part in the proceedings and the conciliation failed. After all the Company had notice of the conciliation proceedings and the proceedings were inter-partes. The Company cannot be permitted to ignore the proceedings. When the conciliation failed, the Conciliation Officer was bound under the law to submit a report to the Government. Either the report has been sent and the conciliation proceedings concluded when it was received by the Government or it has not as yet been sent and the conciliation proceedings concluded when the dispute was referred to this Tribunal (15th May 1947). If the report was sent, the Company does not say that it was sent before the 21st April 1947. There is no provision in law to apprise the parties of the dates when the report is sent to and is received by the Government. It was for the parties to keep themselves informed of such dates so that they might steer clear of the provision of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. I have given my best consideration to the arguments placed before me for the parties and am definitely of opinion that the dismissal of the employees on 21st April 1947 was bad in law. If they are reinstated, as directed by me, the act of the Company will cease to be an offence. I need hardly tell the Company that in the event of default, the Company is likely to expose itself to the penalty provided in section 31 read with section 33 of the Act in addition to the penalty provided in section 29.

Jogendra Kishore Roy, Anadi Bhushan Mukherji and Gour Chandra Das, whose reinstatement is ordered in this case, shall be considered to have been reinstated with effect from the date of their discharge without break of service. Bhabanipati Mukherji and Bhikhari Charan Das shall get their salary and dearness allowance from the date of their discharge till the end of September 1947 at the rates they were getting on the date of their discharge. About Ramkaran Singh and the other 15 discharged menials, they shall be reinstated with effect from the 21st April 1947, on which date they reported themselves to the Company.

The employees whose reinstatement has been allowed shall be taken in if they report themselves to the Secretary of the Company within seven days of the publication of this award. In the event of default of any of these employees to turn up within the time limit, he shall lose all benefit under this award, and shall not be entitled to any compensation whatsoever.

I once again appeal to the employees, in the interest of industrial peace and for the benefit of both the employers and the employees, that they should not take this award as a victory. What they have got should not be considered as their zid but as an equitable relief. I once more appeal to the Company and the employees that they should shake hands and be friends and shall forget the past and employ themselves in the industrial concern with mutual trust and good wishes.

ANNEXURE.

PRESENT: N. C. CHAKROBORTY, Esq.,
Tribunal, Industrial Disputes.

Award.

By Government order No. 648Lab., dated 10th October 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Balmer Lawrie and Company, Limited, of 103, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, and Messrs. Bilash Chandra Mitra and Santimoy Mitra, two of their employees, as represented by the Balmer Lawrie and Company's Employees' Union of 30, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, was referred to me to be the Tribunal for adjudication.

2. Dr. S. K. Gupta, Counsel, instructed by Messrs. Sandersons and Morgans, Solicitors, for the Balmer Lawrie and Company, Limited, while Messrs. S. C. Sen and S. C. Das Gupta, Advocates, assisted by Sri Nirmal Kumar Sen for the Balmer Lawrie and Company's Employees' Union representing Messrs. Bilash Chandra Mitra and Santimoy Mitra were permitted to appear before the Tribunal.

3. The facts relating to the cases for the individual employees should be stated separately. They are as below:—

(i) Bilash Chandra Mitra.—He was the Bookkeeper doing the work of the New Birbhum Coal Company and had put in 22 years' service under Balmer Lawrie and Company. He was one of the Vice-Presidents of the Balmer Lawrie and Company's Employees' Union in 1946. He was one of the officers of the Union, who, on 14th August 1946, presented on behalf of the Union a "character of demands" to the Company. The "character of demands" was said not to have been accepted because of outsiders in the union executive. There was a strike notice served on 4th of March 1947. But the strike was postponed at the intervention of the Labour Commissioner. One of the duties of Bilash Chandra Mitra was to prepare the statement of six-monthly accounts. Due to failure to prepare the statement of six-monthly accounts ended October 1946, he was pensioned off on 1st of April 1947. Company's order on this behalf was:—

"We have received from Mr. Manson several complaints regarding your dilatory and inefficient work over the past few months and your continued absence from your work and neglect of your duties is confirmed by the fact that you have failed to complete your half-yearly accounts within a reasonable time.

We understand that you previously complained that stomach trouble made you unable to attend properly to your duties, although the latest report from our Medical Officer is that your health is quite satisfactory.

In view of these reports we would be fully justified in dismissing you for neglect of your duties, but in view of the fact that you have been in our service for 22 years and that there is some doubt as to whether your health has always been satisfactory, we are prepared instead to retire you on a pension.

As a special concession, and subject to your handing over your work in a satisfactory manner, you will be granted two months' leave as from to-day on your full present pay of Rs. 110 per month plus dearness allowance, and thereafter you will receive a pension of Rs. 31 per month."

He now wants reinstatement on the ground that for his Union activities the Company has victimised him following an unfair labour practice.

(ii) Santimoy Mitra.—He was appointed a probationary apprentice draughtsman under the Bridge and Roof Company in February 1946 by Balmer Lawrie and Company, the Managing Agents. He was confirmed as an apprentice at the end of the probationary period. He absented himself from work from 16th August to 2nd September 1946 during the notorious August 1946 "Calcutta Killing". For that reason he was suspended for a period of one month and was also warned. Again, he absented himself from work from 7th July to 11th July 1947 owing to the flare up which deteriorated the riot situation in Calcutta. He was suspended on the 12th of July 1947 and was eventually discharged by Balmer Lawrie and Company with effect from that date. The Company's order on that behalf was:—

"We regret that reports on your work are not satisfactory and we are not therefore prepared to continue your apprenticeship.

You may draw your allowance and dearness allowance thereon up to the end of the month on the 14th instant."

He also wants reinstatement. I shall now proceed to consider the framed issues.

Issue No. 1.—Has the Tribunal jurisdiction to adjudicate the case of Santimoy Mitra?

4. In the order of reference the industrial dispute was mentioned as one which had arisen between the employers Messrs. Balmer Lawrie and Company, Limited, and the employee Mr. Santimoy Mitra. It was contended on behalf of the Company that the Balmer Lawrie and Company, Limited, was not the employer of Santimoy Mitra in so far as he was employed under the Bridge and Roof Company and that therefore there was no dispute between Balmer Lawrie and Company and Santimoy Mitra, capable of being referred to this Tribunal for adjudication under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. Technically, according to the law relating to master and servant, the master for whom Santimoy Mitra was employed to serve was the Bridge and Roof Company, though he was appointed by the Managing Agents, the Balmer Lawrie and Company. The expression "employer" has been defined in section 2(g) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. Looking to the definition, it is impossible to hold that the terms "master" and "employer" are synonymous. It is clear from the preamble of the Act and the definition of the term "Industrial dispute" as defined in section 2(k) of the Act that both with reference to the subject and context the expression "employer" has been used in a wider sense and also includes any person who has authority with regard to employment, non-employment, or terms of employment, or the conditions of labour of any person. Messrs. Balmer Lawrie and Company, the Managing Agents, had employed Santimoy Mitra and had also discharged him. This Company, therefore, is the employer of Santimoy Mitra within the meaning of the definition as in section 2(g) of the Act. Messrs. Bridge and Roof Company cannot be treated as the employer because it had nothing to do with the employment, non-employment, terms of employment, and conditions of labour of Santimoy Mitra. In defining section 2(g) the legislature has used the word "means". Its use indicates an intention to be exhaustive with regard to the subject matter. According to the preamble of the defining section 2 any repugnancy has got to be resolved on a reference to the subject or the context. The preamble to the Act and the definition of the term "Industrial dispute", as already mentioned, supply the context and disclose the subject with reference to which the definition of the term "employer" as in the Act must be read. Reading in that light it appears to me to be clear that the term "employer" as defined in the Act includes not only the master but also any person appointing or employing on behalf of the master, as also other authorities specifically mentioned in the sub-clauses to the definition even though they may not be the master nor the appointing authority. In this view of the matter Messrs. Balmer Lawrie and Company has rightly been mentioned in the order of reference as the employer. The industrial dispute before me concerns Messrs. Balmer Lawrie and Company and Mr. Santimoy Mitra. Therefore the Tribunal has jurisdiction to adjudicate on the dispute as referred. I find the issue accordingly.

Issue No. 2.—Are these instances of victimisation? If so, should the employees be reinstated?

5. I take up the case of Bilash Chandra Mitra first. The six-monthly account statement ended October 1946, according to the undisputed version, was due to be ready by the end of December 1946. It was undisputed also that the statement was not ready on the 1st of April 1946. For this failure the Company made Bilash Chandra Mitra alone responsible. In the estimate of the Company this failure was due to Bilash Chandra Mitra's dilatory and inefficient work, his continued absence from work and neglect of duties. At the hearing a list of alterations of postings, Ext. E, was put in through Mr. D. Manson, the Chief Accountant, who was examined as a witness for the Company, to show that Bilash Chandra Mitra habitually committed errors in book-keeping. The list was got prepared by Mr. Manson only about three weeks before he gave evidence. It covered, it was said, a period of about two years previous to Bilash Babu's retirement. Obviously it was prepared to justify the charge of inefficiency. Bilash Babu had put in 22 years' service and no such charge appeared to have ever before been made. Bilash Babu had to post in his books the totals of and not the several figures as in the monthly statements received from the Coal Company. Therefore there was scope for even accidental mistakes arising out of omitting any item while totalling. Alteration of postings by themselves, therefore, would not establish inefficient work. Even corrections made by the clerk himself appear as alterations in the books. The material point is whether even after alterations and corrections the figures have been incorrectly recorded. There was no such case established against him.

6. Though the Company's order pensioning off Bilash Babu mentions several complaints regarding his dilatory and inefficient work and his absence from and neglect of duties, none except the one from Mr. Manson dated 19th March 1947 was produced. It is Ext. D. It concerns preparation of October 1946 statement. The complaints about dilatory and inefficient work must, therefore, be limited to his failure to prepare the October 1946 account statement within December of that year. A generalisation about dilatory and inefficient work cannot reasonably be made from a single instance and particularly about a clerk whose work during the preceding 22 years was never disapproved. Babu Bilash Chandra Mitra indicated during the trial the difficulties he had in preparing the statement within December. It appears that the Company either failed or refused to consider those difficulties. The duty of preparing this statement was upon Tinkari Babu, the senior Book-keeper and Bilash Babu, the junior Book-keeper. In November 1946 when the work was already in arrears, for other reasons to which I shall presently refer, Tinkari Babu retired from service. Bilash Babu worked alone for three weeks. Later, Babu Bata Krishna Sil was deputed to help him. Bata Krishna Babu had no previous experience of the system of account keeping in this department and Bilash Babu had to train him up. This must have taken up a considerable portion of Bilash Babu's time for work. Bilash Babu again was doing the work of the senior Book-keeper with responsibility for the first time. To that extent he was new to the job. The great "Calcutta Killing" and what continued thereafter brought in a state of absolute insecurity in the city. Life was in danger. Movements along the city's highways were dangerous. There was a general atmosphere of fear. In offices attendance was late and departure was early. The arrears accumulating since August 1946, in the middle of which the "Great Killing" was started, without being worked off continued. It was admitted that there were arrears in all the departments of the Company. But it was contended on behalf of the Company that Bilash Babu was most in arrears. Even conceding that he was so all that have gone forward already would explain away a good part of Bilash Babu's responsibility for them.

7. In January 1947 the accounts statement having not been completed within the scheduled time, Babu Rabindra Nath De was deputed to assist Bilash Babu. This was an additional help. One ought not to say that even at this point of time the Company considered that Bilash Babu was dilatory and inefficient, because had that been so one would have expected certain action by then against Bilash Babu before an additional help was thought justified by the work already done and by what still remained to be done.

8. Mr. D. Manson, the Chief Accountant, and Mr. Mon Mohan De, the Colliery Accountant, were asked by the Company to find out a new method of account-keeping and costing of colliery accounts. It appears from Mr. De's evidence that he started his investigation with the October statement already in arrears. He used to issue instructions to Babus Bilash Chandra Mitra and Rabindra Nath De on his newly conceived methods. Rabindra Babu followed them, but Bilash Babu could not. This was the pivot of the charges against Bilash Babu. Mr. Mon Mohan De is an Incoporated Accountant. Babu Rabindra Nath De is a qualified Accountant and has also passed in Advanced Book-keeping. Bilash Babu, it appeared, had learnt the work by doing alone. Therefore what was possible out of Rabindra Babu should not have been expected equally to be possible out of Bilash Babu unless the latter had been put through a course of training under careful direction in the new methods of account-keeping conceived by Mr. De. It does not appear from the evidence that any such effort was made to train up Bilash Babu in that line. On the other hand, the evidence indicates that Mr. De would, to speed up the work, come down to the office and sit with the Book-keepers and work off a portion of the arrears left by the Book-keepers. Personally I should consider that this could never have helped Bilash Babu in understanding what the new system was according to which he was asked henceforth to work. It was quite possible that Bilash Babu having received no material help to change over to the new methods clung to his old method, possibly the copy-book pattern of work which he had done without disapproval for the previous 22 years. One should not consider that even at his age it would have been impossible for Bilash Babu to change over to the new method had he had proper instructions. With an old clerk accustomed to a particular method of work the difficulty in changing over to a different method is that he has got to unlearn first and then learn. If he has not been helped carefully in doing this, I should not expect much out of him because of resultant confusion. Mr. De was helped by Rabindra Babu correctly. Rabindra Babu, as already mentioned, has passed out in Advanced Book-keeping. Therefore he was expected to follow Mr. De's method quickly and efficiently. If he had not done that then it would have been his greater fault. For reasons I have advanced I am inclined to think that in case of Bilash Babu he should not be considered to be totally inefficient, despite his 22 years' otherwise approved service, on the score of Rabindra Babu's superior ability. Mr. De progressed with the help of Rabindra Babu with a portion of the account statement and Bilash Babu was left to carry on with the rest. The two sections worked differently and in consequence the account statement was in a mess. Mr. De's complaint was that due to this mess of the whole thing it had to be redone. Thinking over the position closely, I do not find what else could have been the result. This mess of the whole thing was partly due to Bilash Babu's inability to swing over to the new methods, but more largely to the system of distribution of work as adopted in the preparation of the 1946 October statement. I have not a word of praise for Bilash Babu for his failure to swing over to the new method as quickly as he was expected to do by his superiors. But in consideration of the circumstances already mentioned I have no grounds to think that there was a deliberate failure or refusal on his part to do so. Where human agency is employed, as between one employee and the other, efficiency is relative. Only machines of the same type work in identical manner. I consider that the Company failed to appreciate the excellence as well as the defect which inheres in the human agency.

9. On the charge of continued absence from work and neglect of duties Bilash Babu admitted that on two occasions only he was off his desk; once over a personal business and again over a matter of common interest of the employees. Absence from work during working hours neglecting one's duties is certainly a misconduct. But I have no idea that over such a personal matter or a matter of such common interest people have not left the desk for short periods even during working hours. I believe ninety-nine out of a hundred will confess this and the hundredth, who will not do so, may be a liar. What is therefore misconduct is habitual absence from desk and neglect of duties. The two instances admitted by Bilash Babu will not establish that habit. The witnesses examined by the Company came in after Bilash Babu They did not challenge Bilash Babu's version with regard to the two instances admitted. They did not even mention other instances of absence from duty. In the circumstances I am not impressed from the evidence that any case of continued absence from work and consequent neglect of duties has been established.

10. For the reasons that have gone forward I conclude that the charge of dilatory and inefficient work and continued absence from and neglect of duties has not been established at all against Bilash Babu. In spite of his failure to get the 1946 account statement ready within time, I do not find any reason to conclude that his efficiency, at the time he was pensioned off, was at a lower level than that at which he maintained it for the previous 22 years of his service under the Company. The Company appears to have taken into consideration his past services in not instantly dismissing him and though the Company had "some doubt" as to whether his health had always been satisfactory during the relevant period, it pleased itself into thinking that pensioning off Bilash Babu on an allowance of Rs. 31 per month, against his pay of Rs. 110, was the just order. I have extreme difficulty in taking the same view as the Company has done. Bilash Babu was got examined by the Medical Officer of the Company the day previous to the date of pensioning him off. Looking to Company's order pensioning off Bilash Babu it appears to me that the medical examination was got done to ascertain whether Bilash Babu, who was not in perfect health in the past owing to stomach troubles, was again physically fit. The Medical Officer found him in sound health then. That fact will not displace the doubt conceded in Company's order in question as to whether Bilash Babu's health had always been satisfactory. If that is the position then this will further explain the delay in getting the October 1946 statement ready within time and will not explain Company's attitude towards Bilash Babu's failure. In pensioning off Bilash Babu without instantly dismissing him the Company thought that it was generous to him. I am of the opinion that even the order pensioning off Bilash Babu was unjust and unfair and cannot be supported in the least from the proved facts. The order discloses an attitude to refuse to make allowance for or to ignore common human shortcomings. As a large employer of human labour I am sure the Company's management fully knows what are the common human short-comings. Yet, the Company's attitude towards them induces me to hold that it pursues a policy with regard to labour which is unfair in so far as advantage is taken of those short-comings summarily to terminate the services of old employees who had spent the best part of their energies for the benefit of the Company. The attitude is clearly based on a desire to exploit labour. If this attitudeness was caused by Bilash Babu's Union activities, or it was the result of a general policy about labour is a matter which it is no longer within the needs of the present case to ascertain as long as I find that the order pensioning off Bilash Babu is the result of that attitudeness. I find that Babu Bilash Chandra Mitra is a victim of that unfair labour practice.

11. Santimoy Mitra's case, in my opinion, is concluded by the evidence of Mr. Verill, the General Manager. Mitra was confirmed after three months' probation. According to the terms of his appointment letter, Ext. 2, he would not have been confirmed unless his work was found satisfactory. Mr. Verill received no adverse report about Mitra except over his absence during the "Calcutta Killing" in August-September 1946 and the flare-up in July 1947. Mr. Verill thought that Mitra had not the right mental attitude for overcoming difficulties in so far as he failed to attend office for four days during the July 1947 flare-up. Mitra had reported his absence and also his difficulties in securing conveyance. City's transport services were in suspension at that time. The Company apparently ignored the difficulties of a common man during those troubled days to negotiate about a distance of about 6 or 7 miles on foot from Mitra's house to the office. The Company also failed to investigate into Mitra's personal difficulties arising out of the fact that he was living in an area which was notoriously dangerous at that time. No right-thinking man ought to fail to remember those frightful days through which Calcutta passed at that time. Life was insecure even at home, a man's own castle. It was extremely insecure out in the streets. He who went out took every risk of death. If in the circumstances one would not take that risk I cannot say that it disclosed a wrong mental attitude not to overcome difficulties. During those days of July flare-up the question was not overcoming difficulties but was one of doing almost the impossible in the circumstances in which Mitra was placed. The order of discharge because of his absence during those days was therefore unjust and unfair. In this, as also in the case of Babu Bilash Chandra Mitra, I find the identical attitude of the Company towards labour employed by it. For the reasons advanced while dealing with the case of Babu Bilash Chandra Mitra I conclude that Babu Santimoy Mitra was also a victim of unfair labour practice.

12. It was argued on behalf of the Company that Babu Santimoy Mitra having not pleaded specifically victimisation in his written statement his case was not covered by the issue. Written statements filed before these Tribunals are not formal. They are not expected to be so. Therefore if from facts stated in the written statement and established by evidence a case of victimisation due to unfair labour practice is established the employee is entitled to say that his case is fully covered by the issue as framed.

13. The only relief claimed by the two employees before me in their written statements was reinstatement. During the issue stage they pressed for alternative reliefs if any available. At the hearing it was contended on behalf of the Company that no question of alternative reliefs arose in so far as the dispute between the parties had always been over reinstatement and never over other reliefs alternative to reinstatement. Accepting Company's contention the employees were limited to the only relief prayed for in the written statements, that is to say, the reinstatement. Reinstatement is a relief which certainly is discretionary with the Tribunal. It was argued on behalf of the Company that reinstatement would interfere with harmony of work, reputation of the Company and would create a bad precedence in favour of indolence and incompetency. It was mentioned also that there was practical difficulty in so far as Bilash Babu's vacancy had been filled up. The relationship between an employer and an employee is contractual and is also personal. In so far as it is personal it may not ordinarily be expedient to reinstate a dismissed employee against an unwilling employer. But there may be cases where reinstatement may and should be directed where contractual relationship between an employer and an employee is terminated upon a technical assertion of the employer's right to do so, but the action results from an unfair labour practice. It is within the jurisdiction of this Tribunal in such a case to interfere and to restore the discharged employee to his previous position. It is not permitted for any employer to exploit labour and to do so is against State policy. I do not consider that reinstatement of discharged employees in such cases would affect reputation of the employer. Rather, continuance of an unfair labour practice and of a policy to exploit labour is apprehended to bring in disreputation. I have already found that no case of indolence or incompetency as alleged by the Company has been established from the evidence against any of the two employees before me. The argument that the vacancy caused by Bilash Babu's retirement has been filled up can have no force in so far as the Company cannot plead it to cover its wrong act. These are instances, on the other hand, where the two employees in question are entitled to reliefs against the Company. Reinstatement being the only relief available to them in the present proceedings, it cannot be refused to them.

14. My award, therefore, is that both Babus Bilash Chandra Mitra and Santimoy Mitra be reinstated to their previous service and posts with effect from the date on which this award may become effective. As a consequence to reinstatement they shall also be entitled to arrears of pay and allowances less any sum, if any, already paid. These may be paid by the Company within three months of the date on which this award becomes effective.

By order of the Governor,
D. S. P. MUKHERJEE, Dy. Secy.

ORDER.

No. 227Lab.—27th January 1948.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 841-Lab., dated the 19th November 1947, the industrial dispute between the East Bengal Engineering Works, Limited, of 87, Sovabazar Street, Calcutta, and their employees as represented by the East Bengal Engineering Workers' Union of 166, Kutighat Road, Baranagar, 24-Parganas, was referred for adjudication to Sree S. Datta Gupta, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sree S. Datta Gupta, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sree S. Datta Gupta shall bind the East Bengal Engineering Works, Limited, aforesaid and their employees as specified therein and shall remain in operation for a period of one year with effect from the 19th November 1947.

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE S. C. DATTA GUPTA, ESQ., TRIBUNAL, INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES.

In the matter of a dispute between the East Bengal Engineering Works of 87, Sovabazar Street, Calcutta, and their employees as represented by the East Bengal Engineering Workers' Union of 166, Kutighat Road, Baranagar, 24-Parganas.

By order No. 841Lab., dated 19th November 1947, the Government of West Bengal in the Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, appointed me under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, to be the Tribunal for adjudication of the dispute abovementioned and referred it to me. In the order of reference the Company was obviously erroneously described as East Bengal Engineering Workers, Ltd., in place of the East Bengal Engineering Works, which is a subsidiary concern of the East Bengal River Steam Service, Ltd

The East Bengal Engineering Works, hereinafter called the Company, was incorporated several years ago and for many years has been doing business mainly in building and repairing steamers, ships and other vessels on a large scale. It is a subsidiary concern of the East Bengal River Steam Service, Ltd., which has also for many years been doing very large business in water transport service. The Company also does various other works as, inter alia, repairers of various kinds of boilers, machines and engines, etc.

Raja Srinath Roy and Bros., Ltd., of the Bhagyakul family have for a long time been and still are the Managing Agents of the Company.

On the 22nd June 1946 majority of the employees of the Company formed a Union, which was registered in October 1946 under the Indian Trade Unions Act, 1926. Immediately upon its registration, the Union asked the Management for its recognition and put forward before it a charter of demands containing grievances relating to pay, wages, dearness allowance, bonus, leave and similar other conditions of service. The Union was not recognised and as the demands on its behalf were not acceded to, the workers went on strike on and from the 12th February 1947. On the same day Pramatha Nath Dirghangi, a Joint Secretary of the Union, was dismissed. This dismissal, according to the Union, was an act of victimisation because of his Union activities. Subsequently after certain negotiations in which Mr. Rabindra Mohan Chatterjee, as the President of the Public Strike Conciliation and Conduct Committee, Cossipore and Baranagar, took the principal part, the strike was called off and the employees resumed work on the 18th April 1947, i.e., after 65 days. Dirghangi, however, was not reinstated and the question of his reinstatement constitutes one of the main points in this dispute.

The adjudication proceedings were held on the 29th and 30th December 1947 and 2nd, 3rd, 7th, 8th, 9th and 12th January 1948, in the Writers' Buildings, Calcutta. The Union was represented by its President Mr. B. K. Bhattacharjee throughout and on some of the days by Mr. Niren De, Counsel, also. The Management was represented by Mr. S. C. Sen, Advocate, assisted by some of its officers.

The points in controversy between the parties will be clear from the following issues raised:—

Issues.

1. Reinstatement of Pramatha Dirghangi and, if reinstated, under what conditions?
2. Strike period pay.
3. Minimum basic pay and dearness allowance.
4. Provident Fund.
5. Recognition of the Union.
6. Bonus.
7. House allowance.
8. Leave.
9. Gratuity.
10. Holidays.
11. Security of service.
12. Medical aid.
13. Contract labour as referred to in demand No. 17 in paragraph 18 of the written statement of the Union.

My award on the issues raised is given below:—

Award.

Issue No. 5—Recognition of the Union.

As I have stated at the outset the Union was registered under the Indian Trade Unions Act, 1926, on the 9th October 1946. The certificate of its registration has been shown to me and its registration No. is 887. In the Company there are about 300 direct workers who are paid monthly wages according to daily rates. They are commonly described in the locality as daily workers. Besides, fluctuating workers whose number vary from 100 to 250 also are employed for execution of work of the Company under contract system. The total number of members of the Union is 406, out of which 287 are daily workers and the rest are contract labourers. Of the contract labourers now consisting of 133 hands, 119 are members of the Union. The formation and registration of the Union were intimated by it to the Company by a letter, dated 19th December 1946. This letter was sent over the signatures of Pramatha Nath Dirghangi and one Narayan Chakraborty who is an outsider. A similar letter was subsequently sent by the Union to the Company on 16th January 1947 for the same purpose. On behalf of the Company it has been argued that it is not willing to recognise this Union firstly because it is still in its infancy and secondly because it is not a representative body.

From the figures that I have given above it cannot be suggested that the Union is not a representative body. Almost all the employees with the exception of a very few direct workers are its members. As for the other ground it is no doubt true that it is young but its members have avowed their allegiance to it. It has got its name registered and it is not certainly an illegal body. It has been recognised by the Government as the very letter of reference suggests and it will have to submit annual returns to the Labour Commissioner. As it is a genuine body I do not see any reason for holding up its recognition. It is true that there are some outsiders, as for example, the President in it. But that by itself is not enough for withholding its recognition. Law does not prohibit the presence of outsiders as office bearers in a Union. Also existence of outsiders in the Union is a check upon the exploitation of its servants by the Management.

Mr. Sen on behalf of the Company has argued that the question of recognition of the Union is not an industrial dispute within the definition of the term in section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, and as such the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to enter into it. "Industrial Dispute" means any dispute or difference between employers and workmen which is connected with the employment or non-employment or the terms of employment or the conditions of labour of any person. The contention of Mr. Sen is that the present question is not connected with the employment or non-employment or the terms of employment or with the conditions of labour of any person. I am unable to say that there is no force in the contention. Be that as it may, when practically cent. per cent. of the employees owe their allegiance to the Union, there is no gainsaying the fact that it has come to stay. Besides a legislation is already on its way to enactment in the Central Government regarding the conditions or recognition of Trade Unions by order of an Industrial Court. I fail to see how anything but advantage can accrue to the Company by recognising the Union and dealing with its workers through it. I therefore propose that the Company should grant recognition to this Union. This must not be in the letter but in the spirit. Otherwise it will lead to increased friction between the Management and its employees. The Management should recognise the right of the Union to negotiate with it regarding matters affecting the common or individual interest of the workers.

Issue No. 13—The case of contract labourers.

The Union's demands are that the contract labour system should be abolished, that the contract labourers should be paid within the hours of their work, that they should be paid the strike period pay for 65 days and all overtime pay since 1st August 1946 and full pay for involuntary unemployment. Other demands such as one month's discharge notice, preference of old hands to new hands at the time of new appointments, etc., have also been made.

The Company resists these demands with the contentions that it has got no control in the matter of contract labour, which is the concern of the contractors and that in view of the absence of relationship of master and servant, it cannot comply with the demands.

The Company has got connection with a certain number of men designated as contractors. They take contract of certain work from the Company in consideration of payment of certain amount in lump or on a rate system and get the work done by a number of men who are described as contract labour.

As in this dispute between the employer and the workmen the questions as to the employment and terms of employment and conditions of labour of the contract labourers are involved, it is clearly an industrial dispute and that being so, the learned Counsel appearing for the Union contended that under section 15(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, it was incumbent upon the Tribunal to give an award as to the demands on behalf of the contract labourers. He further maintained that if the payment by the Company to its workers is low, payment by the contractors to the contract labourers must be lower as the contractors must retain a margin of profit and in this view a contract labourer is exploited to the core. So it was urged that on the ground of expediency and justice also reliefs should be accorded to the contract labourers. It was maintained that the contract labourers are labourers indirectly employed by the Company. They work in the same factory with the direct workers and their work also is supervised by the Company's officers. The Company gives them passes for entry into the factory and maintains the register of attendance of this category of workers also, as it is bound to do so as contemplated in section 41 of the Factories Act (Act XXV of 1934). In spite of these facts which are favourable to the contract labourers there is no direct relationship of master and servant between them and the Company. They are engaged by the contractors who intervene between them and the Company. Each contractor has got a group of people under him and he may employ them in this Company and elsewhere according to necessity. A particular workman may be employed at daily rate while another at monthly rate, with this firm today and elsewhere tomorrow. It is no doubt true that some of these workers are practically permanent so far as the contractors are concerned but not so in relation to the Management, which has no control over these workers. As to the output they contribute, the Company is interested in their work for which only it enters into contract. Even Mr. Birendra Kumar Bhattacharjee, the President of the Union, admitted that the contract employees are paid directly by the contractors though they work in the same premises. In such a state of things the Company cannot be forced to take the contract labourers in their regular employment. This in my view cannot be done except by legislative changes and they cannot be raised to the categories of employees of the concern. I am unable therefore to accord any relief to the contract labourers in this dispute.

Issue No. 1—Reinstatement of Pramatha Nath Dirghangi.

Dirghangi was appointed a Typist Clerk on 3rd July 1943 at Cossipore by the Company. The Union, as I have already stated, was registered on 9th October 1946 and he was one of its Joint Secretaries. Intimation of the formation of this Union was sent to the Company by a letter, dated 19th December 1946, over the signatures of Pramatha Nath Dirghangi and Narayan Chakraborty, who was also one of its two Joint Secretaries. Closely following this a charter of demands of the Union on behalf of the employees was sent to the Company on 20th December 1946. Then by an order, dated 23rd December 1946, Dirghangi was transferred by the Company to its Head Office in Calcutta where he was asked to join on the following day. He joined there on 27th December 1946. This transfer, according to the Union, was an act of victimisation. On 17th January 1947 a letter was addressed by the Union to the Labour Commissioner to intervene and to settle the disputes. A similar letter was also addressed by the Union to the Labour Minister on 20th January 1947. Then on 26th January 1947 resolution was passed by the Union for starting a strike and intimation about it was sent to the Company by the Union by a letter, dated 29th January 1947. On 10th February 1947 the Company directed transfer of Dirghangi to its Narayanganj Agency and asked him to start there immediately. Dirghangi did not comply and the strike was started on 12th February 1947. The Union's case is that the order of transfer to Narayanganj was obviously made solely to victimise Dirghangi for his legitimate Trade Union activities. He is an inhabitant of Midnapore in West Bengal and as according to him East Bengal including Narayanganj was then in the throes of communal terror, he asked the authorities for an advance of a suitable sum of money so that he could take his family to Midnapore and then proceed to Narayanganj to join his duties. The Company, it is stated on his behalf, contemptuously turned down this request and sanctioned him Re. 1 only as advance and as the Management did not give him any money to meet the travelling expenses nor any extra money which he required to shift his family to Midnapore, the result was that it was physically and financially impossible for him to proceed to Narayanganj immediately. His dismissal on 12th February 1947 was thus also an act of victimisation.

The position taken by the Company is that as a Typist Dirghangi's work was extremely unsatisfactory, that he very often absented himself from work without leave and stayed away without permission, that he was warned thrice and on the fourth occasion he was dismissed about three months before the strike and on his earnest importunities he was reinstated with a warning to correct himself. After his transfer to the Head Office he did not improve, stayed away during working hours as before and as he refused to go to Narayanganj on transfer, which was made in the ordinary course of office management, no option was left with the Company but to discharge him.

The principal point taken by the Union for its claim for reinstatement of Dirghangi is that he has been victimised for his Union activities. The word "victimisation" as I understand it implies the case of an employee who has either been dismissed or transferred because of the part taken by him in the Union activities or the strike. It will be well to remember in this connection that the onus is upon the Union and the employee to show that the action taken against him was unjust and due to ulterior motives. I would also like to emphasise that in a concern where there are a number of employees working under an employer the latter must have his inherent right to discharge a worker whose work has been unsatisfactory and it is not open to any outside authority to interfere unless there is clear evidence that the employer has abused his inherent powers. It is no doubt true, as Dirghangi himself says, that he was responsible for all the correspondence connected with the Union. But it also appears from unimpeachable evidence on record that on some occasions he remained absent from the factory at Cossipore without leave and on other occasions he stayed away during working hours without any permission. Mr. J. Allison, who is the Superintending Engineer of the Company at Cossipore, had occasion to warn him verbally several times but as these warnings had no effect on him for his correction he was transferred to the Head Office on Mr. Allison's report. The learned Counsel for the Union criticised the evidence of Mr. Allison saying that if the alleged warnings had at all been given there would have been some record in the office to show that. But it is a common experience in the business circle that the Management is not as particular in keeping records about such matters as giving warnings, etc., as in Government offices. It appears that in the Head Office also Dirghangi did not improve much and we have it from Mr. Sailendra Krishna Choudhury, the Manager, that here also Dirghangi often left before the closing hour without permission or knowledge of his superiors. He was given warning once for this and afterwards on 10th February 1947 he was transferred to Narayanganj. Having regard to his antecedents it cannot be said that the order of transfer from Cossipore to the Head Office was anything like victimisation. Whatever personal grievance a Union office bearer has got against the Management he usually links it up with his Union activities. The strike notice was given to the Management on 29th January 1947 and Dirghangi was transferred to Narayanganj on 10th February 1947 and was directed to start there immediately. It is not his case that he did not like to go to Narayanganj, but his case is that he was not supplied with a sufficient advance of money to enable him to take his family to Midnapore and then to proceed to Narayanganj. His evidence is that the Management sanctioned Re. 1 only as advance which he refused to take and so it was not possible for him to proceed to the new station. It is incredible that the Management could not have supplied him with sufficient funds if it wanted to see him away at a place wherefrom it would be practically impossible for him to conduct the strike or take any active part in the Union's affairs. If as a fact he was really willing to go to Narayanganj the Management would have certainly advanced him with sufficient passage money at least to weaken the Union activities, if not for anything else. I have bestowed my very careful consideration upon the question of his reinstatement. I consider that the evidence of the Manager and the Superintending Engineer of the Company who have not been shown to have any animus against him is acceptable. The fact is that Dirghangi did not go to Narayanganj. Therefore apart from his Union activities, the Company was justified in discharging him as he failed to comply with the order of transfer which amounts to misconduct.

Another point taken by the Union is that there was settlement of the strike on several conditions one of which was that Dirghangi was to resume his work in Calcutta when he would come back from Midnapore after recovery from his illness. It has also been urged that the workers went back to work on the understanding that he would be taken back. It is said that Mr. Rabindra Mohan Chatterjee who was instrumental in bringing about the settlement gave the workers to understand in the presence of the Managing Agents that Dirghangi would be taken back. Mr. Chatterjee has not been examined. Nor is there any dependable evidence on behalf of the Union that the reinstatement of Dirghangi was a condition of settlement of the strike. The letter (Ext. E) which the Management addressed to the Labour Commissioner contains the conditions of the settlement. We do not find any reference to the question of reinstatement of Dirghangi there.

On 10th July 1947 Dirghangi applied to the Management that pending the final decision of the dispute he might be allowed to take the amount at his credit in the Provident Fund as also salary for two months for his dismissal which no doubt he characterised there as illegal. The Management did not accept the contention that the dismissal was illegal but was willing to pay him the Provident Fund money and one month's pay in lieu of notice, provided he accepted the same in full settlement of all his claims and demands against the Company. On 24th July 1947 Dirghangi accepted these terms by an endorsement in the letter (Ext. C) addressed to him by the Management. This endorsement has changed the colour altogether and settled all his claims against the Company. There was no agreement to reinstate him and the order of discharge also was not improper or wrongful. The order of transfer to Narayanganj was legally passed and if the Company wants to maintain it for keeping discipline nothing can be said against it. The learned Advocate for the Company in his gesture to show that it did not like to be vindictive against Dirghangi offered on its behalf that the Company would still be willing to take him back if he was prepared to join the Narayanganj office. Dirghangi is not prepared to accept that offer even now.

For the Company a legal question was raised that the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to order reinstatement of Dirghangi. The question however in my view comes clearly within the definition of "industrial dispute" in section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act and that is enough for vesting jurisdiction in the Tribunal to enter into the question. Apart from that however on merits, as I have found, I find myself unable to direct reinstatement of Dirghangi.

Issue No. 2—Strike period pay.

The strike lasted for 65 days from 12th February 1947 to 17th April 1947. The Union gave 14 days' notice before it was undertaken. The starting of the strike was therefore legal. The Union demands that the employees are therefore entitled to wages for the strike period. The Company at the time of settlement of the strike agreed to pay wages for half of the strike period to all the direct workers and this it has already paid. The right of the strikers to be taken back in the employment at the end of the strike is a very different matter from the right to get strike pay for the period. It is the basic principle for all employment that an employee has only the right to receive pay for the work done and voluntary unemployment ordinarily carries no right to receive pay. In some of the awards of Industrial Courts in Bombay and elsewhere it has been held that where a strike has been occasioned by the employment of an unfair labour practice by the Management it would be open to the Industrial Court to award strike pay, if it had been legal and conducted peacefully. But where the strike had been resorted to in connection with current labour dispute for the purpose of enforcing a demand for improved labour condition, it appears that in such cases the workers' compensation for the strike must be the gains they secure. There was settlement of the strike and on the Company's implementing it there cannot be any quesion of any further payment of the strike period pay.

Issue No. 3—Minimum basic pay and dearness allowance.

The demand of the Union is that the minimum basic pay and dearness allowance of a worker should be Rs. 40 and Rs. 31 respectively per month. The Company at present pays Rs. 13 as dearness allowance to every worker and maintains that it granted an increment of wages over and above this dearness allowance at the time of the settlement of the strike. The Company informed the Labour Commissioner by its letter, dated 26th May 1947 (Ext. E), that the workers drawing up to Rs. 20 per month were to get an increment of Rs. 5 and those drawing above Rs. 20 would get a general increment of Rs. 4 each with immediate effect. According to the Management the conditions have not changed since then and it cannot afford to pay more in view of the financial position of the Company.

The point to be decided is whether the minimum emolument is adequate for the whole wage structure is apparently built upon minimum emolument. The existing minimum according to the Company is Rs. 25 as wage and Rs. 13 as dearness allowance, i.e., in all Rs. 38.

In the past Tribunals enquiring into the question of wage, dearness allowance, etc., were greatly handicapped in the absence of any minimum wage legislation. Now that the report of the Central Pay Commission has been published their recommendations as to the minimum earnings which can fairly be described as a living wage are of first importance and must be given great consideration by any Tribunal. These conclusions were arrived at after long, careful and industrious investigations and review of a very large mass of data. The Commission's decision was that in no case should a man's pay be less than a living wage. To this principle there cannot be any objection. The standard of living like the "poverty line" reflects national conceptions and these are in turn shaped by national income. The Commission was of opinion that the "poverty line" may be drawn at a point below which an individual would be undernourished or it may well be drawn above the nutritional minimum at a point where a choice of diet and a chance of some cultural life or recreation will also be possible and the Commission preferred to draw the poverty line consistent with the first of the two alternatives in the present economic condition in the country. The Commission arrived at the figure of Rs. 60 per month as the minimum living wage exclusive of the cost of housing on the basis of the level of prices prevailing in January 1947 at a cost of living index of 260. This figure is made up of basic pay Rs. 30, dearness allowance Rs. 25 and a compensatory allowance of Rs. 5. The compensatory allowance was intended by the Commission to apply to exceptionally expensive places like Calcutta. In basing its claim at Rs. 71 as the minimum emolument the Union maintains that a worker should be paid so as to enable him to provide his family with some measure of amenities. However much one may sympathise with the desire of the workers to better their lots one cannot forget that the decisive factor in assessing a fair wage is the ability of the particular concern to pay it. If a particular concern cannot afford to pay more than Rs. 40 or Rs. 50 a month without incurring a loss it is no good for a Tribunal to decide that the worker should be paid Rs. 70 on a consideration of his family budget alone. Taussig in his classical work on principles of economics observes "what are fair wages?" That question cannot be settled without settling what is fair interest and fair business profits. Ultimately the Tribunal must determine "what is fundamentally just; how much the owners of wealth are justly entitled to in the way of interest; what is a just return to the employer in the way of business profits; why some labourers are to receive more than others and what is just as between the different groups".

On behalf of the Management it has been urged that the Company in view of its financial position is unable to pay the employees at rates more than what is existing at present. I have endeavoured to examine the Company's financial position. The report and statements of accounts for the years from 1942-43 to 1946-47 have been produced before me. An examination of these statements of accounts reveals that the figure of total reserve is progressively on the increase since 1943. Profits from the Dock where the Union members work have also been on the increase from year to year. During the strike period the Company allowed increment of pay and dearness allowance to the clerical staff. In the account for the year 1946-47 loss has been shown in respect of "Flotilla" but as I have already pointed out there has been profit from the Dock. On behalf of the Company it has been suggested that decontrol which has been effected in respect of certain commodities will have the effect of reducing prices. It cannot however be denied that even then the effect may not be immediate. The Company has agreed to contribute to Provident Fund and has paid bonus even for the year 1946-47. These are circumstances for showing that the Company is not really in such a position as not to be able to pay the workers at increased rates. Having taken everything into consideration I am of opinion that the minimum basic wage should be fixed at Rs. 25 and dearness allowance also at Rs. 25.

At the time of hearing the President of the Union stated that the workers should be grouped into four classes, viz., unskilled, semi-skilled, skilled and highly-skilled, which category was to include Assistant Mistri and Head Mistri. He wanted that the wages of all these classes of workers also might be determined by this Tribunal. Claims on their behalf however were not raised in the written statement of the Union nor in the issues. I therefore feel unable to enter into their cases and leave the matter to the Management. I should however observe that in order to get the best out of an employee he must be kept satisfied by the Management as a disgruntled person never puts in his best. The Management should therefore allow in its very interest increments in pay and dearness allowance to the different categories of workers bearing in mind that the minimum basic wage has been fixed at Rs. 25 and dearness allowance at a like figure in the wage structure.

Issue No. 4—Provident Fund.

The Union wants introduction of Provident Fund. The Company in its written statement resisted the demand alleging that in the present condition of business it could not afford to introduce Provident Fund system. After certain amount of discussion, at the time of hearing, it was agreed on behalf of the Company to introduce Provident Fund system with a contribution of half anna in the rupee by the employee and a like amount by the Management in the case of direct employees only. This is a fair proposal and the system should be introduced within three months of the date of signing of the award.

Issue No. 6—Bonus.

The demand of the Union is that annual bonus of two months' salary along with Puja Bonus of one month's salary should be paid every year. The Company resisted the demand as unreasonable and maintained that the income of the business does not justify payment of any bonus which should always be a voluntary one on proper occasion and circumstances permitting.

Bonus is an ex-gratia payment in that it is not a part of the conditions of service of the employees. But there is a growing recognition in industrial concerns that the workers who play a part in creating a Company's profit may reasonably claim a small share of it by way of bonus. In the present case the Company paid one month's salary as bonus in 1943-44 describing it as Puja Bonus. And in the three succeeding years it paid 15 days' salary as bonus every year, naming the bonus for the year 1946-47 as "Independence Bonus". As it is an ex-gratia payment and depends on the annual profit a Company may make, I leave the question of payment of bonus to the Management with the recommendation that it should pay an annual bonus of one month's salary if its finances permit.

Issue No. 7—Housing Allowance.

The Union demands that house allowance should be paid to the workers. On the other hand the Company maintains that there is no system of payment of any house allowance in the neighbourhood and as such the claim cannot be entertained. It has been brought to my notice that many of the workers have to come to the factory from a great distance. I consider it fair that the lowest paid worker should be paid Rs. 2 as house allowance per month subject to the condition that he puts up at the place where the factory is situate. On the same line as in the case of pay and dearness allowance of other categories of workers some house allowance should be given by the Company to them.

Issues Nos. 8 and 10—Leave and Holidays.

The Union demands one month's ordinary leave, 15 days' sick leave and 15 days' casual leave, all with pay annually. Besides, it claims that holidays as follows must be granted with full pay:—

(a) Durga Puja—5 days.
Christmas—1 day.
Good Friday—1 day.
Biswakarma Puja—1 day.

(b) Also one day each for Muharram, Idal fitre, Iduzzuha, Sabe-barat, Mahalaya, Kali Puja, Saraswati Puja, Jagatdhatri Puja, Ratha Jatra and 1st Baisakh.

The Company maintains that leave as allowed under the Factories' Act is always granted. The Company at present grants 10 days' leave with pay. In addition it allows 6 days' leave on festival occasions on adjustment with full pay every year. Thus the workers get in all 16 days' leave with pay. It has been stated that they also get leave without pay for any number of days on proper application. I consider that the workers should be allowed 15 days' casual leave and 15 days' regular leave on full pay during the calendar year. I should only observe that whenever leave is allowed to any employee with full pay he will be entitled to dearness allowance also for the period of his leave.

Issue No. 9—Gratuity.

The Union wants that pay for as many months as the completed years of service should be paid to the workers by way of gratuity. The Company's contention is that there is no system of payment of gratuity in the neighbouring concerns. It appears that so far no gratuity has been allowed by the Company to its workers and that being so payment of gratuity is not a condition of service. I do not consider that in view of other advantages given in this award, the workers are entitled to any extra benefit in the form of gratuity.

Issue No. 11—Security of Service.

It is the case of the Union that the workers are suddenly discharged even after long period of service. There is no service rules or standing rules for the workers. It is demanded that the Union should be consulted before any man is discharged or otherwise punished. Practically no worker was discharged. Thakur Singh was discharged at the age of 70. He was formerly in Government service and while enjoying pension from the Government, took up employment under the Company. It has been represented before me by the learned Advocate for the Management that the Company is preparing standing orders under the Standing Orders Employment Act and that it will file the standing rules before the Labour Commissioner very shortly. I consider that the Company should have some rules framed for security of service of its employees as otherwise after a fight between the parties in an Industrial Tribunal the Management may be prone to victimise those of its employees who are active members of the Union. I should therefore direct that the following three rules which I propose to frame in this behalf in respect of the Company in this dispute should have immediate effect:—

(1) Any employee who has completed six months' continuous service with the Company shall be deemed to be a permanent employee.

(2) In case of discharge of any permanent employee, reference will be made to the Union before the actual discharge takes place.

(3) Transfer of any permanent employee, if made, should not affect the position and emolument of the employee enjoyed prior to the transfer.

Issue No. 12—Medical Leave.

The Union wants provision for free medical arrangement for the workers. The Company alleges that free medical treatment is given to workers in accident cases and in other cases workers enjoy the advantages of the North Suburban Hospital which is close by. It appears that the Company makes contribution to the Hospital for special attention to its employees in case of accidents. In an engineering concern, as is bound to be, there are frequent accidents. The Company has agreed before me to engage a part-time doctor who will attend the sick employees. The Company should bear the expenses of medicine in simple cases.

Before parting with this case I should like to record my appreciation of the assistance I have received from the learned Counsel on behalf of the Union, the learned Advocate on behalf of the Company, the President of the Union and the other representatives of the parties. The attitude taken by them during hearing of the proceedings was very reasonable and cordial. I trust that both sides will conduct in such a manner that each may be helpful to the other in the matter of carrying on the day to day work. Smooth working is necessary not only in the interest of the employers but also in the interest of the employees and of the industry as well. I should like to impress upon the employees that with the benefits they have secured by this award they should exert their utmost to increase the production and to maintain the highest level of efficiency without which the Company cannot thrive and its workers in consequence cannot expect to derive any good return.

This award except with regard to the points specifically mentioned above should take effect from the 19th November 1947 which is the date of reference.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 17th November, 1947:—

L. A. BILL No. 45 OF 1947.

(3) An Inspector may, at any port for which he is appointed,—

7. Cognizance of offences.—(1) No Court shall take cognizance of any offence made punishable by a scheme or of any abetment thereof, except on a report in writing of the facts constituting such offence or abetment made by an Inspector or by a person specially authorised in this behalf by the Government.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898), an offence made punishable by a scheme or an abetment thereof shall be triable only by a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The demand for dock labour is intermittent depending on the arrival and departure of vessels, the size and nature of their cargo as well as seasonal and cyclical fluctuations. In the ports, therefore, there is usually labour in excess of minimum requirements and the general tendency on the part of employers is to ensure larger reserves than necessary in order to provide ample margin against emergencies. The main problem connected with dock labour is to devise measures so as to reduce the hardship due to unemployment or under-employment to the utmost extent possible. The Royal Commission on Labour recommended as far back as 1931 that a policy of decasualisation should be adopted with a view "to regulate the numbers of dock labourers in accordance with requirements and to ensure that the distribution of employment depends not on the caprice of intermediaries, but on a system which as far as possible gives all efficient men an equal share." Government had accepted the recommendation and efforts were made to induce Port Trusts to formulate necessary schemes of decasualisation. The voluntary attempt was not, however, a success and a scheme for compulsory registration was formulated in 1939 but was not proceeded with due to the outbreak of war.

2. Although the operation of certain measures introduced during the war, such as rationing and organised distribution of food supplies, facilitated the registration of labour at major ports, the problem, in the main, has remained unsolved. It is now proposed to undertake legislation giving power to the Central Government in respect of major ports and to the Provincial Governments in respect of other ports, to frame a scheme for the registration of dock workers with a view to securing greater regularity of employment and for regulating the employment of dock workers whether registered or not, in a port. In particular, the scheme may provide inter alia for the terms and conditions of employment of workers whether registered or not, including rates of remuneration, hours of work and conditions as to paid holidays. It may also provide for payment to registered workers of minimum pay for days on which work may not be available to them and for their training and welfare.

3. Provision is also made in the Bill for the constitution of an Advisory Committee consisting of not more than 15 members representing the Government, the dock workers and the employers of dock workers in equal proportion. In the framing and administration of the schemes the appropriate Government will take the advice of this Committee.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 17th November, 1947:—

L. A. BILL NO. 48 OF 1947.

A Bill to amend the Foreign Exchange Regulation Act, 1947.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Foreign Exchange Regulation Act, 1947 (VII of 1947), for the purpose hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Foreign Exchange Regulation (Amendment) Act, 1947.

2. Amendment of section 8, Act VII of 1947.—To sub-section (1) of section 8 of the Foreign Exchange Regulation Act, 1947, the following Explanation shall be added, and shall be deemed always to have been added, namely:—

"Explanation.—The bringing or sending into any port or place in British India of any such article as aforesaid intended to be taken out of British India without being removed from the ship or conveyance in which it is being carried shall nonetheless be deemed to be a bringing, or as the case may be sending, into British India of that article for the purposes of this section."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

A doubt has arisen whether the power under section 8(1) of the Foreign Exchange Regulation Act, 1947, to prohibit the import of bullion into India extends to bullion brought into a port or place in India but intended to be taken elsewhere without being removed from the ship or conveyance in which it is carried. The object of the amendment is to make it clear that the provision in section 8(1) applies to such cases also.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

1. The object of the Bill is to make necessary amendments of a formal nature in certain enactments and to repeal certain spent, useless or unnecessary matter in the Statute Book. The Bill has been confined rigidly and exclusively to alterations which are entirely free from controversy. Anything doubtful has been left unchanged.

2. The Bill contains proposals for the repeal of a large number of enactments including Acts, Regulations, sections of Acts or Regulations, which were passed to make textual alterations in previous enactments. A few other enactments have been also proposed for repeal which are either themselves repeals or are enactments the effect of which is spent.

3. The Bill does not include for repeal any Act or Regulation passed later than the close of the year 1943. Thus no enactment is to be repealed unless it has been in existence for at least three complete years. During this period, publication of the enactment in the volume of the Statutes of the year to which it relates has been secured, its existence has had ample time to be appreciated, and there has been full opportunity for any modifications introduced by it in previous Acts to be noted and incorporated in their proper places.

4. Clause 4 of the Bill contains the precautionary provisions which it is usual to include in all Bills of this kind.

5. The reasons for each amendment or repeal proposed are explained opposite such amendment or repeal in the remarks column which does not form part of the Bill.

RESOLUTION—No. 825P.

Calcutta, the 3rd February 1948.

The Government of West Bengal desire to associate themselves with the rest of mankind in deploring the death of Mahatma Gandhi at the hands of an assassin. Their loss is great, they feel helpless, they are left bereft of their great guide, philosopher and friend in their struggle to secure social and economic freedom for this dear land of theirs. May his soul rest in peace and guide them on their march towards the destiny that is India's. They resolve to strive to their utmost to fulfil Gandhiji's great message, truth and tolerance, in everyday affairs of life.

The Government of West Bengal desire also to associate themselves with the resolution passed by the Government of India and declare that "forces of hate and violence that are at work in our country and which imperil the freedom of the nation and darken her fair name must be swiftly controlled and rooted out." They desire to ask the people of West Bengal to help the Government in this endeavour. They are sure that the people of West Bengal would demand that such action against these forces should be taken with determination and justice as the Government think and request the people to offer their co-operation by not taking the law in their own hands. The Government of India have declared and the Government of West Bengal concur that no private army will be permitted in this province. The Government call upon all citizens and particularly those serving under Government in any capacity to abide by this standard of behaviour and act strictly in accordance with the declared policy of the Government in this respect.

RESOLUTION.

Sudden and overwhelming tragedy has befallen India and the world. On the 30th January, shortly after 5 p.m. the fell hand of an assassin ended a life of supreme value to humanity, a life round which had revolved India's destiny for half a century. Mahatma Gandhi, Father of the Nation and beloved of his people, apostle of non-violence, saint and prophet of peace, great soldier for freedom, and lover above all of the lowly, the humble and the oppressed, perished while on his way to prayer to which his fellow-countrymen flocked every evening to listen to his message. The evening sun set in mourning over a nation's tragedy.

The last great act of Gandhiji was his decision to sacrifice his life to bring about peace and harmony among the people of India. On Sunday, January 18, he terminated his fast, on a solemn pledge being taken on behalf of the people, and India heaved a sigh of relief.

This life of intense and continuous service to India and humanity has ended now in death which has also been a fulfilment of that life of service, but it now remains for the Government and the people of India to fulfil that pledge in letter and spirit.

The greatest and noblest of India's sons has passed away, and the world mourns him and pays homage to his mighty achievements and the splendour of his spirit. Overwhelmed by sorrow, the Government of India still think with pride and thankfulness of their great leader, who has been an inspiration to hundreds of millions of people and has taught them the path of high endeavour and right action. In death as in life he was smiling, serene, and full of love for all, the very embodiment of his message of truth and ahimsa. His life was one long struggle for justice and tolerance between man and man.

The Government of India, in paying reverent homage to the glorious memory of Mahatma Gandhi, declare their determination to strive to the utmost to fulfil his great message. To him the call of duty was paramount and duty demands of the Indian people today courage, vision and faith, and the pursuit of truth and the practice of tolerance. They urge upon their countrymen to remember, even in this hour of national bereavement, this duty and to face the future with stout hearts and steady gaze. They must assist the Government to fight the dark forces of evil and violence that are at work in our midst and that have succeeded in putting an end to the most precious treasure that India possessed. But even this act has only heightened the splendour of his spirit which shines today and will always shine upon the Indian people and on humanity. As in life, so now, that great spirit will guard and guide India which he loved so passionately and served so unceasingly and with such devotion. India and India's message were embodied in his own magnificent self. Let us therefore be true to Gandhiji and to India and strive our utmost to realise the India of his dreams.

No. 30/1/48-Appt.(SP)/II.

RESOLUTION.

The manner of Mahatma Gandhi's death is a grim and urgent reminder of the forces of hate and violence that are at work in our country and which imperil the freedom of the nation and darken her fair name. These forces must be swiftly controlled and rooted out. Only thus can India proceed along her appointed path and fulfil her destiny. Success in this endeavour demands the willing help of her people. Government have no doubt that the great majority of the Indian people demand that this action be taken and this duty performed. Government will, therefore, act with determination and justice, and they trust that the people, while offering their co-operation, will not take the law in their own hands.

There is no place today in India for any organisation preaching violence or communal hatred. No such organisation will, therefore, be tolerated. No private armies will be permitted. Government call upon all citizens, and particularly those serving Government in any capacity, to abide by these standards of behaviour and to act strictly in accordance with the declared policy of Government in this respect.

[Cf. Ben. Act V of 1947, s. 10.]

(2) The delivery of possession of such land to the person specified in the order made under sub-section (1) shall be a full discharge of any liability of the Provincial Government to deliver possession to such person as may have rightful claim to possession thereof but shall not prejudice any right in respect of such land which any other person may be entitled by due process of law to enforce against the person to whom possession of the land is so delivered. [Cf. Ben. Act V of 1947, s. 10.]

(3) Where the person to whom the possession of any land requisitioned under section 3 is to be delivered cannot be found or is not readily traceable or has no agent or other person empowered to accept delivery on his behalf, the Provincial Government shall publish in the Official Gazette a notice declaring that such land is released from requisition and shall cause a copy thereof to be affixed on some conspicuous part of such land. Provided further that if such market value exceeds by any amount twice the market value of the land on the 31st December, 1941 on the assumption that the land had been at that date in the state in which it in fact was on the date of publication of the notice referred to in sub-section (1) of section 4, the amount of such excess shall not be taken into consideration.

The West Bengal Land (Requisition and Acquisition) Bill 1948.

(Clauses 8—13.)

Power to enter upon land, etc.

9. The Provincial Government may, with a view to requisitioning any land or for the purpose of determination by the Collector of the amount of compensation payable under this Act, by order,— [Cf. Act XVII of 1947, s. 3(3).]

(a) require any person to furnish to such authority as may be specified in the order such information in his possession relating to the property as may be specified;

(b) direct that the owner or occupier of the land shall not dispose of it or alter it till the expiry of such period as may be specified in the order;

Penalty.

10. If any person contravenes any order made under this Act he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year or with fine which may extend to two thousand rupees or with both. [Cf. Ben. Act V of 1947, s. 20.]

Power to make rules.

13. (1) The Provincial Government may make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing powers, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the manner of service of orders on the owner or occupier of land referred to in sub-section (2) of section 3; and

(b) the manner of service of notice on the persons referred to in sub-section (3) of section 5.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In consequence of the partition of Bengal, it has become urgently necessary to obtain powers for Government so as to ensure, at short notice and fair price, procurement of lands required for public security, facilities for communication and transport and for maintaining supplies and services essential to the life of the community.

The Bill has been drafted with these objects in view.
